

"Schoolroom" - 11 o'clock
December 12th 1871.

Dear Mart.

I forgot, last night to give you the papers, so send them now - and thinking you might like something to read, send you "Godey" - although a borrowed book. but I can trust you with it.

Have you been to the Court, today - and how is the trial going?

Is not this a nice day? I can scarcely content myself in the house - have half a notion to throw duty to the winds, and go gadding.

Will you be glad to hear, Sue and Jennie H. are coming down
