The next day before Supper was ended y^e said Sara Jones sent for y^e said Andrew Jutsy^e Roome to her & did bring a peice of a Bucks horne gott'd toyled to take y^e ch owt of her bones This deponent doth Conceive that as farr as one man may Judge by Another that y^e said Sara Jones was not then Sensible for two of y^e maid Came owt of y^e Roome from her that night crying Complayning that there Mistriss had bitten Scratched them

To y^e Second Interrogatory this depon: Saith he Knoweth Nothing

To y^e Third he Sayth that he came to y^e house of y^e said Andrew Jones in y^e time of y^e Sitting of y^e County Court in November last there being no body at home but one Mary ffishpoole this deponent asked y^e said Mary where her said Master & y^e Rest: by y^e ffolkes where she made Answere, at Court, & moreover told this depon^t that Joane Watts had told her & Rice Thomas that M^r Rovell had promised her y^e said Joan to give her halfe of her Mistriss his Clothes meaning y^e said M^r Jones for Swearing for her y^e said Mistress Rovell Depon y^e 26 day of September last past Rice Thomas told this depon^t that Joan Watts did tell him that M^r Rovell did tell her y^e said Joan, that y^e said M^r Rovell would Keepe y^e best of M^r Jones her clothes for her Selfe, but y^e Rest she would give to y^e said Joan Watts & Dorothy Philipps. this depon^t Sometimes this last Winter did heare y^e said Joane tell Elizabeth Jones this deponents wife that M^r Rovell had given her a black hood & that if she go to y^e day against her master Morning y^e said Andrew Jones She would give her a great many things more ffurther this depon^t Saith that Thomas Daniell did tell him this depon^t & his wife both together That he was soe much in M^r Jones his favo^r that she had given all here Estate Between him & M^rs Rovell. To y^e ffourth this depon^t can Say nothing
