

has before taken place between them what was due & what was to be paid —

& generally, these propounds of the papers "evidence" that he was ~~according to the~~ usual presumptions of Law, rightly by them — until the contrary is shown — as he had proof results for evidence of general liability a particular instance of avoiding payment either of large or small debts.

Reuben Dr W is corroborated in the strongest possible way by the act of Dr P in two important particulars.

1. By the fact that he carried the large note to the College with him — he could not from any thing any way shown, have expected to receive more than Dr W. says he paid him. — If he then pay^d to himself his own note only was to be given up, why carry the other also — especially as in the 2^d place, he did make but selection — not carrying the Mortgage Deed with him as Dr W. says he did not.
