Then personally appeared George C. Fabbett one of the firm of Fabbett & Co. of the City aforesaid and on his solemn affirmation deposes and says that the said firm had no other insurances on the property described in the schedule hereto annexed than that effected per Policy No. 12, dated 23rd of 5th Month 1869, issued by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company for ten thousand dollars. That the aforesaid firm of Fabbett & Co. were the owners and sole occupants of the premises, machinery and stock, and that according to his best knowledge and belief the fire was purely accidental in its origin.

And having inquired into the circumstances of the loss aforesaid I do verily believe that the Company aforesaid have really and by misfortune, and without fraud or evil intention suffered by such fire, loss and damage to the amount set forth in said schedule.
