I am sorry it is not in my power to attend the Fair to behold the beauties, and the beautiful articles there my best wishes attend them, and I hope all their anx-ious wishes may be fully realized — I shall expect Miss Sally will select something which her taste, and judgement, may suit me; I have confidence in her judgement; if she is at any loss, Mrs Emory can supply any deficiency. I will send you over a box with some articles by the Wolcott on Thursday, send to the wharf for the same — Wheat Red 110@114 white 115@120 Cts Corn is rather flat — I stored Thomas's, not being able to get more than 75 Cts for it; the opinion is that it will advance in price — present me to Genl Chambers ask him if he has written to the Clk of Caroline to know who administered on the estate of Mrs Magin her death [illegible] to me something handsome I hope [illegible] and above all my debts, for [illegible] God! it will make me feel m[illegible] more reconciled & happy than I have been for years — adieu and believe me Your steadfast sincere friend
