

At anchor in Grey Channel & Straits

56

Tuesday May The 10th 1864.

Commences with

Light wind from N.E. at daylight - commenced steering down it, at sun down finished.

Wed 11

Commences with light wind from N.E.
At daylight - cleaned out pots & broke out and restored the run.

Thurs 12th

Commences with light wind from N.E.
At daylight - anchor in sight from both bows steering for Grey Channel Passage, had a head & very strong current - let go the starboard anchor, at 3 P.m. took the anchor and stood for the island ^{Ternate}.

Frid 13th

Commences with light wind from N.E.
Employed at ship's duty during the day.

Sat 14th

This day light breeze from S.E. S.E. ship steering N.E. pumped two casks of water - sighted the Island of Celebes

Moluccas passing

At anchor off Ternate

57

Sunday May The 15th 1864

Commences with

Moderate wind from S.E. ship steering N.E. at 7.30 a.m. ship calm. at 3 P.M. a nice breeze from southward.

Mon 16th

Commences with light wind from S.E.
Accompanied with frequent showers of rain steering N.E. broke out - Flour.

Tuesday 17th

Commences with a nice breeze from S.E.
At 6 A.M. got up shooks & heads set them up for water. The island of Celebes in sight - Distance 80 miles. Fitted an old overboard boat for towing water.

Frid 18th

Moderate wind from S.E. at daylight the Volcano of Ternate 40 miles off seen the isle of Tidore and several adjacent islands Put up cables at sun down thick & rainy
Came to an anchor between Ternate & Tidore