Journal of a voyage in the Ship Montpelier from New Bedford on a whaling voyage to the Indian and Pacific Ocean Capt. N. S. Cary
Calvin Ashley was 2nd Mate

September the 22nd 1839

Commences with light wind from employed in working the ship out of latter part of the cables and them below thus ends

Who taught my infant soul to sing
And love God's holy word to sing
And taught me wisdom's pleasant way

My Mother

And can I ever cease to be affectionate and kind to thee,
Who was so very kind to me,—

My Mother?

Ah, no! the thought I cannot bear;
And if God please my life to spare,
I hope I shall reward thy care,—

My Mother.

And when I see thee hang thy head,
I'll be my turn to watch thy bed,
And tears of sweet affection shed,—

My Mother.

For God, who lives above the skies,
Would look with vengeance in his eyes,
If I should ever dare despise

My Mother.

"I shipped on board the Saladin,
As you may understand,
Bound to South America,
Capt. KENZIE in command.

We arrived in that country
Without undue delay,
When FIELDING came on board,
Ah! cursed be that day!

He first persuaded us
To do that horrid crime;
We could then have prevented
If we'd begun in time.

I stained my hands in human blood
Which I do not deny;
I shed the blood of innocence,
For which I have to die.

THE WILLOW

Beautiful violet! daisy!
Blooming so modestly,
Under the temple and Upon the hill-side in a
Always and ever try Hide-go-peek with the Beautiful violet! welcome thou art,
Bringing sweet music to a weary heart;
For with memories full thy coming seems,
And gazing upon thee, back come the dreams
That haunted me once in love's bright day,
When life and life's hopes were an endless day

Beautiful violet! when I am laid
Under the willow—beneath its cool shade,
Will you not come then, and bloom by me there,
Filling with sweetness the soft evening air?
Say, will you not come and over me lay
Your mantle of blue, fair daughter of May?
