

"Journal of a voyage in the barque Minerwa Continue to where writing is reversed, then both sides of last page

The show commences with buses from the West and visitors and pleasant weather from the show as they start moving to the south at 6 pm. Black dolls having by now all been sold. The show has been well attended since 10 am.

Journal of Whaling voyage in December 1841 commenced 24 hours commenced with strong breeze and at 3 a.m. from barbet and then down river at 12 hours the pilot at barbet full point to land there 24 hours

Wednesday there no bar commencing with strong and cold wind from the North and Eastern middle part strong wind from the North and strong wind from the North 70. 50 Eastern

Thursday the 26 hours commences with strong rain.
Apr 30 from the South and ahead middle part of 56.65 ft. water from the South and westward by 51.56 ft. water from the westward

Sunday these 26 hours commences with the rain may be from the westward area plus the 4 or 12 middle part strong wind from the south by 72.50 and eastward but the same time by and by Saturday the 26th commenced with gentle breeze from the south and some squally.

H 92.60 middle part late wind all round the by 78.23 Cornwalls late put the same and foggy

Sunday the 24th fairs commenced with bit winds may & from the and round the compass and fog middle part late winter all round #40. to the compass and foggy broken part the #72. is same as follows

Monday there at noon commences with Calms may 6 and foggy with all sort hit winds thru 22 from the fall round the compass By 22.00 further but the same and foggy