

The Dr. has had a letter from Uncle Nathan to day saying that the Palmarazo Oil burned out 15 6 1/4 gallons sold in Boston for 9 cts per gallon. your part of the ship, part amounted to 26, 61 cts which I told the Dr to keep and give you credit for the same your leg I shall get if Uncle when I want it one while I subside myself your affectionate wife I feel as shall never cease loving you with your in love
 I have a daughter who is getting better slowly the Dr. has a daughter who is getting better slowly will try my patience which you know is all small however I am as I was made and shall try not to fret no more than I can help. I find our Sir tight as comfortable ~~that is to say~~ as last early want you to make the fire in the morn for Sisa wants to be an early riser she dont let me have much rest after daylight. Mary took care of her this P. M.
 & I went to meeting saw Susan, Fannie & Abby come together sat in Uncles Pew Abby was dress'd very nice new f. laid dress & white flumes in her bonnet I mistrust that they have some notion of marrying soon tell Uncle that little George looks very cunning trotting about house and acting his part well. I shall go over their this week and spend the day Clara is their sewing your Mother is coming here this week to spend the day. I must stop for Sisa has wet. & so good night Wednesday eve & well Dear Husband you will see that since I began this that my pen has been laid aside three days have had more company this three days past than I have had all winter before and this eve while the babe sleeps & I alone I thought I would tell you who had been here and all the news. first monday morn your Mother came here to spend the day. as you must know I was glad to see her we had a social interview in the P. M. we took a walk out down the street to call on some of our old acquaintances Mrs Lucretia Luce, Polly Nathan, Patty Blush as she call'd them. how they display'd the Norton drop monday eve Mrs Adams & Joan Luce came and spent the eve with me. & yesterday James Hunt Virginia, came over with little
