Sisters wed Airmen in double ceremony

DOUBLE WEDDING CEREMONY in Burlington, N.J., recently saw the wedding of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt Burroughs. Miss Bessie Burroughs, left, was married to Willie T. Simmons, and her sister, Alavan, to Ethelbert Dennis.

BURLINGTON, N.J. — The Wesley AME Zion Church, here, was the setting Saturday, for a double - wedding ceremony in which Misses Bessie and Alavan Burroughs, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt Burroughs, became brides.

The former was married to Willie T. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Booker T. Simmons Sr., of Anderson, S.C., and her sister was married to Ethelbert A. Dennis, son of Mr.and Mrs. John R. Dennis, of Snow Hill, Md.

Officiating at the ceremony were the Rev. Messrs. Frederick D. Walton of East Orange, uncle of the brides, and P. H. Houston, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Soloists were Mrs. Mary Ann Shumake and Miss Lillian Sills. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Lois Tucker, of Beverly. Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Camden N.J., served as directress.

• • •

MR. BURROUGHS escorted his older daughter, Bessie, to the altar, while her sister was escorted by an uncle, the Rev. Feddis Walton.

Both sisters were given in marriage by their father. Both wore identical gowns of imported Chantilly lace with Sabrina necklines touched with sequins and seed pearls, fitted bodices and long pointed sleeves. The full skirts with overlaying panels of lace flared into chapel - length trains.

Their fingertip veils of illusion were arranged from pointed crowns covered with sequins and seed pearls. Each carried a white Bible with a white orchid and shower ribbons of white satin with valley lillies.

• • •

MRS. SARA E. JONES, of Flint, Mich., sister of the brides, served as matron of honor for Bessie. Mrs. Celestine Barefield, was Alavan's matron of honor. Both wore identical gold sheath gowns with detachable harem skirts and gold velveteen hats with short veils. Each carried a nosegay of blue chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Helen Ingram, and Misses Joanette Jenkins, Faye Howell, and Contance Harris, all of this city; Mrs. Shirley Harris of Philadelphia; Miss Rebecca Harris of New Rochelle, N.Y.; Miss Jo Anne Burey, of Waterly and Miss Marian Howard of Flint, Mich.

Their gowns were similar to those of the matrons of honor, in fall blue, and they carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Similar gowns also were worn by the flower girls, Charlene and Donna Faye Jones, of Flint, Mich., nieces of the brides.

• • •

BOOKER T. SIMMONS JR., of Baltimore, Md., was best man for his brother. Paul Marcon served as best man for Mr. Dennis.

Ushers included David F. Hill and James Smith, of Edgewood, Md., cousins of Mr. Simmons; Benjamin Shumake, of this city; George Walker of Anderson, S.C.; Nathaniel H. Burroughs of Camden, brother of the brides;

Also Charles A. Dennis of Snow Hill, brother of Mr. Dennis; John R. Dennis of Chester, Pa., cousin of Mr. Dennis, and Robert L. Harris, of Philadelphia.

Ringbearers were Charles Roach Jr. of Beverly, and Charles Burroughs Jr., of Palmyra.

• • •

THE MOTHER of the brides was attired in a dusty rose lace gown with matching accessories. Mr. Simmons' mother wore a lace dress of ice blue with matching accessories, and Mr. Dennis' mother a dress of mint green with matching accessories also. All wore corsages of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left on a motor tour of the southeastern United States and are now residing at 79 West 6th Street, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis spent their honeymoon in Flint and Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Canada. They are at home at 6133 Locust St., Philadelphia.

Both brides are employed at McGuire Air Force Base. Both are active in the Tabernacle Baptist Church. Mr. Simmons and Mr. Dennis are both serving in the Air Force and, are stationed at McGuire Air Force Base.

Jersey teachers will meet in Atlantic City

TRENTON—More than half the teachers in New Jersey will be in Atlantic City from Thursday to Saturday for the 105th annual convention of the New Jersey Education Association.

Many schools throughout the state will be closed for either one or two days so their teachers can attend this meeting, which the Association now boasts is the largest annual meeting of educators anywhere in the world.

Over 25,000 teachers are expected to attend.

• • •

IN ADDITION TO headline speeches by J. Conrad Seegers, president of Muhlenberg College, Dr. George Z. F. Bereday of Teachers College, Columbia, and New Jersey's Commissioner of Education, Dr. Frederick N. Raubinger, the teachers will have a choice of speeches and special interests.

Among the speakers in these groups will be Shane McCarthy, executive director of the President's Council on Youth Fitness; Dr. George P. Schmidt of Dartmouth College; John E. Oakes and E. Clifton Daniel of the New York Times staff;

Also, John T. Cunningham of the Newark Evening News; Dr. Goodwin Watson of Teachers College, Columbia; Professors Alan S. Downer and George E. Duckworth of the Princeton faculty.

THERE WILL be a special session on the teaching of Puerto Rican children in New Jersey schools, one on travel for teachers and how it can be used in the classroom; numerous speeches on education abroad, including Russia, and several demonstrations on science teaching in the schools.

To relaive the "straigh" profession4lism of the three - day sessions, the teachers will have an opportunity to attend a concert by the Sea Chanters, the choral unit of the U.S. Navy Band, at least three major dances, the traditional annual concert of the All State Orchestra and Chorus, and numerous teas and receptions being planned by county groups and college alumni organizations of teachers.

The annual business meeting of NJEA's policy - making Delegate Assembly will be held at the Ambassador Hotel on Thursday, Nov. 6. Policy formulations are expected to firm up the Association's stand on recent proposals for a State sales tax in New Jersey.

Pumpkin Pie with a new look (and new flavor!)

The Pie—pumpkin pie, an American tradition . . . and the kind of pie PET Evaporated Milk makes best of all. PET Milk is double-rich, so rich that it blends the pumpkin and spice to a creamy smoothness . . . a delicious flavor that no other form of milk can match.

The new look—a crunchy, party-pretty pecan topping crowning this perfect pie.

The new flavor—just a hint of orange in the nut topping . . . wonderful with the mellow-spice flavor of the pumpkin filling.

This season, try pumpkin pie this new way. Your family and friends will be delighted when you serve their old favorite with a delicious new difference.

PUMPKIN NUT PIE

¾ cup brown sugar
1 Tblsp. flour
½ tsp. salt
2¼ tsp. pumpkin pie spice
1½ cups canned pumpkin
1½ cups PET Evaporated Milk
1 slightly beaten egg

NUT TOPPING:
1 Tblsp. butter or margarine
2 Tblsp. brown sugar
1½ tsp. grated orange rind
½ cup cut-up pecans

Mix in 3-qt. bowl ¾ cup brown sugar, flour, salt and spice. Stir in until smooth the pumpkin, PET Milk and egg. Pour into 9-in. unbaked pastry crust and bake at 375 (for glass pan, 350) near center of oven 45 min. While pie is baking, mix nut-topping ingredients with a fork until crumbly. After baking 45 min., take pie from oven and spoon nut topping around edge. Bake 15 min. more. Serve warm or chilled.

Mrs. Jamison Home Ec. head

GREENSBORO, N.C. —Members of the North Carolina Association of Home Economists ended their 14th annual meeting at Bennett College here 1Saturday with the election of Mrs. I.R. Jamison of Littleton as president.

The new president, who succeeds Mrs. E. Y. Hargrave, of Charlotte, is teacher of home economics at the Mclver High School, and has just completed a one - year term as vice president.

Chosen to serve with her were:

Miss Ruth Pope, Chapel Hill, vice president; Mrs. Clumpertee Tucker, Washington, recording secretary; Mrs. Catherine Snead, Goldsboro, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edna Tuck, Durham, treasurer, and Mrs. Doretha Chance, Williamston, parliamentarian.

Theme of this year's meeting was "Maintaining Good Human Relations in Meeting Daily Problems." In keeping with this theme there was a discussion led by William Bagwell and Charles E. Davis, both of High Point, director and associate director, respectively, of the school desegregation program of the American Friends Service Committee, in which they gave a progress report on the work under their direction.

President Willa B. Player welcomed the delegates to the college.

• • •

MR. BAGWELL, who emphasized the need for a "horizontal rather than a vertical" relationship in race relations in the South, decried the paternalistic attitude of the South in which the majority group looks "down" on minorities and suggested that much more might be accomplished through "face-to-face relationships."

Pointing out that the absence of strong moral leadership from white persons has hampered the extension of the desegregation program, Mr Bagwell said: "Probably the best formula for good human relations is that stated by Jesus Christ who said: 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'."

Miss D. S. Dent, of the home economics department at North Carolina College in Durham, spoke on "Good Human Relations as Observed in Alaska." Relations between the races are very good, she said, although she noted that the migration of white Southerners to the area had created certain problems that had not existed before.

• • •

DURING A LUNCHEON meeting discussion, the delegates, in discussing "next steps," agreed that among their immediate goals would be improving the quality of their program, greater geographical expansion, increased unity and an improved recruitment program to attract students even while they are in elementary school.

Among the delegates present were:

Mesdames L. F. James, area supervisor, of Raleigh; Estelle Nixon, Durham; Doris Bent, White Store; Dr. P. Mayo, past president, Durham; Sue Dell Hill, Warrenton; Minnie Miller Brown, extension service, A. and T. College, Greensboro;

Mesdames Bernice Johnson, Durham; Adelaide B. Fuller, Tarboro; Etta D. Tucker, Battleboro; Ida Belle Hilliard, Rocky Mt.; Betty McAllister Hilliard, Burgaw; Bernestine W. Sanders, Garysburg; Dixie G. Gittles, Lillington; Lillian A. Woodhouse, Belcross;

Mesdames Dorothy P. Taylor, Zebulon; Wetanah Williams, Raleigh; Garbella B. Harris, Selma; Naomi L. Sanders, Pinebluff; Genia R. Williams, Smithfield; Elizabeth A. Edwards, Silver City, E. B. Whitted, Henderson; W. M. McLaughlin, Greensboro; B. T. Crabtree, Ruffin; D. B. Hankins, Lenoir; M. Y. Morris, Southport; Louise G. Street, Bennett College, Greensboro;

Misses Marlene Reavers and Anna Cann, Bennett College, Greensboro; Ellonnetha Dunn, Kenansville; Alma Prentis and Edith Tucker, student delegates from Bennett College; Wilhelmina Lewis, extension service, A. and T. College, Greensboro; R. W. Alston, Henderson; C. F. Haywood, Laurinburg; Esther Cogdell, Framville; Alberta D. Haywood, Raleigh and Mildred Jones, Raleigh.

Kappas set for Detroit

DETROIT—(ANP) — This city will be the host to the 48th annual Grand Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Psi national Greek Letter fraternity, December 26-30.

130 Detroit Kappas are working through 19 committees planning events.

J. A. Craigen, attorney, is Polemarch of the Detroit Alumni chapter and is arranging for unusual events to implement the conclave theme, "Training for Leadership." Not only will the spacious Detroit Kappa Kastle serve as headquarters, but the Sheraton - Cadillac hotel will house most of the visitors and all of the main meetings.

A. M. ELLIOTT is chairman of the local program committee and John K. Medders is chairman of the registration committee and reports a large advance registration and housing reservations which are being cleared by Walter Dean, of Detroit.

Grand Polemarch C. Rodger Wilson, of Chicago, is completing his fourth term of office. He is responsible for a reorganization of Kappa Alpha Psi business methods and for inspiring college trained men to "uniform high standards of achievement."

Recently $7,500 was given to Indiana University, at his direction for purchase of a plot on the new "fraternity row" where a proposed $100,000 Kappa Alpha Psi Memorial House will be erected as a tribute to the founders.

Revise child labor law

TRENTON — Countless new jobs will be made available to teenagers as the result of new interpretations of New Jersey's child labor act announced Thursday by Labor and Industry Commissioner Carl Holderman.

At the same time, Mr. Holderman said a public hearing will be held on Friday to explore the need to broaden the scope of prohibited occupations for minors under 18.

The new interpretations are concerned with the use of power-driven machinery by children under 16 and with jobs in construction work for minors under 18. Both have hitherto been prohibited by the child labor act.

THE NEW ruling permits minors over 14 years of age to use "stationary machines operated by electrical, steam or mechanical power which are so completely guarded as to adequately and thoroughly protect any and all persons working about or in connection with them."

The other interpretation, affecting minors under 18 who have hitherto been banned from "construction work of any kind" permits them to engage in this type of work under specific conditions.

Under the new ruling they may work on fences or small outbuildings that are not more than 12 feet high and are not connected or related to any other construction activity.

DR. LAWRENCE C. JONES, president of Piney Wood Institute, Mississippi, was recipient of a citation from Omicron chapter of Chi Eta Phi Sorority, in New York City, recently. A plaque was presented by Mrs. Lucille Lacy Scales, basileus of the chapter at the group's annual luncheon.

Miss Luz weds Airman Lopez

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — Miss Helen Luz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Damiao Luz of 244 Rhodes St., recently was wed to Airman 1/C Bradford B. Lopez of Howell St.

The bride was given in marraige by her father. Her sister, Mrs. Roselyn P. Williams, was matron of honor and the brides-maids were Misses Emilia Carvalho and Elizabeth Fontes.

Richard Lopez, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Arthur Wright and Clifford Guy.

THE DOUBLE ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leroy M. Dancer. After a reception, the couple left for a honeymoon in Quebec City, Canada.

Airman Lopez is stationed at Goose Bay, Labrador, and will return to his base on Friday. The couple will make their home at 244 Rhodes St.

SAM LACY'S A TO Z

Those of us who are conscious of the Washington Redskins' unshakeable indifference to colored players, must get quite a kick out of the weekly statistics in both professional and collegiate football.

The Redskins, under the aegis of George Preston Marshall, are the only team in the National Football League which never has used a tan athlete . . . . Marshall thinks that the colored man's dollar is the only thing that has a place in his organization . . . . so, he has refrained from considering a tan gridder, even as a training camp candidate.

That's why it is nice warm feeling when one notices that the five best ball carriers in the pro ranks are colored boys — Jimmy Brown of Cleveland, Willie Galimore of Chicago, Lenny Moore of Baltimore, Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland, and Tom Wilson of Los Angeles.

And that isn't all . . . . The nation's top ground gainers in the college ranks at the moment also are of the A to Z complexion . . . . They are Dick Bass of College of Pacific and Don Perkins of New Mexico A. and M.

It just could be that the colored players in the game have the same feeling you and I do about the situation . . . . Evidence is that they work at their top form whenever they're playing Marshall and his maleskinned cohorts.

For example, in nine games against the NRedskins since he joined the Chicago Cardinals, Ollie Matson, has scored 11 touchdowns . . . . Galimore, playing pre-season and regular against Washington, has reached pay dirt nine times in four contests . . . . Wilson has tallied six TD's in six games . . . . Jim Brown has hit for six in three, and before he retired Marion Motley found pay dirt 16 times against Skins defenses.

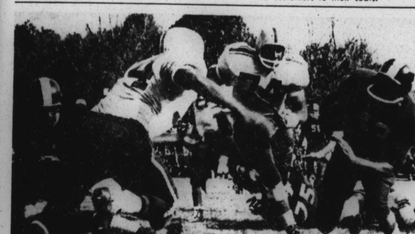
Wilt Chamberlain, mixing straight basketball with his antics in the regular comedy routine of the Harlem Globetrotters, averaged 30 points a game in his first month on the barnstorming circuit as a professional.

When Elgin Taylor was introduced to Minneapolis Laker fans the other week, the management staged a two-band parade through the streets of the town . . . . Baylor and his teammates rode in enameled jeeps to the Minneapolis Auditorium, where floodlights illuminated the sky . . . . Inside the hall, evening-gowned usherettes led customers to their seats.



EAGLES TRAP A HAWK — North Carolina College's Clifton Jackson (number hidden) and Nick Geralds (74) close in for the kill on Maryland State College's Frank Muse (43). The Eagle defenders stopped the Hawk ball carrier for no gain, a theme that was carried out most of the game in which NCC won, 26-6, over her Eastern shore rivals.

The Redskins' Red Faces
The Colts May Take It

This week's AFRO Magazine carries a piece on the Baltimore Colts, who appear well on the way to winning the Western Conference title in the National Football League. . . . Among other things, the yarn points out that the acquisition of the pro crown, if it should materialize, will be an honor the Colts richly deserve . . . as the piece says, "it couldn't happen to nicer people."

The Colts already are champions in the game of human relations. . . . Since the present ownership took over, there has never been any sign of hesitance over the signing of a player who appeared capable of making the pro grade. . . . Race does not enter the picture when the Colts have a hand in its painting. . . . An excellent example is to be found in the club's drafting practices.

In each of the last three seasons, the Colts have made a tan athlete their No. 1 choice at the meeting where the clubs take turns in drafting players from the college ranks. . . . Lenny Moore was the first pick of the club in 1956. . . . Jim Parker was the top selection in 1957 . . . and Lenny Lyles was the opening draw by the Colts at the 1958 session.

This same attitude prevails in all of the club's dealings. . . . In the pressbox, the AFRO is extended the same identical privileges and courtesies as or emeted out to the two daily newspapers . . . preferential seats are shared by the representatives of th local publications, and no social affair is given by the team or any of its affiliates at which a question may arise over the attendance of an AFRO staff member.

Further proof of their sincerity in drafting tan talent may be found in the fact that, on at least three occasions, the player in question had to be sought out in person by the front office and sold on the idea of coming to Baltimore. . . . They succeeded in two instances and were deceived into believing they were successful in the third. . . . General manager Don Kellett chased down Jesse Thomas in 1955, making a flying trip to East Lansing, Mich., to bag th efarmer Michigan State halfback. . . . Kellett again was on a plane to Ohio in 1956 to convince John (Big Thunder) Lewis, he had a future in pro ball following two brilliant years at Michigan State. . . . After getting what he considered Lewis' assurance, Kellett learned that the big end had signed to play in Canada. . . . When Moore was signed in 1956, it was after Buddy Young had been dispatched to Pennsylvania as a persuader. . . . Buddy was pretty good, so is Lenny.

SPORTS BY THE AFRO

Marylanders taking in the fall racing at Laurel and Pimlico over the next few weeks, will doubtless get a glimpse of one of the most colorful characters connected with the "sport of kings". . . . All of them may not recognize him, but there are thousands who will know Raymond Holland an dhail him by his nickname, "Skeets."

Holland is in his 30th year of "foolin' around" the horse tracks . . . . His nickname is an affectionate contraction of "Mosquito," a tag that was pinned on him so long ago, that he doesn't recall the identity of the author . . . . Although he rode his first winner, a horse named Bud Bub, at Cumberland in 1928, which was before today's big shot jockeys — Bill Hartack and Willie Shoemaker — were born, Holland today retains his superb physical condition; still resembles a mosquito astride a mount enroute to the paddock for a race . . . . What many Laurel and Pimlico fans won't realize, though, is that this lean man with wizened face and ready smile has used his skinny frame, his strong hands and alert mind to raise a family of four children and put his oldest son through three years of college.

Before departing the subject of racing, it might be fitting to insert a few items of probable interest to the horse lovers (nee bettors) among A to Z's followers . . . . Rubio, who won the Grand National Steeplechase In 1908, was a plow horse for three years prior to his victory in the famed Liverpool (England) stake.

And regulars in the betting ring at Saratoga in the summer of 1939, were chagrined on at least two occasions when the bangtail of their choice was left at the post . . . . There was no excuse for their disappointment, however, inasmuch as they were forewarned . . . . Each time it was the same horse . . . . Stand Alone.

Sponsors of the Wednesday Night Fight shows on television, are beating the tom toms to call attention to their upcoming schedule . . . . Following this Wednesday's match between lightweight champ Joe Brown and Johnny Busso, the cameras have been assigned to San Francisco Nov. 19th for the Spider Webb-Joey Giardello donnybrook, with the winner promised a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson.

But according to them, their prize catch is the December 10th offering, in which they're bringing living room coverage of the light-heavyweight title bout between Archie Moore and British Empire champ Yvon Durelle.

An idea: Why not YOU plan to send a birthday card to Roy Campanella for his November 19th celebration? . . . The address: New York-Bellevue Hospital, Physical Rehabilitation Center . . . . I will.

West Va. bows To West Liberty

INSTITUTE, W. Va. — An alert West Liberty State College football team capitalized on a West Virginia State College fumble in the end zone for a touchdown and kicked the extra point and fought off the three quarters in a sea of mud to emerge the victor, 7-6, before a small homecoming crowd.

West Virginia State's end Bob Carver received a high pass from center which eluded his reach to bound in the path of right guard Bob Lurty of West Liberty, who recovered for the TD. Left end Andy Ferkol's kick was good.

Florida drubs S.C. State, 28-8

ORANGEBURG, S.C.—Florida A and M Rattlers marched over South Carolina State College, 28-8, before 6,000 here Saturday, the largest crowd ever in Bulldog Stadium.

Florida's 132-piece marching band made a dazzling debut by performiaj in a 30-minute pregame show and at the halftime.

Leroy Hardy scored from seven yards out for the first TD. The march started at State's 38. A 20-yard pass from Lee Royster to Hardy aided in the march.

Clarence Childs scored on a 17-yard run for the second TD and Hardy ran the extra two points. Hardy on an 85-yard punt runback, scored the third TD. David Latimer ran the extra two. Childs scored the final Florida TD from one yard after a second half kickoff drive of 68 yards. Hardy, Royster and Childs did the running for five first downs in the drive.

Quarterback Harry Nelson, the real standout for State, passed to David Jones, end and tackle, 48 yards for the S.C. Talley. Then Nelson passed to Nathaniel Phelps for the extra two,

Texas comeback nudges Southern

TYLER, Tex. — A fired-up Texas College eleven, performing before a capacity homecoming crowd, slashed and clawed their way to a 13-6 win over previously undefeated Southern University Saturday afternoon in the Texas College Stadium.

The Jaguars scored in the first period, and held on to the shaky one TD lead until mid-way the final quarter when the Steers tied it up on a pilfered SU lateral, then sewed it up with a 25-yard pass from Ben Fields to Charles Hollie.

Southern scored its lone touchdown in the first quarter on the strength of a ball possession of the game. The hard charging Jaguar forwards bogged down the Steer offensive, forcing them to kick from their own 29-yard line and a poor kick it was too, traveling for a mere six yards, on the first play. John Thomas passed to Richard Williams for the 6-0 lead, which held until the final minutes.

Freshman coach McGirt surprising Bulls cop 4th

By BILL JOHNSON

CHARLOTTE — The surprising football team Coach Eddie McGirt has assembled in his first year at Johnson C. Smith University satiated the desire of a large homecoming crowd which braved rain and very disagreeable weather here Saturday, with a 12-0 CIAA victory over Winston-Salem Teachers College in a sea of mud at Sanders-McCrorey Field.

In bagging their fourth triumph in five starts this season, the Herd went ahead with a touchdown in the third period and then closed the door in the Rams' face with a sensational tally in the final quarter.

• • •

JAMES WALKER, the Bulls' outstanding candidate for All-Conference honors, did the most damage, but this unusually large crowd which sat through a driving rain was more than satisfied with the performances of Fullbacks Sedon Chiles and Henry Ely and Halfbacks John Henry Morgan and James Henderson.

And a tough defense that was stalwarted by William Johnson, Carlo Wills, Pettis Norman and George Burns.

Quarterback Bobby Rowe Fullback Ben Dupree and End James Webster played best for the losers.

WALKER TALLIED both Smith scores. He picked up the first on a 1-yard sneak in the third period and then scampered 74 yards on a sweep . . . the Rams' left end in the fourth to run his personal scoring to 40 points for the campaign.

The Bulls netted 241 yards rushing and 12 passing for a total 253 as compared to 72 for the Rams, who were held to 20 yards on the ground and 52 in the air.

Fisk wins 1st, tops Knoxville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Coach Bus Thompson's Fisk University Bulldogs ran over Knoxville College 20-8, Saturday and hung up the Victory sign for the first time this season as Fisk Jubilantly celebrated homecoming.

Knoxville struck like lightening, posting a TD on the third play of the game on a sensational 68-yard run by David Boyd. Albert Lucas carried over for two extra points and KC had shot its bolt.

Fisk's mighty might Gene Moore 134-pound junior from Daytona Beach, Fla., had the Knoxville Bulldogs biting the dust as he scored one touchdown and set up Fisk's other two.

North Carolina tops Shaw, 20—12 in Capital Classic

By ART CARTER

WASHINGTON

Operating on the time -worn formula of getting the scoreboard first with the most, North Carolina College pushed across touchdowns in each of the first three periods to turn back previously unbeaten Shaw University, 20-12, here Saturday night.

Playing in a steady and chilly drizzle that drove spectators from the open stands into the covered confines of Griffith Stadium, the Eagles put the pressure on Shaw all the way to garner their third Capital Classic victory in six appearances in the 17-year history of this annual football festival.

A crowd of near 8,000 brave Capital Classic faithful fans watched the two Tarheel State powers battle it out on a neutral field.

The triumph gave North Carolina College an unmarred 5-0 record in the CIAA while the Eagles administered Shaw's first defeat of the campaign and left the Bears record at 5-1, as the homestretch in the conference gridiron battle loomed ahead.

HAROLD JOYNER'S 49-yard touchdown dash from scrimmage late in the opening quarter initiated NCC's scoring and gave the Eagles a 6-0 margin after Walter Browing's conversion attempt from placement was no good.

Joyner's TD run came as sort of a reverse dash as two plays before Clifton Jackson, Eagle back, had raced 59 yards for a touchdown only to have the play recalled because of a clipping penalty.

This personal foul plus another 5-yard offside penalty put the Eagles back to Shaw's 49, and on the next play Joyner went off left tackle, eluded the secondary, hit for the sideline and sprinted all the way standing up.

Shaw, with Phillip Jackson and Eugene Hammond, and Frank Baker with the former registering a 28-yard gain, moved the pigskin to a first down on NCC's 16 as the quarter ended.

Baker's pass to Gene Hammond's gave them a first down on the 6 as the second quarter got under way, then Baker-Jackson and Hammond advanced it to the one. With fourth and goal to go, Baker crashed over for the six-pointer, tying the score at 6-6. The kick was blocked and the count remained that way until midway the period.

TWO EXCHANGES OF PUNTS gave the Eagles the ball on Shaw's 40. Lloyd Eason, the Eagles signal - caller, got two yards on a plunge, then went to the air and immediately put the Durham eleven in front.

Eason heaved a 38-yard pass to Joyner, who took the ball with a good catch on the 12, got the benefit of a key block by Paul Winslow and scored unmolested. Browning's kick again was block, but NCC went into the rest break with a 12-6 advantage.

Although the field was heavy and the ball damp by the third period, both teams came out loaded for bear and gave the chilled fans much excitement.

THE EAGLES WENT 58 yards for their third touch, down, with a 15 - yard penalty which put the ball on Shaw's one - yard line a big assist, then Shaw duplicated the 58 - yard payoff march with one of its own for its second touchdown of the night.

This is how it happened. Clifton Jackson, with some neat running, returned the kickoff to NCC's own 42. Eason sifted through for 24 yards and a first down on Shaw's 34, then heaved a 17-yard aerial to George Wallace for a first down on the Bears' 17.

Browning failed to gain on the next play, but a personal foul infraction gave NCC the ball on Shaw's one, and Eason sneaked over on the old quarterback sneak.

This time Eason passed to Cliff Jackson for the two-point conversion and NCC was out in front 20-6.

SHAW MADE THINGS hot for the Eagles, however, by taking the kickoff on its own 42 and going for a touchdown. The 15-yard penalties awarded between gains by Baker set the stage for the payoff tally.

The second penalty put the ball over NCC's 4-yard line and on the next play Baker was smothered by a horde of Eagle players for a 3 - yard loss. He also was injured on the play and was replaced by Robert McCory, who quickly threw fright into the NCC ranks, McCory's first pass fell short, but on the second play he cleverly faked a handoff and pitched out to Gene Hammonds who went over from 7 yards out for the touchdown. Calvin Howell's kick for two was blocked and the score stood at 20-12 with NCC in front.

This also concluded the night's scoring although both teams vainly tried the airlanes in the last quarter.

The Eagles and Bears registered 14 first downs, but it be air the Eagles had a distinct advantage. They completed 6 out of 19 passes for a gain of 113 yards, while Shaw completed 4 out of 15 for 41 yards.

Banks, Mays Aaron again

NEW YORK — Ernie Banks, Willie Mays and Hank Aaron again have been cited as the best players in their positions in major league baseball.

Banks was the highest point getter in the balloting, the Chicago Cubs shortstop polling 161 of the first places tallied by 173 members of the Baseball Writers Association.

Second as a vote puller was Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, with 155.

Mays, of San Francisco, drew 132 votes and Aaron of Milwaukee, received 100 votes to win outfield berths. Both out drew Mickey Mantle, the third man to win a garden position. The Yankee star had 91 points.

ORLANDO CEPEDA, Willie's teammate on the Giants, was placed on the second team by the writers, being named the first baseman in addition.

Cepeda has already been named rookie of the year, and Banks is an overwhelming choice for the "most valuable player" award.

Others on the first team with Banks, Mays and Aaron are: Stan Musial, first base; Nellie Fox, second base; Frank Thomas, third base; Del Crandall, catcher, and Spahn and Bob Turley, pitchers.

4 marks by tan athletes OK'd by amateur body

LONDON—The International Amateur Athletic Federation last week listed four marks by an athletes among those approved for the 1958 track and field campaign.

A 9.3 clocking by Ray Norton of San Jose State College, as okeyed by the federation his equals the world record for the 100-yard dash set by Fel Patton in 1948.

TWO MARKS by Elias Gilbert of Winston-Salem Teachers College also were included among the approved times.

The slender Ram hurdler was given official credit for a 22.1 timing for the 220-yard low hurdles event, and also had an OK stamped on his 22.1 for the 200-meter hurdles.

The fourth record "approved" by the body was the 8.39 points accumulated by Rafer Johnson in the decathlon in Moscow last summer.

Oldest grid rivalry to be renewed

SALISBURY, N.C.—The Livingstone college Bears will tackle the Bulls of Johnson C. Smith University and renew one of the game's oldest rivalries on Saturday. Last year's game ended in 19-19 tie.

Livingstone and Smith (then Biddie University) met in their first football game December 27, 1892 in Salisbury. This particular game is recorded as the first inter - collegiate colored football game played in the United States.

Thereafter, these two teams met on the gridiron yearly through 1941, a period of some 47 years. The game was discontinued, for one reason or another, after 1941, probably because of the lack of adequate team power on the part of the "Bears" during that period.

Jackson College back leads Southwestern

JACKSON, Miss. — Ardis Andrews, Jackson State College halfback, moved into the rushing lead in the latest statistical report of the South-Western Athletic Conference.

The hard-running Corinthian has gained 364 yards in 39 carries for an average of 9.3. Andrews is fourth in total offense.
