Fog set in again strong wind scraped decks nothing else doing as near as I can find out the Capt wants to get where we got our last whale I am in hopes he will succede for I have got sick of this weather the fog is so thick that you can scarcely see a ships length heading West N

Friday July 13th

The same weather continued and found 90 fms under bottom there is a great number of Ducks all around us There is not a sick man now amongst us although this is bad weather for such pains as in the legs and arms I do not think there is a healthier crew in this sea than here I am in hopes it will please God to still continue the same. The wind has backed more to the Southern the still continues to freshen further fore and awen top Gall sail tacking ship every hour thick fog

Saturday July 14th

The fog cleared up for a few moments see high Land on the Weather Bow and some to the leeward before not able to tell what Land it was having had a fog and strong current as well as a head wind squally hazy saw a few whales in the forenoon but did not haul them up saw sail till the squall was over and set it again we are on the Labrador coast heading West N had a heavy squall clouded up the sail, braild up spanker a very strong breeze if we were only clear of this spot we should make some and fetcher quite bad thick fog as yet ~~the wind is backing more to the Southern the still continues to freshen further fore and awen top~~ Gall sail tacking ship every hour thick fog

Think the wind is clearing away a little. heard of some sea Land to the leeward of us about 100 miles here ship heading West N on this tack. By the other heaving up again no fog the drift a good deal strong current setting right in set. saw sail. Put spanker sheet the reef out of the sail set. Put plenty of Rain dead calve a heavy sea though Head West N

Sunday July 15th Lat 58. 58

Set sail top Gall sail there has been a slight fog seen and he has a going out of this can I think it will and seems to grow worse having the Papetera for a sickness. The wind squally in the forenoon made the Gall sail on her hauled down the sterning. The wind little wind the sea and current are nearly as strong as the wind thick fog again the wind at fog has left us for a while then aloft see Carcases see the ships spoke the body of the Bedford now out 1000 yds

Tuesday July 17th Lat 57. 30 Long

Not so much wind as there has been quite calm spoke the Lagoda of the Bedford Smith too. This season towing one of them out now see the Rocks Capt. came on board
