

We are having delightful weather here; so warm and pleasant, I hope it will continue, I am ~~very~~ tired of winty weather. Like yourself, I am not in a letter-writing mood today, therefore beg you will excuse this dull epistle.

I have several books I would like to send you provided it is not against your rules. Tell me when you write.

Since commencing this, I have heard ~~that a courier~~ has of the arrival in Washington city of a courier ~~from~~ who has resided in California for the past sixteen years; we knew he was coming but did not expect him so soon.
