

Ship Martha's Log Book on a Whaling Voyage

Remarks on Monday 1st May

Fine breeze from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.50 77.55 E

Tuesday 2nd June 1837

Fine breeze from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 39.00 77.50 E

Wednesday 3rd June 1837

A breeze from the S.E. part of the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.45 78.00 E

Thursday 4th June

Strong winds from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 39.00 77.50 E

Friday 5th June

Strong winds from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.45 77.35 E

Saturday 6th June

Strong gales from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 39.00 77.50 E

On the Indian Ocean Charles Fisher Master 1837

Remarks on Sunday 11th June

Strong gales from the Westward at 2 P.M. left South Sea top sail. & worked in for the land. Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. at 7.4.11 was clear in the S.E. side of the land & ends with strong gales no ships in sight 39.10 77.40 E

Monday 12th June 1837

Strong breeze from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 39.00 77.40 E

Tuesday 13th June 1837

Fine breeze from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.55 77.29 E

Wednesday 14th June

Strong winds from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.55 77.45 E

Thursday 15th June

Strong gales from the N.W. and fair weather at 4 P.M. killed
Large Whale took him to the ship cut him in at 11.30 came
Boiling - Middle and latter part fresh gales from the N.W. im-
ployed at 10.30. Came down between Deacons
of the ends with strong winds from the N.W. land in sight
two windward and a number of ships 38.55 77.40 E

38.55 77.40 E