

Thursday
May 30
1840

these 24 hours commences with strong winds from the Eastward and heavy water at anchor in bottom of middle part strong winds from the Eastward and some squally latter part the same laying to anchor at Belknap Cove
So ends these 24 hours

Friday
May 31
1840

these 24 hours commences with strong winds from the Eastward and rough water and some squally middle part strong winds from the Eastward and squally water latter part the same off to the South of the white cliffs since the telescope of Wampanoag Bay Lane
So ends these 24 hours

Saturday
May 31
1840

these 24 hours commences with strong winds from the Eastward and rough water off to the South of the white cliffs middle part strong winds and some squally latter part strong winds from the Eastward off to the South of Salt Cove the Wampanoag Harbor in view to day So ends these 24 hours

Sunday
May 31
1840

these 24 hours commences with strong winds from the Eastward and rough water off to the South of Salt Cove middle part strong wind from the Eastward and rough water latter part strong winds and rough water and some squally So ends these 24 hours

Monday
May 4
1840

these 24 hours commences with strong winds from the South East and very rough at 1 P.M. have to anchor in # Peters Cove middle part strong winds from the Eastward and rough water latter part the same employed in getting off water and wood trees near runaway So ends these 24 hours