ALL FOR SAFETY — Children at the Cloverdale Playground are fascinated by this Purple People Eater who is taking part in a program designed to illustrate safety on the playground. The Eater, in short for Purple People Eater, is Geraldine Blake, 2556 Druid Hill Ave.

Years and times of "C. C." Jackson

The gregarious, lively ball of energy who frequents various City playgrounds is Clarence Channing (C.C.) Jackson, Northwestern District Supervisor of Playgrounds for the Department of Recreation.

Today (five months and four days before he reaches his 30th anniversary with that department), Mr. Jackson, has the same energy and love for his job that he did on his first day of work — Feb. 10, 1929.

At 57, he still cuts a dashing figure with his sharp features, glistening silver hair and his slender, quick and sturdy physique.

He has been at the Department of Recreation longer than any other supervisor.

* * *

A NATIVE of Tarrytown, N.Y., "C. C." came to Baltimore after graduating from Springfield College, Springfield, Mass. with a B.S. degree in physical education.

"I was a local athlete," (In Tarrytown) and I was encouraged by my coaches and teachers in school.

"I was trackman for the Alpha Physical Culture Club in addition to running for school."

Mr. Jackson says he never broke any records, but "competing on a high level and the satisfaction of being able to achieve was the thing that made me happy —more than winning."

"I just competed for the love of sport—although I did beat some I wasn't supposed to beat."

He added, "I was never a great athlete, but I tried to be a good one."

* * *

WHEN HE came to Baltimore to work, his position at the Department of Recreation was a "recreation leader for colored work."

In his present position as Northwestern District supervisor, Mr. Jackson directs and supervises activities in playgrounds and community centers in the entire area.

He provides training leaders in formulating and carrying out their programs, interprets the policies of the Department of Recreation for them and assists in leadership.

In addition to this, he has mounds of paper work on the desk of his second floor office at the Cathedral and Biddle St. office of the Department of Recreation.

Mr. Jackson shares the office with L. Clements Nixon, Theodore E. Brown and Harold J. Jennifer Jr., other supervisors.

"C. C." HAS a continually delightful, spicy personality which can be attributed to his general enthusiasm for the work he is doing.

Says Mr. Jackson, "I like my work'— I think all of us do. That's because this is such a virgin field."

On Baltimore's Department of Recreation, Mr. Jackson says, "Fortunately, we have one of the better set-ups in the country. First because we got off to a good organized start; because the people and supporters have helped and continually help us to grow and because of our splendid park system."

At home with his wife, (the former Miss Lucille Debose), "C. C." is the same active, alert chairman and he explains, "I have a million and one hobbies."

"I like to paint—in oil—make mosaics, furniture, lamps.."

To that he added that he liked television: "I'm still a opera worshipper" too. I like Matt Dillon ("Gunsmoke"), Paladin ("Have Gun Will Travel"), "Cheyenne," and the "Lone Ranger,"—but I don't get a chance to watch television often because I never know when I'll get off from work.

"In the Recreation Department, we work when other people are off."

However, Mr. Jackson loves the active life he leads and says: "I believe that when I retire I'll still have to be doing something—I want to retire at 62. Look at all the things I can do.

"Maybe I'll get the chance then to go to the Olympics—that's my life's ambition."

MR. JACKSON says he has never attended the Olympics because he could never get that much time off from work.

His trip there has been postponed beyond the 1960 games because he and his wife just moved into a new home at 2326 Longwood St., last October. They need time to enjoy the new home before running off to another country.

To show what a nice guy he is and how aware other people are of that, the Olympics came to him since he couldn't get to the Olympics.

Mr. Jackson modestly did not volunteer this information, but his office-mate, Mr. Nixon did —The recent American winners at the Olympics came to Mr. Jackson for moral encouragement before they left for the games.

Such a high price the athletes put on Mr. Jackson's encouragement, they used to win at the games, leaving Russia behind in the dust.

Mr. Jackson is a member of the National Board of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

"C. C." and his wife are the parents of two sons, "C. C." the third, and "D. D." (Douglas Debose).

"C. C." the third just finished Morgan State College as a mathematics major and is waiting for an appointment at Wetlighgase Air Arms in the fall.

"D. D" is Pfc. Jackson, stationed in Germany.

The other children Mr. Jackson considers his own are the ones who frequent the playgrounds in his district. The playgrounds and centers are:

Cloverdale Playground, Mrs. Lucille Sharp, center director and Walter Carr, leader.

Gilmor Recreation Center, Mrs. Erma Holland, senior center director; McAbee Playground, William Lampkin, leader and Mrs. Sedonia Powers, part-time leader;

McCulloh Recreation Center, School No. 122, Edward Richardson, senior center director; Mrs. Madelyne Futch and Leroy Jones, leaders;

School No. 138, Mrs. Sedonia Powers, part-time leader;

School No. 111, Mrs. Victoria Jones, leader;

Mrs. Jones is also leader at School 120;

* * *

NICHOLS PARK, Mrs. Ella Bailey and William G. Neal are part time leaders; Mace St. Playground, Mrs. Chicora Tucker, part time leader;

School No. 155, Delano Bryant, part time leader; School No. 60, Hankin Park, Mrs. Tina Parker, center director and Pasley Graham, leader;

School No. 144, Archie Lewis, part time leader; Bentalou Park, Glasco Catlin, part time leader; Orchard St. Playground, Miss Elva Reaves, part time leader;

Harlem Tot Lot, Mrs. Reaves, leader; Easterwood Park, Mrs. Marie Payne, center director and the Wilbur Waters Playground, Miss Mary Clark, part time leader.

Thirty more happy years to "C. C." Jackson!

Politics: Rough campaign forecast for 4th District

By MAX JOHNSON

If current rumors have a factual foundation, a rather nasty campaign is being readied in the Fourth District's race for General Assembly seats, by way of the November 4 general election.

These persistent rumors are alleging that several types of malicious efforts are under preparation for the particular purpose of un - seating State Senator Harry A. Cole, Republican incumbent.

This would allow, if realized, election of the district's, long-ruling Democratic faction candidate to this post.

THESE RUMORS are growing topic of discussion among many downtown politicians, is well as among some Democratic circles up in the Fourth District.

What appears to be in the making, shapes up something like this:

1. Somebody has conceived the idea of circulating a number - of cartoons of Senator Cole, depicting him in a servile manner under the dictates of a businessman "boss."

2. A campaign newspaper is under consideration, to offset any favorable expressions toward Senator Cole printed in the city's regulation newspapers.

Also, to try to explain why the district's Democratic ruling force's candidates should be elected.

3. Another newspaper is being considered — a one edition affair — as a last-minute clincher to turn the voters against Senator Cole.

TO ACCOMPLISH this, a near as lawfully allowed facsimile of the AFRO is being considered — a one edition affair — as a last-minute clincher to turn the voters against Senator Cole.

These are some of the more persistent rumors currently leaked from the weak links in political circles.

There are others under advance consideration, if the rumors are to be believed.

Such as scurrious throwaways that somebody may have slipped under front doors of homes.

More of the same tacked on posts. And some, boldly sent through the mails.

* * *

IT IS a foregone conclusion that no person, nor group of persons, will step forward and take credit for this planning— or action, if it materializes.

Nevertheless, many close observers are of the opinion these persistent rumors have a factual basis.

Much of this opinion can be realistically based on a second look at the recently recruited personnel of one Democratic group.

This includes persons who have handled such type of campaigning in the district in several past elections —for a monetary gain alone.

This is not conclusive toward casting suspicion on this particular group.

It is, however, a realization that these rumors forecast a fire - swinging campaign in the Fourth District.

Daniel Howard still critical

Daniel Howard, 30, 2900 block Westwood Ave., remained in critical condition in Lutheran Hospital on Thursday with a stab wound above his heart.

Mrs. Evelyn Mae Jones, 29, also of the 2900 block Westwood, has been charged with stabbing Mr. Howard and a hearing on the charge has been postponed at Pine Street Station until August 12.

Police said the stabbing took place in the bedroom of the Westwood apartment at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday.

In an investigation led by Lt. Paul Akra of Northwestern Police Station, a paring knife was found wrapped in a wet handkerchief beneath a pile of bed clothing, police said.

The temperature at the time this photo was made was 85 degrees. The weatherman promises no relief from the hot and humid weather this weekend. The youngster in distress is Audrey Smith. MRS. MILDRED McCULLEN

SEWELL — A tribute of love to the memory of our dear mother, REBECCA M. SEWELL, who passed away July 31, 1953:

Dear MAMA, you were the purest,
Sweetest, you even loved prettiest flower in the garden that evening.
But, God saw best to have you,
He picked you from among us,
And took you home to rest.
We will miss you always, yes, always,
But God knew best.
Loving Daughters,
RUTH GROSS
ETOLKA M. CARTER.
Chicago, Ill.

SNOWDEN — A birthday tribute to my dear husband, HERMAN G., on his birthday, August 1—passed away December 30, 1956:

Just a stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Will be filled by the voice, the love, the smile
Of no one who once sat there,
BELOVED WIFE,
ESSIE.

WALLACE — In loving memory of my dear husband, JAMES E. WALLACE, who passed away four years ago, July 31, 1954:

Gone but not forgotten,
LOVING DAUGHTER,
