

July 1st 1860

Friend heart

As I could not get to church this afternoon I thought I would devote a part of my time in writing to you; do not think if I had of gone to church you would have been neglected;

Well Mrs Fannie Richardson was married on Thursday last. I did not go to the reception I did think of going but after it was so very warm I gave up the idea and I do not dance consequently thought I would not enjoy myself.

I heard it was a very dull wedding Did you go; I heard your brother was groomsman; I think she now followed her Aunt's example.