

pick, she has lived to a remarkable age. 98, what would have expected G's death before her. I have not heard how Louis Ellen made her will; have not had but one letter from Louis since her (leg. 80) death.

We very seldom see any of Uncle R. family, and as for Lizzie she has not been here since the day G's ma was buried. she comes in to church; and we think it so strange she does not come here, we have done nothing to offend her. by-the-by while speaking of Lizzie, there is something concerning her of which, I wish to tell you. If you remember, when your property at Washg was sold Liz. had $1000 of the proceeds; it was divided into two notes, and in Nov. or Dec. of 63, Mr. Mills (the lawyer) paid her $650 of it, Mamma desired and insisted upon her writing to Mr. Hacker or Nick, to advise her how she had best invest it; she would not do so, but she both she and G's ma wished and insisted upon Papa taking it, though he opposed his doing so: only because Lizzie had said so much about the $100 ^{once} she borrowed of her; (you remember when) he concluded to take the 650 but before she gave it to him she loaned Aunt
