

February Friday the 8th

This Day began with Fine weather and Calm at 8 o'clock Thermometer 16 below. At 5 o'clock this or some of the Horatio's crew were going out after Dog meat. They found the man that was lost from the ship yesterday he seemed to have wandered around all night he had lost his mittens his Hands were frozen and his waist also and both Feet and Ankles it would have been better had he froze to Death as he is in such a condition that he will be only a maimed Frank and I don't think that he will survive the amputations of his Feet & Hands, we had a Dog that went mad or had what the Natives call molly Kullag we had to kill her so ends &c
