

Ship Liverpool Lying of and

This day fresh gales from WNW as usual and I think I am all most dismayed how cold weather but fresh winds from WNW with now and then fresh gales have been meeting and bringing for the last 14 days how hot snow and hail every day with heavy squalls in all most to and of looking for a fair wind I hope the Lord will open the way for us soon and lighten these winds to some degree different from this seen but I hope not to complain yesterday I had the wind from the N a land 6 hours then shifting a gain to the WNW as usual cold with snow and hail to

Ends Sunday 16th March

Lat 49° Long 17° 40'

On the Fog Islands May 16, 1852

Friday 21st of May 1852

This day fine winds from S Course N steering sails out to 8 fms on the 20th March the Fog Islands at Ene found a passage through strait my course through it at 17 in the morning found my ship in the center of the passage fine winds from S at Merreman through to Ends and I am glad to quit clear of these Fog Islands once more the name lent the names of detaining me a boat 15 days

Lat 53.25 Long 185.11

Friday 21 Fine winds from S Course N steering sails out to 8 fms found for the sea of Arrado direct in hopes to give boaters and give a pleanty of them

Memoranda Saturday 22.
Winds NW upon black storm clear and cold weathering null nor stranger

Lat 57.12 Long 184.08
So End in greater hopes to give to North there expect to quit all fast

How fast the wind is blowing