

Ship Courier of Duxbury from Boston commencing in the

Winds

Remarks on board Mon Jan 26th 1855

N

Commenced with fine weather
all hands employed in boiling
and stowing down
at 4 PM spoke ship Clay

Middle part rainy

N 4 W

Letter part moderate and foggy the watch employed in boiling, so ends this day long with the main part to back

No Ob

Winds

Remarks on board Tuesday Jan 27th

N 4 W

Commenced with moderate and foggy the watch employed
in boiling

N 4 W

Middle part the same at day light clear and fresh breath of wind left ship while 2 part in sight

W

Letter part fine weather
all hands employed in boiling
and stowing down so ends this day but four ships in sight

Sat 4th 41. 09

Long 4th 50. 40

South Atlantic Ocean for whales Mon Jan 26th 1855

Winds

Remarks on board Wed Jan 27th 1855

W

Commenced with fine weather
all hands employed in boiling 3 part in sight & boiling

N 4 W

Middle part calm at day light 4 part in sight at 4

N 4 W

Letter part fresh breeze and 8 PM spoke the ship Clay and recovered her 20 lbs of sperm oil due her on account of the sperm whale at 10 PM spoke in sail show gales finished boiling so ends this day

Sat 4th 40. 38

Long 4th 50. 04

Winds

Remarks on board Thurs Jan 28th

N 4 W

Commenced with strong gales breeze in the fore sail ship
Clay in company

W

Middle part more moderate at day light ship Clay in sight boiling

W

Letter part fresh breeze and a heavy swell near part and steered to the S E & E so ends this day employed in breaking oil between decks

Sat 4th 40. 09

No. 16