

have seen several they are small though

Thursday Feb 22 off the ice ship had gone in. When the ice cleared up doubled in size. Main top sail we saw the French lower by. Boats we loved our pulled to the windward top and the but the Whales were going that there was something there came on board again very ship steering N. by E. set main. Spencer says it was which is as bad as rain very light drizzle with a sea on though think there must be a bad sea here in a lot of wind the water being so high Now here do not carry only the small line in the boat there for he can not stand much steering. He is sick of work the vessel is up and down. Cold. There is no water coming in the water making. Spun from there is there other ship in sight?

Friday Feb 23. Lat 34. 42.

Capt came on board again nothing doing. I guessed in the ship standing on the water coming up fast. Hove back again. Spoke her Capt went on board it was a French ship 24 months old. Now Capt came on board downed reefed top sail stowed the ice. Steering N. by E. looking down to the windward sailing. Hard and blowing fresh. Tumbled main top sail and fore top sail hove her too on the Steward took died away a little. Still sailing for a while at least with dark the ship close to us she were round on the other tack till the fore sail lashed the helm. Tumbled ship were ship heading at. Observed day had a total Eclipse of the sun and ship in sight.

Saturday Feb 24.

It rained, not blowing very hard. Lashed the sail. See the waves again. The ship too. Hove a mile off shore anchored. Brought back, were ship rather cold. The wind is N. by E. steering N. by E. steering. Half. Weather second which is a land. Bird. Hove a mile off light on the ship being so close that you can go up and take the other shore. much. See in the morning shore. top sail, and fore sail. See and glances. Still look to the ship in sight. Land on the Western Bow steering. See. Nothing doing.

Sunday Feb 25.

Brought up. Large sailing to at speed. (spun like)
