

Ship at anchor in Marcus Bay

Friday July 9th ~ ~ ~ 1869 and Saturday 10th these two days our Ship at anchor in Marcus Bay in 10 fathoms of water some of the natives come off to see us and stop a little time and then go on shore again to come off for all they can get they don't seem to have much trade, they are great beggars, the weather the past two days has been very good.

Sunday 11th South wind, thick weather with fog & rain our Ship at anchor in Marcus Bay, some of the natives on board bringing with them some small fish about the size of our smelts, we bought them with a little Melasses which they are very fond of, we find them very sweet and good fish, the day wind southerly with some fog.

Monday 12th South winds with fog and rain our Ship at anchor not much doing.

Tuesday 13th Southerly winds with some fog and rain not much doing.

Wednesday 14th This morning early wind shifted to the N. East cleared up some weighed our anchor leaving Marcus Bay for Plover Bay about 16 miles distant, during the day winds light most of the time with some fog at 2 P.M. anchored our Ship in Plover Bay North of the village in five fathoms of water, towed six large eases on shore and filled them with water. Saw one Bowhead whale on our passage down lowered our boat for him without success, he was going quite toward the North one Bowhead.

Ship in Plover Bay

Love's Labor Lost.

I waited long, but met in vain,
I sought her eyes one day;
Said I, "O fair young milliner!
Turn not those orbs away."

"Still many a day outside this store
I'll patiently live turned!"
No more I said - She laughed aloud.
"Why, la! Sir, I am married."

there is a plenty of such labor lost

Thursday July 15 ~ ~ ~ 1869
South wind with some fog our Ship lying at anchor in Plover Bay our boat off to day cruising for Bowhead, two of them returned at 11 P.M. saw nothing but white fish at 1 P.M. the other two boats came to the Ship saw nothing but seals, ducks, and a few Walrus.

Friday 16th and Saturday 17th our Ship lying in Plover Bay with a South wind with fog most of the time - Employed in breaking up two boats that lie on shore and taking it on board for fuel - Some of the natives come off every day to see us they do not have much of any thing to trade.
