7 of 8 top pro rushers are colored

Easily the outstanding feature of the 1958 professional football campaign is the sensational over - all performance of colored players.

Latest statistics of the National Football League reveal that seven of the eight leading ground gainers in the loop are tan athletes; also that the three top scorers in the circuit are colored.

HEADING THE group is Jim Brown, fullback ace of the Cleveland Browns. His 928 yards not only place him within easy reach of a new record for rushing in a season, but they enable Jim to hold a comfortable lead over the rest of the ball carriers in the NFL.

Brown's 928 yards as of Saturday night, in fact, are nearly double the total of his nearest rival — teammate Bobby Mitchell.

• • •

MITCHELL, with 479 yards, is second. Willie Galimore of the Chicago Bears, is fourth with 358 yards, just 23 behind Jon Arnett of Los Angeles, the only white player among the eight leaders.

In fifth place among the ground gainers is Joe Perry of San Francisco (352), sixth is Ollie Matso, of the Chicago Cardinals (340), seventh is Tom Wilson of Los Angeles, (328), and eighth is Lenny Moore of Baltimore.

Moore has carried only 42 times, yet boasts 324 yards and the best aveage (7.7) in the loop.

• • •

BROWN, GALIMORE and Moore stand one-two-three in individual scoring, all based on touchdowns with no help from goal - kicking or point conversions, so important in the pro game.

Brown's 90 points again give him a head-and-shoulders margin over his fellow rushers.

Jim Bryant (51), NCC center, moves in with outstretched arms to snare the fleet-moving back. The Eagles defeated the Bears, 20-12, in the rain, with 8,000 fans watching.

BALTIMORE BEAT:

'All' players contribute to Colts' success story

BALTIMORE

'All' players are having a hand in writing the football history that is being made in this town during this highly-promsing gridiron season.

The Baltimore Colts, the only undefeated team in the National Football League, are riding the crest of a victory wave because 'all' players are doing a magnificent job.

• • •

IF IT HASN'T occurred to the reader, that statement has a double meaning. As well as pointing out that the 1958 record of the Colts is a "team" effort, in which every player has a part, it suggests that 22 of the athletes were "all something-or-other" in their college days.

Three of them, for example, were All - America choices before they entered the pro ranks.

Fullback Alan Amche was a unanimous pick for the 1954 All - America eleven and was named recipient of the Heisman Trophy, awarded annually to the No. 1 college player in the nation.

Jim Parker, the reliable offensive tackle, was good enough at Ohio State to be named twice to the All-America squad — in 1955 and 1956.

And Milt Davis, who last year was named "rookie of the year" in the NFL, was picked on the 1952 All - America's defensive unit.

• • •

HALFBACK Lenny Moore was a third team All-American and a selection to the All-East squad in his last two years at Penn State; also set records for yards gained and touchdowns scored at the school. Coach Rip Engle tabbed him "the greatest back I ever handled."

Two other halfbacks, Carl Taseff and Lenny Lyles, and two guards, Alex Sandusky and Steve Myhra, were Little All-Americans in their college days. Taseff at John Carroll University, Lyles at Louisville, Sandusky at Clarion Teachers College, and Myhra at North Dakota.

• • •

THERE ALSO are a large number of "all - conference" choices among the happy Colts of today.

End Raymond Berry was all-Southwest Conference while at Southern Methodist University. Lineback Leo Sanford was all - Gulf Coast at Louisiana Tech. End Ordell Braase was all North - Central at South Dakota.

Halfback Johnny Sample was a three-time pick to the all - CIAA team during his years at Maryland state College, and tackle Sherman Plunkett was twice named to the all - CIAA while at the same school.

• • •

SOME WHO missed out on "all" recognition during their college days developed into more mature stars when they reached the play - for - pay ranks.

One of these is Art Donovan, who came out of Boston College, to become all - pro tackle in the NFL for the past four years. Another is Dick Szymanski. While at Notre Dame, Dick was identified by Navy Coach Eddie Erdalatz as "one of the finest linebackers we' at the Academy ever faced." In 1956, Szymanski was an all - pro selection.

Quarterback Johnny Unitas was the NFL's MVP in 1957.

Art DeCarlo, the defensive halfback from Georgia, was not All - American in college, but he gained "most valuable player" recognition following his play in the Blue - Gray tilt of 1952. Similar MVP honors went to linebacker Don Shinnick for his work in the 1956 East - West Bowl game.

• • •

RAY BROWN, listed as a quarter - halfback with the Colts, was the star of the Sugar Bowl game last New Year's Day. His 92 - yard TD run for Mississippi was the longest in the history of the New Orleans event.

Halfback L. G. Dupre was the hero of the collegian victory over the Cleveland Browns in the College All - Star game of 1955.

• • •

NEITHER was "all" in college. But quarterback George Shaw and halfback Jack Call were both close to it.

Shaw, while at Oregon, established a National Collegiate Athletic Association record for interceptions when he grabbed 13 in one season. And in his last year with the Webfoots, George led the nation in total offense with 1,536 yards.

Call, on the other hand, was Colgate University's top ground gainer with 881 yards in 1955-56.

Call, on the other hand, was Colgate University's top ground gainer with 881 yards in 1955-56.

All these "alls" are contributing mightily to the Colt cause this beautiful fall—SAM LACY.

Althea tells life story in new book

NEW YORK — The autobiography of Althea Gibson, the tough girl from the slums of Harlem who became a tennis champion, will be published by Harper and Brothers on Nov. 26.

Titled "I Always Wanted to Be Somebody," the book recounts Miss Gibson's struggles to rise above her environment and achieve recognition in a world which tried to ignore her.

"I have no lofty, overpowering ambition," she writes. "All I want is to be able to play tennis, sing, sleep peacefully, have three square meals a day, a regular income and no worries. . .I'm Althea Gibson, the tennis champion. I hope it makes me happy."

MISS GIBSON is a two - time winner of the American National Women's Singles title. She was the first colored to compete in the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association's national championships and has twice won the crown at Wimbledon, England.

Her book tells of her life from the days when she played paddle tennis on 143rd Street and worked as a chicken cleaner, through her education in the hostile South, to her triumphs on the tennis courts of the world as a representative of the State Department.

The book, which was edited by Ed Fitzgerald, is illustrated with eight pages of photographs.

Sugar-Basilio bout planned

CHICAGO — The chances are good that Sugar Ray Robinson will defend his world middleweight title against Carmen Basilio in Chicago Stadium next February or March.

Harold (Killer) Johnson, one of the champion's several co-managers, expressed the view here late last week. Robinson dethroned Basilio in the same ring last March.

• • •

JOHNSON, a Chicago restaurant owner, said:

"It is my understanding that Ray wants to meet Basilio again and we decided Chicago should be the site and next February or March the date."

• • •

AN INTERNATIONAL Boxing Club spokesman said no definite negotiations have been started for a third Basilio - Robinson bout. Basilio won the 160 - pound crown from Robinson in September, 1957.

In Syracuse, Basilio said he was unaware of any specific date and site for a rematch, adding: "They haven't mentioned any money yet."

Southern upsets Tenn. State, 23-14

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Southern University Jaguar Cats handed Tennessee State's Big Blues a 23-14 spanking before 5,000 rain - soaked unbelieving fans.

This was Coach Howard C. Gentry's second loss of the season and the first Tiger defeat on home ground in eight years.

Southern quarterback iced the victory for the Jaguar Cats with 5:19 remaining in the game.

• • •

TENNESSEE OPENED the scoring on her second series of downs, when halfback Andy Farthman cracked through the middle from the 24 with 7:46 remaining in the first quarter. Senior Wilbur Siesberry converted to push Tennessee in front 7-0. Starting on Southern's 40, freshman halfback Jim Crawford, Earthman and fullback Norris Little drove to the 24 in four plays.

Cyrus Lancaster put Southern back in the game with a perfect 75 yard punt return with 13:15 remaining in the second period. Southern forwards bogged the Tiger offense and forced Suesberry to punt from its 42. Lancaster took the ball on the 25, eluded two tacklers and was sprung loose with a key block by Prentiss Jamee, 200 pound tackle, on the 4, freeing Lancaster to spring all the way along the sideline.

WITH 6:05 until intermission, Lancaster toed a 30-pointer from 15 yards out to lead the Tigers 9-7 at halftime.

Catching fire in the third period, Gentry - coached Sam Bowen, 190, sophomore halfback, passed and ran Tennessee back into the ball game. In five plays Bowen passed and Billy Bentley ran, moving the ball to Southern's 17. Bowen scored from there on a perfect roll out, capping a 58 - yard drive, set up by Cal Sorrell's pass interception at his own 42.

Striking back in the fourth frame Southern scored two quick TD's with less than six minutes remaining in the game. Quarterback John Thomas engineered a 60-yard TD drive in six plays, hitting end J. D. Griffin in the coffin corner from 33 yards out.

With 5:19 remaining, on the first play from scrimmage, Williams scampered 43 yards to paydirt and icing the game when end Lloyd Norwood recovered Tennessee's only fumble.

Fisk suffers 5th loss in 6

NASHVILLE Tenn — The Lane College Dragons spit fire in the final quarter Saturday to singe the Fisk University Bulldogs, 8-6.

Coach Bus Thompson's men slammed into the lead just before half time after fullback Joe Green blasted 32 yards into enemy territory and followed with a three-yard touchdown plunge. Green's try for tow extra points failed.

A few minutes after the fourth quarter opened, dragon back Lowell Lewis smashed the Fisk defense from the one-foot line. He had set up his own touchdown with a snappy 42-yard run. Jams Armour executed the plunge or the extra two points which meant victory for the invaders from Jackson, Tenn.

This was the fifth loss for the Bulldogs who have smelled victory only once. Lane is 3-3.

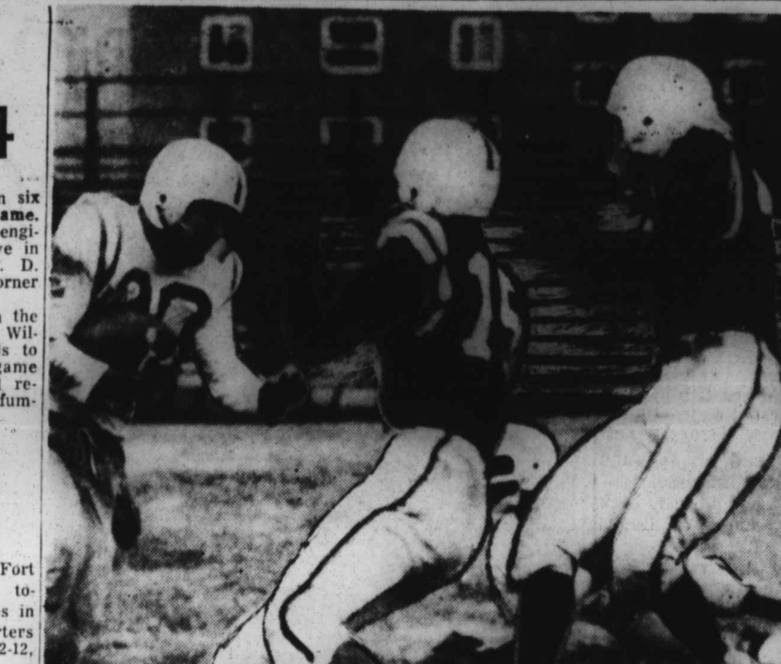
Chi heavy wins 16th straight

CHICAGO (ANP) — Ernest Terrell, 19 - year - old Chicago heavyweight, early last week scored the 16th victory in his pro career, decisioning veteran Sid Peaks of Louisville in an eight - round thriller at Joe Louis gymnasium here.

Since turning pro, Terrell, who is a senior at Farragut High school, has won 16 of 17 fights, 11 by knockout. His lone defeat was an upset to veteran John Gray. Terrell is considered one of the most promising fighters on the heavyweight scene. He is a product of the International Boxing Club's small club operation here.

Before turning pro, Terrell, who is 6 feet 6 inches, won two Golden Gloves titles.



ROAD CLOSED—Lew Luce, District Teachers College halfback, found all avenues of escape closed to him when he tried to run around a Howard end in the intercity gridiron clash Saturday at Howard Stadium. Luce and his teammates found the going tough all afternoon as Howard won, 22-0, with Quarterback Charlie Smith (15) registering three touchdown passes. Smith is shown here doing a good defensive job with a teammate.

Southern Cal pins Rose Bowl hopes on D.C. quarterback

(Special to the AFRO)

LOS ANGELES — Fired - up Southern California moved up a notch closer to the Rose Bowl last Saturday with a 29-6 victory over Stanford University.

As the Trojans move toward a possible Rose Bowl appearance, talk centers on quarterback Willie Wood, who two Saturdays ago, hopped off the injury list and ran and passed USC to a 14 - 6 victory over Washington State.

A 77 - yard pass play from Wood to star end Hilliard Hill, with two minutes to play, was the deciding factor.

Before the wrap-up play, Willie had been put into action, and had promptly marched the Trojans 67 yards in 11 running plays, for their first touchdown.

• • •

FOR THE DAY, Willie attempted five passes, completing three, for all 86 of USC's yards gained in the air. He also gained more yards on the gound, 54, than any one else on his team.

After the final touchdown, Wood scrambled across the goal line for a two-point conversion.

• • •

WOOD'S SHOULDER, injured by Michigan end Gary Prahst in the second game of the season, is still a question mark. As he threw the game - winning toss last week, Willie's left arm dangled helplessly at his side.

Willie's records, both offensive and defensive, clearly illustrate why SC, previously known as anything but a "liberal" school, has decided to hang her hopes on the 2 - year-old star from Washington, D.C.

Willie has been completely sound in only one game this season; yet his record compares favorably with full time athletes.

• • •

WOOD HAS COMPLETED 9 of his 15 pass attempts, and had only one intercepted, for total air average of 88. His 109 yards on the ground make him fourth on the Trojan team in that department, and second in total offensive. He is also fourth among defensive backs.

His total yardage, 297, is just 7 less than Tom Maudlin's 304, despite the fact that Maudlin has been in on 86 plays, while Willie has been involved in only 35. Willie was in fact, involved in 8 of Troy's 11 scoring plays.

Last year, playing behind Maudlin, wound up SC's number two yardage gainer, with 134 on the ground and 301 through the air. His ground yardage placed him fifth among Troy rushers. In addition, he was the team's top defensive back.

• • •

AS A T-QUARTERBACK, he led Coaling JC to a 7-2 record in 1956, completing more than 55 percent of his passes for 1400 yards. In the Orange Show Invitational Bowl at San Bernardino that year, Wood passed for 207 yards, and was voted Most Valuable Player.

In 1955, his senior year at Armstrong High School in Washington, Willie was captain of both the football and basketball teams, and is generally conceded to be one of the most outstanding prep athlete the nation's capitol has ever produced.

• • •

WOOD' STRONGEST point are his accuracy on long passes, a rarity in college football, and his running ability, which makes him exceptionally dangerous on pass - run option plays.

Jaguars hold offense lead in Southwest Conference

By COLLIE J. NICHOLSON

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Pent up Texas College, releasing more than a decade of football frustrations, shattered Southern University's dream of an unbeaten season last week, but the Jaguars are still dominating Southwestern Conference statistics.

Southern is tops in team offense and passing and boasts individual leaders in passing, total offense and punting.

Arnett Mumford's proteges also hold down runners-up spots among individual passers and receivers.

• • •

ARTIS ANDREWS, Jackson College halfback, fully untracked after a slow start, has the rushing lead with 463 yards in six games.

He is trailed by Jammie Caleb of Grambling, and Gus Cicero of Texas College.

Passing talent is bursting at the seams with Lindsey Henry of Arkansas, John Thomas and Cyrus Lancaster of Southern, and Clarence Macon of Texas Southern, matching strides.

Henry leads with 31 completions in 90 attempts for 584 yards. He has averaged 97.3 yards per game.

William Glossom is still the prize target among the pass receivers, but Richard Williams of Southern and Calvin Scott of Prairie View are preventing a runaway.

Glossom has grabbed 20 aerials for 339 yards.

• • •

THE FOOTWORK of Richard Williams of Southern is pacing the punters with a 41.7 average. His nearest competitors are Omega Dunnington of Texas College and Curtis Cotton of Grambling with 38.8 and 38.3 averages.

Thomas is high man among individual total offense leaders. The Southern ace has rushed and passed for 685 yards. Caleb has a compilation of 557 yards for five games.

Calvin Scott of Prairie View is pacing the scorers with 52 points.

Tatum quint a big hit in the Far East

MANILA (ANP)—Goose Tatum and his traveling basketball magicians have found the "golden egg" of the Far East.

During a breathtaking tour of Far Eastern countries, the Clown Prince of the court and his Goose Tatum Original Trotters, have been breaking attendance records everywhere they have appeared.

• • •

LISTED ON the Trotters roster is Rookie Brown, Sweetwater Clifton, Boid Buie, Andy Sheppard, Romon Wilkerson and Tiny Ward. Brown, Clifton and Buie were all teammates of the zany court jester when he was performing his magic ball handling feats for the Harlem Globetrotters.

Thus far, during the tour, packed houses have greeted the Trotters in Hong Kong, Okinawa, where the team had to be held over another night in order to accommodate the huge tournouts; Honolulu, New Delhi and numerous stops in China and Japan.

• • •

"THE ENTHUSIASTIC response we've received during our tour has been simply amazing", Tatum said here shortly before departing for Hawaii.

"These people are basketball crazy and they want to see the type of entertainment we are providing. Everywhere we've been, the reaction has been the same. The people have heard about us coming and they are on hand at the airfield as soon as we land. We get little rest after that but the response is worth everything we do in an effort to please."

Big Newk 2 brothers indicted

NEWARK

Big Leaguer Don Newcombe and two of his brothers are scheduled to appear in Essex County Court Monday for pleadings on charges growing out of an alleged brawl in the Cincinnati Redleg pitcher's tavern at 607 Orange Ave., last December.

Mr. Newcombe, 31, of 217 W. Inman St., Colonia, and his brother, Norman, 27, of 1119 Monroe Ave., Asbury Park, were accused of atrocious assault and battery in a grand jury indictment returned last Tuesday.

Another brother, Harold, 29, of 607 Orange St., was indicted on a charge of possession of a weapon with intent to use it unlawfully.

• • •

THE COMPLAINANT against the Newcombe brothers is former police officer Ulysses Ross of 115 Hollywood Ave., East Orange.

In a statement to police Mr. Ross accused Don and Norman Newcombe of beating him and ejecting him from the Newcombe tavern on Dec. 22, 1957.

He charged that Harold Newcombe threatened him with a revolver outside the tavern.

A trial date is expected to be set at Monday's arraignment. The Newcombes are represented by Morris Barnett, Elizabeth attorney, according to court papers.

• • •

AT A hearing before the Newark Alcoholic Beverage Control Board two weeks ago Big Newk denied in testimony that he kicked and kneed Mr. Ross while putting him out of the tavern.

The former Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodger hurler told the board he ejected Mr. Ross after the patron became abusive.

Norman Newcombe, however, told the board he hit Mr. Ross after the man tore his shirt.

Harold Newcombe denied threatening Mr. Ross with a gun.

Last May Chief Magistrate Nicholas Castellano fined Harold $200 on a charge of assaulting an officer called to the scene of the December fracas.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has not ruled on the Newcombe case.

'Study New York crime' two Ga. senators tell colleagues

ATLANTA — Georgia officials suggested that two New York Senators "might better spend their time studying crime conditions in New York."

The two Republican solons, Jacob Javits and Kenneth Keating are on a tour of the South on a fact-finding tour relative to vote denial, bombings and other racial incidents.

The advice to study New York's crime came from Georgia Senators Herman Talmadge and Richard Russell. Atlanta Police Commissioner Herbert Jenkins also told them that there was no need for FBI investigation of bombings—such as the one which destroyed an Atlanta Synagogue recently.

In Jacksonville, Fla., however, local officials endorsed proposed federal legislation to halt bombings. A synagogue and a school attended by colored students were recently bombed in Jacksonville.

Democrats urged to take stand against filibuster

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, Thursday called upon the Senate Democratic leadership to end the filibuster and pass strong civil rights legislation.

The IUD official, who is also president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, pointed out that the almost 2-to-1 Democratic majority in the Senate makes it imperative that the party carry out its 1958 civil rights platform pledge.

• • •

"THE DEMOCRATIC Party cannot dodge its responsibility on civil rights," Carey declared. "The opening day of the coming session should definitely see the end of the filibuster. If this large Democratic majority permits the filibuster to remain, it will be making a mockery of the claim that it is the political party that represents 'all the people.'"

Defeat at the polls, death and retirement, Carey said, have eliminated nine Republican Senators from outside the South who supported southern Democrats in January, 1957, in opposition to a change in Senate rules to curb the filibuster.

He listed them as William Knowland, California; John W. Bricker, Ohio; William E. Jenner, Indiana; George W. Malone, Nevada; Arthur V. Watkins, Utah; Chapman Revercomb, West Virginia; Frank A. Barrett, Wyoming, and Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin.

A lot of turkey

In addition, USDA made a special purchase this week of 130,000 pounds of frozen cut-up turkeys from the Norbest Turkey Growers Association for Christmas use in schools in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture last week announced the purchase of 1,290,000 pounds of turkeys for use in schools participating in the National School Lunch Program, bringing the total purchase to 19,410,000 pounds.

Son faces 18 years for killing father

By HERB MANGRUM

BALTIMORE

"Mr. Fowler was shot deliberately and in cold blood.

"Pull out the crying towel? Sure.

"Fowler's a paraplegic, but that does not give him the right to declare open season on his father.

"Who is here to speak for the deceased? No one. He's in the cold, cold ground and the mother and sister don't want to lose the goose that lays the golden egg."

In Criminal Court Wednesday, those were the comments of Assistant State's Attorney James W. Murphy when he asked a jury of 11 women and one man to convict Joseph Lee (Little Joe) Fowler and Ernest Tankard of first degree murder.

After deliberating for two hours, the jury convicted the paralyzed Army veteran and his "good friend" Tankard of the lesser charge of murder in the second degree.

When defense attorney Joseph Rosenthal informed the court of his intention to file a motion for a new trial, sentencing was suspended by Judge Michael J. Manley.

A second degree murder conviction carries a maximum sentence of 18 years.

• • •

THE DECISION at the end of the two-day trial was received with no sign of emotion by the 28-year-old Fowler, or by Tankard who is a 20-year-old stock clerk.

Both were tried for the murder of Fowler's father.

Joseph Fowler Sr., whom relatives and neighbors described as a disinterested father who gave "Little Joe" the "devil," was shot while standing in the vestibule of his home at 1722 Division St., on March 27.

He died 13 days later at Provident Hospital from a gunshot wound of the forehead.

Tankard, who lived in the 1800 block of N. Payson St., was allegedly hired by Fowler Jr., to shoot his father following a drinking spree at an Arlington Ave. home.

Testimony was given that young Fowler wanted the "job done" because his father had chased a group of friends from their home.

• • •

IN A STATEMENT read to the court, Tankard stated that after Fowler inquired about his gun being for hire, he pushed him home in his wheel chair and shot the 58-year-old father when he answered the door.

Fowler Jr., allegedly sat outside watching the episode.

Following the arrest of both men, a .32 caliber revolver was recovered in the eastside home of Tankard's aunt, police said.

• • •

WHEN HE TOOK the stand on Monday, Fowler testified that he draws $500 a month in compensation for a spinal injury he received while in the Army.

He said he also suffered a broken neck at the time when the recoil from a .50 caliber machine gun knocked him off a 30-foot ramp.

The handsome six-foot ex-career soldier told the court of how his father accepted his money in clips of $100, and used it to drink and gamble.

His mother, Mrs. Rena Fowler, testified that before the shooting, Fowler Sr., locked his son outdoors in the rain.

She said that later, while in a fit of anger Mr. Fowler told his son:

"You s-o-b, you should have been dead when you first got hurt. If I was to see your dead body lying in the street I wouldn't pick you up."

Mrs. Fowler added that her son accepted the tirade with humility and told his father: "Daddy, I didn't know you hated me that much."

• • •

IN SEEKING an acquittal for both clients Mr. Rosenthal asked the jury to be merciful. He said:

"You have heard of no design to kill. Neither boy has said anything about killing Mr. Fowler deliberately.

"To justify a first degree conviction the jury must find the intent. The fact that they were intoxicated is to be considered, for in order to commit first degree murder, a person must be conscious and in possession of his faculties.

"Maybe Mr. Murphy wants to make himself a hero, maybe he will get a medal for getting a first degree conviction, but I don't think Mr. Grady (State's Attorney J. Harold Grady) will go along with that.

"Are you ladies and gentleman going to take a helpless cripple who was drunk and who had a father who was cruel and had no other purpose but to gamble and run around?

• • •

"THIS BOY is broken in spirit. He asked a sympathetic friend to shoot to scare his father so he could go into his home to rest.

"What person planning a murder would ask a man to roll him up to the scene?

"He (Fowler) hasn't got long to be here. His condition is painful. I don't know why Mr. Murphy wants to go by the book in this case.

"As for Tankard, he was just a poor sympathetic friend in his cups.

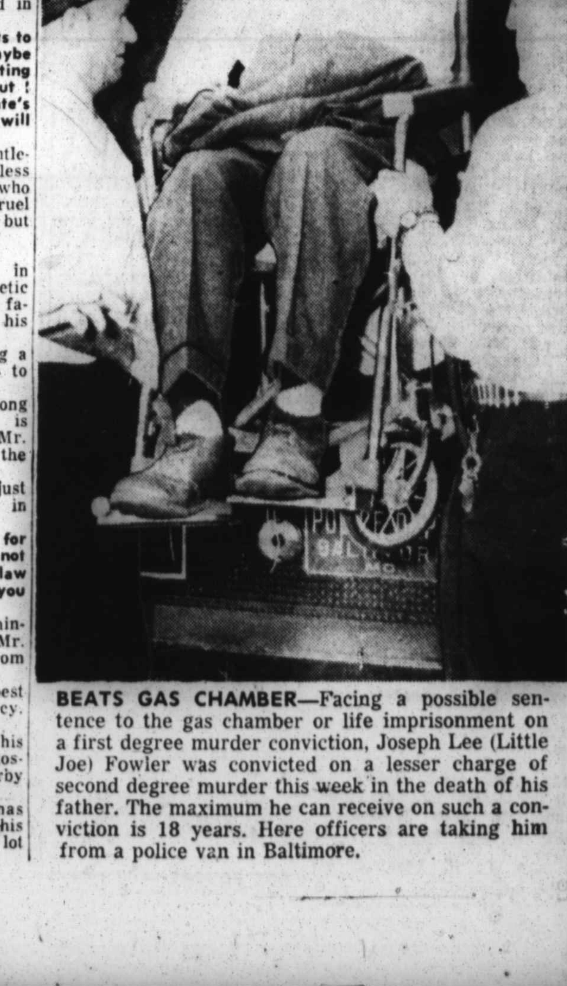
"Try to have compassion for what has happened and not just for the letter of the law as Mr. Murphy would have you believe."

Near the end of his 48-minute talk before the jury, Mr. Rosenthal quoted excerpts from Proverbs and stated:

"In case of doubt, it is best to lean to the side of mercy. Only man helps man."

MR. MURPHY opened his 26-minute rebuttal as Mr. Rosenthal was walking to a nearby water cooler. He said:

"All that Mr. Rosenthal has told you, as he goes to get his usual drink of water, is a lot of double talk.



BEATS GAS CHAMBER—Facing a possible sentence to the gas chamber or life imprisonment on a first degree murder conviction, Joseph Lee (Little Joe) Fowler was convicted on a lesser charge of second degree murder this week in the death of his father. The maximum he can receive on such a conviction is 18 years. Here officers are taking him from a police van in Baltimore.
