

To the Protector

Sir

It is impossible for me to suffer your festival to pass by, without renewing the homage of my respects and gratitude due to receive with your characteristic benevolence. what wish can I form for you, your virtues, and your fortune require no addition: your personal reputation surpasses that which is due to the eminent public stations which you occupy can I desire any thing better than the continuance of these rare advantages. As for me, my ambition is limited to the wish of enjoying your continued benevolence and the honour of your protection I am Co Yours affectionate
J. Bergeant, Esq, Macomber

Reply

Mrs. G and daughters return their thanks to Miss S for her polite attention, the careful guide, whom she sent to conduct them home.

A garnal of the whaling voyage

8 4
9 1
17 1
18 1

H 7