

just, it has turned very cool again, obliged to have a fire.
Mast was down to the yard yesterday evening, did not look over here at all. I fear that he is offended with me.

~~that~~ Today is the anniversary of the fight in Baltimore, between the Mass-soldiers and Baltimoreans. The first blood spilled, at in this war, was spilled in Baltoon the 19th April of the year 1861. How many heads have been laid low, in the cold grave since that day, and what changes there have been since then.
