

April 22nd/72

My dear Susie,

As it is time for you to dismiss the misses, and thinking you would like something interesting to read, I send you (I do not mean this now) "Out of the Storm" it is by the author of "Sunday" but you must not commence it until you write me a note, for I want something to read, now be a good Susie, and let me hear from you, My head is better this morning, and as soon as I read a note from you it will be well.

Love Susie please return this short note this morning, for I cannot write more at present, and please dear Susie if let me hear from you, I am your affectionate Mother
