

No death panel should be formed & testify before inquisition - a private panel Keller state regarding Dr P

But the Govt will probably also rely on all those facts, circumstances, and considerations by which they will attempt to prove that Dr W. killed Dr P. by the purpose of showing that the death was by violence -

But this is wholly an independent matter -

Now if either the fact of the death - or of the death by violence is left in doubt, the Govt must fail.

But upon the supposition, that both death and death by violence are established to the satisfaction of the jury -

The next question, of course is, What is the offense which was committed by the killing of Dr P, as developed in the proofs which that fact is established, & by all the other proofs pertaining to that matter?

Was the offense Murder or Manslaughter?

Now here Jury Council, as well as matter of professional duty are bound to investigate this question upon this emergency - because however
