

|      |                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |      |                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|------|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 96.  | Bark Imperna of New Bedford Mass.    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 97.  | On a Whaling Voyage, A.D. 1855. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 462. | Arrest.                              | Thursday March 15 th 1855.Begins with moderate breezes from the Southward, the five deserters were arrested and taken on board, middle part quite moderate, took off a raft of water in the latter part. So ends &c.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 468. | Painting Boats.                 | Wednesday March 21 st 1855.Begins with high breezes from the S. S. E. steering N. W. under whole topsails and foresail, employed painting the boats, middle and latter part brisk breezes steering N. W. by E. employed cleaning out between decks, the cooper fitting casks. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 29° 30'. Long. By $\odot$ 708° 56' 00". Bar. 30.1.                                                                                                |
| 463. | Potatoes.                            | Friday March 16 th 1855.Commences with brisk breezes, middle and latter part more moderate, took off nine sacks of potatoes. So ends &c.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 469. | Smoky.                          | Thursday March 22 nd 1855.Commences with brisk breezes from S. S. E. and smoky, steering N. W. by E. under the topsails and foresail, at night took in, sail down to a double reefed main topsail and foresail, and headed to the S. W. latter part light breezes from the Southward steering N. by W. under the topsails and foresail. The watches employed at sundry jobs. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 28° 36'. Long. By $\odot$ 108° 21' 00". Bar. 29.9. |
| 464. | Wood.                                | Saturday March 17 th 1855.Begins with wind from the S. W. one gang taking off wood, and ends stowing it away. So ends &c.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 470. | New Fore Spencer.               | Friday March 23 rd 1855.Begins with moderate breezes from S. S. W. steering N. with the main top gallant sail out, employed altering a new fore spencer, middle part moderate, latter part brisk breezes from N. W. heading to the Northward, and spoke the Bark A. Houghton of Fall River, 350 sp. 200 wh. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 27° 58'. Long. By $\odot$ 108° 24' 45". Bar. 30.0.                                                                  |
| 465. | Deserter.Took the Anchor. | Sunday March 18 th 1855.Commences with brisk breezes from the Southward, took off the remainder of the wood, one man (a Spaniard) deserted, middle part moderate, latter part pleasant breezes from the S. E. at 4 P. M. the deserter abovementioned was brought in, at 10 P. M. took him on board, at about 11 P. M. took the anchor and stood out towards Cape Naturalist. So ends &c. Long. By $\odot$ 114° 54' 00". new rate. 115° 15' 30".                                      | 471. | Mars.                           | Saturday March 24 th 1855.Commences with brisk breezes from N. S. W. heading to the N. W. in company with the A. Houghton, middle part heading to the Southward under easy sail, latter part brisk breezes from the N. S. W. heading to the N. W. and spoke the Mars. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 26° 54'. Long. By $\odot$ 108° 06' 15". Bar. 30.0.                                                                                                        |
| 466. | Putting the Boats.                   | Monday March 19 th 1855.Begins with calms and very light airs from the S. W. employed stowing the anchors and sending the chains below, at about 4 P. M. took a breeze from the Eastward steered out N. N. W. to clear Cape Naturalist, at about 9 P. M. abreast the Cape, middle and latter part pleasant breezes from the S. E. steering N. W. under all sail, employed fitting the boats for whaling. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 32° 49'. Long. By $\odot$ 113° 01' 45". Bar. 30.2. | 472. | Gamming Sprouts.                | Sunday March 25 th 1855.Begins with brisk breezes from S. W. and S. S. West, heading to the Westward, gamming with the barks Mars and Bypoy, and two other whalers in sight, middle part moderate, latter part brisk breezes from the Southward, at 9 P. M. saw sprouts but did not ascertain what they were. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 26° 35'. Long. By $\odot$ 107° 49' 30". By Lunar at 4 P. M. 107° 42' 45".                                         |
| 467. | Boat's Crews.                        | Tuesday March 20 th 1855.Commences with brisk breezes from S. E. steering N. W. straight shortened sail and stood boat's crew watches, middle part steering N. W. under easy sail, latter part brisk breezes from S. S. E. steering N. W. under whole topsails and foresail. So ends &c. Lat. By obs. 31° 19'. Long. By $\odot$ 110° 33' 15". Bar. 30.1.                                                                                                                             |      |                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |