

Sir

Philadelphia October 28th 1779

Agreeable to your Order I have sent your Clothes and pieces of Cloth (none of the Casemere remaining) & this days Post who I expect will deliver them safe to your hands, I received your Letter & likewise your Order on Mr. Rob^t. Morris who has accepted it & Payment; Am much obliged to you for your Punctuality & should be glad the first opportunity to hear how the Clothes Suit Off; I am so far from remembering what I agreed to make your Clothes for that it has quite slip't my memory, however the Sum you mention was so inadequate to the present Current Price that if I had made rem for it, I should have been a considerable looser; I am now making a Suit for an intimate acquaintance of yours which will am to a considerable more. I intend of the very first opportunity to send you a copy of the Bill; ^{were} ~~where~~ you here you would be fully convinced that my Charge was considerable less than almost any of the trade at the time your Clothes were finished - should you have any occasion for any more Clothes should be glad of your commands & rest assured that you will be served in the best manner

By Sir Your most obed^t. M^t. Serv^t.

John Martin
