Westside Eagles take Md. Unlimited crown

The Westside Eagles stood off a ninth inning rally by the Baltimore County champions to gain a 5-4 decision at Westport Stadium Sunday afternoon.

The victory enabled the Eagles to claim the Maryland unlimited League title.

LEADING, 5-2, after the fourth inning, the Westside nine appeared to be ready to coast home. But with one out in the final frame, the County champs came to life.

Back to back doubles by Winston and Glenn and an Eagle error resulted in two runs and put the tying run on base for the County team.

PARHAM CLOSED the door in the face of the visitors, however, by getting Burman on a foul out and fanning G. Evans.

Parham pitched a strong game for the Eagles, allowing only seven hits and striking out 14.

S. Knoles was the big gun for the losers, collecting four hits in as many at bats.

Althea in Quarter finals at 'Hills'

By SAM LACY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Althea Gibson, appearing well on the way to her second consecutive national women's title, entered the quarter-finals of the United States Lawn Tennis championships at the West Side Tennis Club today (Friday).

Miss Gibson reached the charmed bracket of eight via an easy, straight-set victory over Owen McHaney of Little Rock, Ark., on Thursday. The scores were 6-1, 6-1.

IN THE bracket with the 31-year-old Wimbledon double champion, however, are Christine Truman, whom Althea next meets, and Barbara Baker Fleitz, an old nemesis.

Miss Truman is the 17-year-old British girl who stunned the tennis world by upsetting Miss Gibson in the Wightman Cup matches in London in June. It was this setback that had much to do with America's first loss of the coveted cup in 28 years.

The case of Mrs. Fleitz is well known in tennis circles. In five previous meetings between the two, Barbara has whipped Althea four times. The last of these victories was recorded as recently as last spring in a Latin-American tournament.

DESPITE THE ominous presence of these girls in Althea's path, the smooth-stroking Harlemite is confident that she will repeat her triumph of last year here, and add a second American crown to the two she already has acquired at Wimbledon.

En route to the quarter-finals round, Miss Gibson took the measure of Carole Wright of Brooklyn, 6-1, 6-2, and Barbara Besigni of New York, 6-2, 6-1, before conquering Miss McHaney.

Miss Gibson and her partner, Kurt Neilsen of Denmark, also were well advanced in mixed doubles play. During the week they downed a team of Helene Weill of Fort Worth, Texas, and George Stoesser of Montclair, N.J., 6-2, 6-4.

STILL IN the championship competition here along with Althea, as of Thursday afternoon, was Dr. Reginald Weir of New York. Entered in the senior singles title play, Dr. Weir had survived to the quarter-finals by defeating Upshaw Moorehead of Rumson, N.J., 6-4, 6-3, and Clarence Chaffee, Williamston, Mass., 7-5, 6-0.

Other tan entries in the tourney did not fare so well. Edgar Lee of Washington, D.C., won his first senior division match, but was ousted in the second. After beating Joseph Lipshultz, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, Lee dropped a 7-5, 6-3 decision to Alexander Wellford.

ALSO ELIMINATED in an early round was Wilbert Davis, fresh from capturing the American Tennis Association crown at Central State College. Davis was thumped by Grant Golden of Evanston, Ill., in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Post Office title softy game Sunday

The championship softball game in the Baltimore Post Office league will be played Sunday afternoon at Druid Hill Park diamond No. 5, beginning at 2 p.m.

Opposing teams will be the Carroll Park Station and the Mailing Division, the latter managed by Charley Curtis.

Carroll Station has nominated Bill Braunschweiger as starting pitcher. He is one of two brothers on the club and with his brother, Jay, the pair has accounted for a 9-1 record on the mound.

FACING Braunschweiger on the hill will be Tom Fagan for the Mailers. Fagan shows a 3-1 mark for the season. Curtis, who also handles the hurling chores for Mailing, is unbeaten in five decisions for the year.

Both teams have real homerun threats in their linepu. The Carroll Station outfit is paced in the slugging department by third baseman Ed Hollenshade, and the Mailers depend for the long ball on rightfielder James Clark. Each has five circuits to his credit.

East again edge West

NEW YORK — A steal of home by Nat (Sweetwater) Clifton enabled the East to defeat the West for the second time in two weeks at Yankee Stadium last weekend.

Clifton's eighth inning theft on the plate gave the East a 6-5 victory in the New York version of the Negro American League's annual all-star game. Previously the East stars had downed the West, 4-3, at Comiskey Park, Chicago.

Clifton, who is best known for his play in the National Basketball Association, scored on a two-out double steal when Ozzie Tidmore, the West's second baseman, missed the tag on Charles Douglas WILLIE WASHINGTON of the West broke a 2-2 tie in the bottom of the fifth when he clouted a 450-foot homer, good for three runs, to right center field.

In the eighth, Clifton singled, sending Joe Ivory from first to third. Clifton moved to second on the throw attempting to cut down Ivory.

Ivory scored the tying run on a sacrifice fly by Gideon Jarvis, which also advanced Clifton to third. Douglas then walked to set up the steal.

Washingtonian 11th in 9-mile foot race

WASHINGTON

Joe Rouse, of 6410 H St. NE., finished 11th in a 9-mile run race recently at the Greenbelt (Md.) Recreation Center.

He represented the Baltimore Olympic Club.

The winner of the event was Browning Ross of the Penn Athletic Club.

Rouse is a former distance runner for Fairmont - Heights High School.

EX-DUCK NOW BULLET—Ed Amos, one-time star at Baltimore's Douglass High School and later at Hampton Institute, this week signed to play pro basketball. The 6-foot-5 sharpshooter is shown with owner Ed Malin of the Baltimore Bullets of the Eastern Pro League.

Queen's handshakeat Wimbledon long way from N.C. bus for Althea

NEW YORK — Althea Gibson was so hopeful that she would win at Wimbledon in 1957 that the first week she was in London she picked out a beautiful evening gown to wear to the ball and had worked out a speech in case she won.

She confesses this in the final installment of "I Wanted to be Somebody," in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

MISS GIBSON comments that the subsequent opportunity to wear the dress and deliver the speech were part of a wonderful day in her life, a long way from 143rd Street in Harlem.

The congratulatory handshake from Queen Elizabeth, she finds, was also a long way from being forced to sit in the colored section of the bus going into downtown Wilmington, N.C.

And dancing with the Duke of Kent at the Wimbledon Ball, she says, was a long way from not being allowed to bowl in Jefferson City, Mo., because the white customers complained about it.

Miss Gibson says that the luxurious living she enjoys on the tennis circuit disappears when she gets home to her New York City apartment.

She relates that she can't afford it and has to be real miserly about things like food, entertaining and recreation. She says she does save a little from her tennis expense allowance and earns $75 a month as a consultant to the Harry C. Lee sporting-goods company. And her singing has begun to bring in a little money.

"I HAVE no lofty, overpowering ambition," Miss Gibson concludes. "All I want is to be able to play tennis, sing, sleep peacefully, have three square meals a day, a regular income and no worries

"I think I've already got the main thing I've always wanted, which is to be somebody, to have identity. I'm Althea Gibson, the tennis champion. I hope it makes me happy."

Clowns take Hawks 10-1, before 4,000

By GEORGE LYLE JR.

PHILA. (NNPA)—A missed third strike with two away resulted in three runs scoring and a successful theft of second base that wound up at home plate.

A pitcher who threw to lefthanders with his left hand and to righties with his right, all were part of the game played at Connie Mack Stadium Friday night when the Indianapolis Clowns thrashed the Los Angeles Hawks, 10-1, before 4,000.

GRAND GREENE, the ambidextrous hurler, pitched the first two innings, facing seven batters, fanning three before he was lifted for a southpaw (orthodox) who went the rest of the game, striking out 11.

The hapless Hawks had a rough evening. They committed six errors afield; were ineffectual at the plate and more nearly deserved the title of Clowns.

Bill McDaniels tallied the first run for the Clowns as he singled to right to start the game, scoring on Philly's Byron Purnell's double against the right field fence.

Purnell scored when "Nature Boy" Williams singled over second.

In the third, Curtis Barnes, given a free pass, stole second and came all the way home on Herminio Caret's wild peg to the keystone sack.

Then came the seventh. Bobby Adams singled, Williams struck out, Johnny Gray was held at third by Nat Haywood's throw.

Roy Mabrey flied out to Joe Cherry in right and Russ Moseley walked to load the bases.

Pitcher Bill Tatum was struck out by Barnett but Cavet dropped the third strike and, as Tatum legged it down to first, heaved the ball into right field. All three runners came home.

TWO MORE tallies came across in the eighth while the Hawks got their lone score in top half of the eighth as Cal Michael drew a pass and scored on Haywood's drive to deep center.

In the opening game of the twin bill, the Sandlot Sports Association's All-Star Golds defeated the Blues 4-1.
