Monday, ev'g 7 o'clock, '71.

Dear Mart

I received your note this afternoon-and am so, so sorry to hear that you are sick again.
I feared it last night when you complained of giddiness-and our parlor was so cold, I fear that helped make you sick; don't you think so?

I too was thinking we might take a walk this ev'g, but the fates order it otherwise.

I finished my letters to Will last night at eleven. Jim left this morning in the early train. Willie
