

Jan 31 Lying at anchor at Vermilion Bay at 8 o'clock that we had on shore and supplied the light with about 325 gallons of oil at 8 o'clock returned we had a long passage off it being head wind and current so we lay at anchor in Vermilion Bay.

Feb 1st still lying at anchor at Vermilion Bay employed in stowing off the hold so and putting things for home so with fine weather.

Feb 2nd lying at anchor at Vermilion Bay for part employed at taking in the long boat and stowing away things for home at 1 o'clock took our anchor hounds to New Bedford so with strong wind at the off the Feb 11th Lying at anchor at Key West we came in here at 4 o'clock we left Vermilion Bay on the 2nd and it began to blow the first night out and it blow a gale from almost every point of the point of the compass until the 2nd at 10 o'clock we had a very heavy squall of wind and rain at 11 o'clock it died away calm with a heavy sea running at 12 o'clock in jibing ship carried away the wheel at 1 o'clock fitted the wheel and on the 10th it began to blow again and it blow a gale at the 1 o'clock when we came in Key West and lying at anchor at Key West Florida.

Feb 16th Lying at anchor at Key West and fine weather we have been here five days and it has been blowing a gale about ever since we came here until this morning it is now light winds and pleasant weather at 6 o'clock took our anchor and made sail for New Bedford so with sailing towards New Bedford
