OPINION.

September 3rd 1908, relative to the right of a certain employee of the Railway Mail Service to free tuition for his children in the Baltimore City schools. Assuming the correctness of the statement furnished by the said employee and set forth in your letter, it is clear to my mind that said employee is a resident of Baltimore City. It follows of course from this, that his children are entitled to free tuition in the public schools.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Edgar Allan Poe,
City Solicitor.

Dear Sir:-

The Board of School Commissioners desire to increase the accommodations at School No. 60, Francis and Clifton Streets. The money for this work would ordinarily come from the Inspector of Building's consolidated property account, but that fund is about exhausted and therefore cannot be used.

The repairs will cost in the neighborhood of $16,000.00, and the Contractor is willing and ready to begin work, provided about one-half of the amount will be paid him before the first of the year.
