

Mon. Nov. 2nd 18th 44
Lat 38.37 Lon. 67.31
Commences with a
ch. W wind and varies from ch. W
to ch. all day. at noon it increased
and in the afternoon it was blowing a stiff breeze
we had to take in
the foretopgallant
sail and we did
not set it again
until the first of the night. The barometer is going up & we are looking for E. winds,

Tues. Nov. 3rd 18th 44
Lat. 39.00 Lon. 67.15
Commences with a
dead calm and
remains so all day
until about 4 o'clock
p.m. when a breeze
sprang up from the
ch. E just where we want it two, and
through the night
we were going about 6 or 7 knots. We will be very near the
land by tomorrow
night, if every thing
is in our favour
which we hope it is.
