

Ship Wm. Wright & Liverpool - Ticket

Sunday August 7th

Come in with fine breeze & pleasant weather steering by the wind to the S.W. Latter part fine weather. Saw nothing of the whale. Said to Endy another. The bath some is blaspheming while another is a reading his bible. The another sitting along side of him a singing some other song to while away the time. Then you can see another in a deep study of the times that is past and of the future. Then he will awake from his reverie and converse about the Ladies at home while they are enjoying their religious exercise and passing the evening in some social circle of friends conversing in that interesting topic which they are so apt to pass the day not once thinking of those poor mortals which is deprived of all society except the howling of the winds and splash of the sea. But alas how different with the sailor all his thoughts are centered on his virtuous love that he has left behind him he still has that she will remain as he left her in a single state of blessedness while he is braving the ocean to gain a laborer an erect man to gain the esteem of his fair one perhaps she is promenading with some other in a ball room and the man that a few months before was dearer to her than life is now as far from her thoughts as he is from home. She forgetting the solemn vows that she made to him when she parted from him but alas poor guilty girl she does not know the heart that she has pierced neither the hurt that she is about to create but my sincerest hope is that it is a dream.
