

Thursday June 17th

This 24 hours begins with fine weather saw no whales but yesterday Manuel Antonio Boatsteerer missed a whale very evidently on purpose consequently when he Antonio came on board he took his bed and clothes in the forecabin of his own free will also refusing to do Boatsteerer's duty any more

Friday June 18th

Begins with light winds from S.E. last part of the day strong winds from E. steering S.

Lat 58.28

Long 149.34

Saturday June 19th

Begins with strong winds from S.E. ship steering S.W. Last part of the day blowing a heavy gale of wind from South also split foremast & rib

Sunday June 20th

Begins with moderate weather Last part of the day wind from the South with a heavy sea running

Monday June 21st

This day begins with light winds from the Southward Latter part of the 24 hours moderate weather Ship heading S by the wind crew employed repairing sails

Lat 54.36

Long 155.37

Tuesday June 22nd

This day begins with fine weather Last part of the 24 hours saw a right whale Lowered the boats struck & killed and was taken from the boat by the killers

Lat 58.59

Long 156.25