

to Capt Adams in the morn written in haste and my thoughts scattering hope you will get some that is better you will this from the hand of an affectionate wife and one that loves you much & longs to see you I am anxious to have a letter from you take care of your health and ~~live~~ ^{live} for my sake and that Dear babe that is now ~~sleep~~ ⁱⁿ her cradle you must get the news of the illness of Capt Adams and ask him what his new Doct has been doing and made himself so sick last Monday eve I think it is likely that he will make some excuse for him

I believe the story true
