

up of a depends - tribute a nited my at the in-that I had

1 O & C. had a man
- & told my friend

denied
- & after aid that were found

L-d had no suspicion till the reward was offered

The amount was no motive - as I could have borrowed the sum if necessary

The large & liberal scale on which I always made my experiments in my lectures, the constant additions of new & expensive instruments & apparatus - often impossible in the collecting of minerals, often requiring distant journeys - hiring laborers blasting rocks, transportation &c all led to heavy expenditure. Whenever a new mineral or new locality was discovered I lost no time & spared no expense in visiting & exploring & collecting largely. In this way & by exchanges at home & abroad I have built up the great cabinet of the College, & in great degree at my own cost. I had great trouble in doing it.