

Journal of the ship George Pecker

Tuesday May the 28                  Saw by compass                  19:00	first and middle part clouds from                  S.W. to S.E. and frequent squalls                  of rain headed from S.E. to S.W.                  at a full tacked ship to the N.W. by                  clouds from the S.W. squally                  wind. Lat by the 4:24 South
Thursday May the 29                  Saw by compass                  19:00	Commerce with moderate                  breeze from the S.W. squally                  headed to the N.W. with                  and later part clouds headed                  to the S.E. headed to the N.W.                  all sail set to the Best Advantage                  Weather clear and pleasant wind.                  Lat by the 5:15 South
Monday May the 30                  Saw by compass                  19:56	All these squalls moderate                  breeze from the S.E. to S.                  and passing clouds headed                  by to the S.W. all sail set                  to the Best Advantage in                  ship duty wind. Lat                  by the 10
Tuesday May the 31                  Saw by compass                  21:00	All these squalls strong breeze                  from S to S.E. and passing                  clouds headed by to the N.W.                  and S.W. all sail set to the                  Best Advantage wind. Lat by the                  10:58
Friday June the 1                  Saw by compass                  22:00	All these squalls strong breeze                  from S.E. to S.W. and passing                  clouds headed by to the S.W.                  all sail set to the Best Advantage                  wind. Lat by the 1:04 South

at the Whaling Course to the Cape of Good Hope

Thursday June the 2                  Saw by compass                  24:00	All these squalls strong breeze                  from the S.W. and frequent                  squalls of rain headed to the S.W.                  all necessary sail set to the Best                  Advantage wind. Lat by the 12:51
Friday June the 3                  Saw by compass                  25:18	All these squalls strong breeze                  from S.W. and passing clouds                  headed by to the S.W. all sail set                  to the Best Advantage wind. Lat by the                  13:44
Saturday June the 4                  Saw by compass                  26:46	Commerce with strong breeze                  from the S.E. and passing clouds                  headed to the S.W. latter part                  clouds headed to the S.E. headed                  to the S.W. wind. Lat by the                  15:54
Sunday June the 5                  Saw by compass                  27:11	All these squalls strong S.E.                  breeze and passing clouds headed                  to the S.W. all sail set to the Best                  Advantage wind. Lat by the 17:04
Monday June the 6                  Saw by compass                  27:47	All these squalls strong S.E.                  breeze and passing clouds headed                  to the S.W. all sail set to the Best                  Advantage and Watch in ship in                  ship duty wind. Lat by the 18:56
Tuesday June the 7                  Saw by compass                  28:00	All these squalls strong breeze                  and pleasant weather headed to                  the S.W. all sail set to the                  Best Advantage to each Lat by the                  19:28