A Message from the Six Nation Indians at Ohio delivered to the Governor by Andrew Montour.

[May] it [ple]ase your [Hono]ur Twigh[twies] --- [we]re admitted into the alliance of the English in a Treaty --- three years ago sent their Deputies to A[lle]ghany --- addressed to the Six Nations and other I[ndia]ns --- several English Governors --- with this String ---

The mess[age] --- after sighter uties of the Twightwies was --- Twightwies mes--- uties of the Brethren --- Six Nations --- Read which has lately --- being a new one --- therefore rough, blind and not well cl--- plain, and that every Thing which may hinder the Passage --- of it so effectually as not to leave the least Obstruction and --- not only as far as where you are, but beyond you to the --- the English live, that their Traders whom we desire --- to deal with us for the future ---

Brethren, We are yet young and ---, you the Six Nations ---, and can advise us what to do on all occasions. --- your Love, and requ--- that you will look upon --- with your Council and we [pro]mise to follow whatever --- Advice --- for we are sensible [that it will] you be for our Good; Our [F]ather Onontio has kept us poor and Blind, but thro your means we begin to open our Eyes, and to see Things at a great distance; We assure you by this String of Wampum that We the Twightwies have intirely laid Onontio aside and will no more be Governed by his advice nor any longer hearken to what he shall say -

This is our settled Determination, and We give you the strongest Assurances that We shall abide by it, and of this We desire you will inform the Six Nations Indians at Onondago and all the Indians who are in there and your Alliance and likewise the Governor of Pennsylvania and the other English Governors.

Six I have it further in charge to relate to you the Answer which the Six Nation Indians living at Ohio gave to this Message of the Twightwies.
