also Shew the dwelling plantation of the said decease which was called Holly Hill and that he Shew said deceased in his life time in 1817 that he was then in possession of the said dwelling plantation and remained in possession there until his death, and that after the death of the said deceased his daughter Eleanor Stephenson entered into possession of part of said dwelling plantation and remained in possession of said part until the time of her death and that the said part of the said dwelling plantation is now in possession of the defendant hereto and as to all the time of the commencement of this action, and said Witness further proved that said Land is in possession of defendant is Shewn to him by Consistents a part of the said dwelling plantation (and is) known as Holly Hill and that Ch husband of the said Eleanor Stephenson died on her left hand and that she died without Children and that after the death of the said Harrison deceased his daughter Ann Young the Lessee of the plaintiff entered into possession of the other part of the said dwelling plantation and remained in possession there until the year 1853 or thereabouts

And then proved by Thomas J Hall also a competent Witness and duly sworn that he Knew the said Benjamin Harrison deceased in his life time and that he died in the year 1825 or thereabouts and that he Knew the dwelling plantation of the said deceased and that the said deceased was in possession there for more ever since he can remember which was for more than 20 years before his the said Harrisons death, and that after his death Mr Ann Young the Lessee of the Plaintiff and who was a daughter of the deceased entered into possession of a part of the said dwelling plantation, and has been possessed there under August 1853 when she said the same to William H Neal who now holds it, and that all the time the said Ann Young was in possession of a part of the said dwelling plantation the said Eleanor Stephenson another daughter of the said deceased entered into possession of the residue of the said dwelling plantation and remained in possession there until the time of her death, and that defendant is now in possession of said part and that she died after her husband, and without issue and said Witness also proved that the whole dwelling plantation was called the time of the deceased, and for many years after called Holly Hill.

And the said plaintiff further to prove Assent on his part produced Mrs Ann McHenry and offered to prove by her that she was acquainted with the said Eleanor Stephenson and that the said Eleanor died in or about October 1839 after her husband and without issue that the defendant claimed to the administrality of said proof in regard to the time of the death of Eleanor Stephenson that said deceased was a pensioner claimed by the said Defendant, and that in proving the said plaintiff proved by Mrs McHenry that she was acquainted with Mrs Eleanor Stephenson that she attended on and nursed Mrs Stephenson during her last illness, and that she died early about the 6th May 1839 at the residence of Mr Nelson the plaintiff mother (Witness near the City of Baltimore, and she produced a Bible kept by her grand Mother which Witness knew was kept day by day by her grand

Mother, and in which is the said Wesley of her grand Mother it is Recorded that Mrs Stephenson died on the 6th May 1839. That Defendant objected to the recitals that was on May 1839 the death of Mr Stevenson occurred and she related a variety of circumstances connected with the marriage of Mrs Ward and of herself and which makes her confident that the death of Mrs Stevenson took place on or about May 1839 and that Mrs Stephenson was the first Cousin of her grand Mother and that she died without Children and that her husband died before her and that she lived with her grand Mother in whom James Witness recollects several years before her death. And the plaintiff further to identify the Land so proved to be in defendants possession with the land particularly described in the declaration produced and proved by Wm J Nelson, and he places in the hands of the said Witness the declaration in this case and after the Witness had read over the said the said Witness was asked whether or not the Land so proved & described in said declaration was part of the dwelling plantation of the said Harrison deceased and the part of the dwelling plantation of the said deceased which the said Witness had proved was in possession of the defendant to this question the defendant objected the plaintiff thereupon asked Witness whether he recognized the Lime near the poplar tree described in the Beginning of said parcel of Land, and said Witness answered that he did and whether following the course of this Lime Jo the declaration thereof to the Branch & Stone as the East of the first Lime mentioned Courses of the Locations of said Branch and of said Lime Hearsay Evidence could not speak of the process or actions of the said Lime, But he knows the Branch which in the general direction of the said Course, and at or about the distance mentioned as the length of the first Lime, and being asked whether he had any recollection of the Lines described in the second declaration as the present direction Lines that divides the Land of the said Heirs (Charles William H Neale previously mentioned in the declaration aforesaid) from Holly Hill Farm "along the several lines described in the said declaration down to the place described in the said declaration as "a standing Stone of said Land" He answered that he had a recollection of the Lines dividing the Lands of said Neale and the said Holly Hill Farm, and that the said Lines according to the best of his recollection said in or about the directions and for the distances & courses described in the said declaration and referred to the plat referred to. Though the said Witness speaking of recollection only cannot undertake to say absolutely the present exact or precise length of any one of said Lines and being further interrogated the said Witness stated that he knew the gum tree described in the said declaration as a hundred gum of said Lane standing as near as the Witness recollects with the direction and at or about the distance from the said Stone as mentioned in the declaration, and that said Witness with the observations aforesaid in mind could only go to and around the Land described therein, and knows them as Reputation and the Land within the about mentioned in the said declaration