

logic - far too poor
 But Genl. Hemmings, that our intention are Equally essential for the Majesty's Service in other parts, as well as in the provinces, and to promote the Long with as much ease, as with discretion as may be,

and by we have proposed, that a sum of money should be paid to the the bank arising ^{from} the sale of land & commutation, sufficient to pay to the the Long ordered by the Majesty, as to purchase land & commutation.

It is further, as to the new Chapelry, I expect any money will be for the purpose, provided another bill ~~is sent to the~~ is sent to the House of Commons.

For the land & commutation for any other number of years.

Ed of the Secretary.

4/28000
 7
 150

Thurs day March
 8 May 1740
 Wm. Hemmings
 Esq.