GIANTS VERSUS COLTS:

turf Sunday.

ALTOGETHER, 13 colored gridders will be involved in the pre-season actions. The Colts will use seven and the Giants six.

Included in the Baltimore aggregation are the old standby halfbacks, Lenny Moore and Milt Davis; the brilliant defensive tackle, Gene Lipscomb; sophomore lineman Jim Parker, and the three rookies—Sample, Plunkett and halfback Len Lyles.

SPORTING New York uniforms in addition to Brown are Emlen Tunnell, Roosevelt Grier, Me Triplett, Jack Spinks and Charley Gavin.

Tunnell is the veteran all-league safety man, who has never missed a Pro Bowl selection in his 11 years in the National Football League.

Grier was an all-pro defensive tackle before entering the service two years ago. Triplett is in his third year at fullback for the Giants and Spinks is working on his second season at guard.

Gavin, junior member of the contingent, is a promising candidate for guard slot.

3-headed 'worry wart' plagues Hurt, Bears

A triple-jointed problem is causing some concern in the camp of the Morgan State College Bears as they make ready for the upcoming Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association football season.

Coach Eddie Hurt, finishing out the second of two scrimmages he ordered for Wednesday, revealed that he and his assistants are trying to devise means of combating the following weaknesses:

(1) An unusually small squad of only 32 men, (2) the shortage of capable ends, and (3) the lack of quarterback support.

According to Hurt, there isn't much to be done about the first item, the size of the squad, and the second and third items appear to be a long way from elimination.

"We just didn't get any more boys," the Bear mentor told the AFRO. "We're at 32, with a couple more solid men yet to report, and that looks like it.

"Bobby Gordon and William White will be getting in this weekend," Hurt continued, "and that will bring us up to what looks like our total for the season."

Gordon was halfback mainstay with the Bears the last two seasons. His mother has been seriously ill and he notified the school that he would be late reporting. White, a holdover guard, suffered a sprained ankle during the summer and also delayed his return to the campus.

"THERE IS one bright aspect in connection with a small group," Hurt observed. "Although it means we'll be weak in reserves, it also means we have a chance for a stronger first eleven.

"With fewer boys to teach, the coaches can devote more time to each individual. It produces better results all around insofar as the personnel you have is concerned. But you don't get much help when you suffer from injuries.

"That's why all our scrimmages are going to be 'controlled' work — with quick whistle and no unnecessarily rough contact. We can't afford to have anyone hurt before the season begins."

HURT AND his aides—Marse Hill Ken Brown and Brutus Hill, Ken Brown and Brutus Wilson—s-ent considerable time during the week looking at their end prospects.

"We're still a little weak there," admitted Hurt.

Indications are that Don Hart, one of the three Bear co-captains, has the inside track for one of the starting wing berths, with a four-way battle on for the other assignment.

Right in the middle of this scramble is a freshman, Jack McLain, who hails from Union, N.J. Also in the thick of the fight is a sophomore, Al Cunningham, who despite his size, boasts good hands and otherwise is a capable operator.

Jim Utley, best known at Morgan as a swimming star, is also showing good form at the open flank, and so is John Manning, a former Douglass High School luminary.

THE WORRIES at quarterback center around the absence of an adequate replacement for Jack Dennis. Lloyd Evans, an alert student with a knack of handling play situations, is holding down the No. 2 slot behind Dennis at the moment.

However, if Dennis, who does most of the punting and placekicking, were to be lost for any length of time, the Golden Bears would be in deep trouble. There is nobody, aside from Evans, who is showing any sign of developing into a class player at the position.

Ex-Morgan cager among trio signed by pro five

Coach Buddy Jeannette swelled his Baltimore Bullets to seven members today when he added Aaron Johnson, former Morgan State cager; Jerry Nudo, Baltimore Junior College's scoring champion, and Mount St. Mary's Joe Sullivan to his Eastern League training camp roster.

Nudo, who averaged 19.6 and 19.3 in his two seasons at Junior College, figures to be the smallest candidate in camp, but the five-foot-seven sharpshooter can pop the ball, is very fast, alert and aggressive. He favors long one handers as his best shot.

SULLIVAN filled a workhorse role his four varsity campaigns at Mount St. Mary's. Never a prolific scorer, the six-foot-three left-hander was a pretty tough runner in the clutch, however, bagging 19 to rally his mates against Baltimore U. and 18 to spill Loyola College last season.

He is adept at two-hand set, which he has been sharpening his native Washington's outdoor leagues this summer, and jumps well for his size to score on follow-up shots. Sullivan many times drew the No. 1 defensive assignment for the Mounts and also feeds well.

JOHNSON, who can move inside or drop back to score with an accurate one hander, averaged 17 points his two years for Morgan and last year was the big gun for Baltimore's Post Office five, and three times earned most valuable player awards while gaining valuable cage experience in the Air Force.

Although at that time fresh out of Douglass High School here, the six-foot-four Johnson twice picked up player prizes at Robins Air Force Base, Ga., again in Itazuki, Japan, made the all-Southeast Air Force Command team and filled an important role with Andrews' service champions.

New recreation floor dedicated at Gilmor

The Gilmor Homes Community Center dedicated its new top floor on Wednesday.

On the floor are two game rooms, an ultra modern lounge and an office for the recreation personnel.

Warren Weaver, manager of the Gilmor Homes, served as master of ceremonies at the dedication.

Platform guests were Mrs. Pearl Brackett, principal of School No. 108; Father M. Conerly, of St. Gregory's Catholic Church; Franklin Hochrieter, member of the community organization committee, Edgar Ewing; L. S. Eashe, Deputy Director of Housing Renewal; James Gilliam; Oliver C. Winston, Director of the Urban Renewal and Housing Agency; Mrs. Lena K. Lee, member of Urban Renewal Commission; Harry Weise, director of management, Housing Authority, and Gordon Levanworth.

APPROXIMATELY 200 people attended the dedication services held in the center's auditorium, which has been newly renovated.

Mrs. Erma Holland, director of the community center, said the two game rooms will be divided up to serve many purposes.

One of the large game rooms is separated by a partition, dividing the room into a tot room which will be used for tots' activities, and space for arts and crafts activities.

The other game room will be used for young people, with ping-pong tables, card tables, and other activities available for their use.

The center will serve all of the public schools in the surrounding areas.

OTHER GUESTS present in the audience were Mrs. Verda Welcome, candidate for the House of Delegates, and C. C. Jackson and Harold Jennifer of the recreation department.

Also present were many of the teachers and parents from the community.

Morgan Alumni golf meet set

The first annual closed golf tournament sponsored by the M. J. Naylor Chapter of the Morgan State College Alumni Association, will be held Saturday Sept. 27, at the Carroll Park course.

The 27-hole, medal play affair will get under way at 9 a.m., with three trophies offered as prizes in each of three flights.

The tourney is being directed by Embra C. Bowie at Morgan, who advises that all alumni of the school are eligible. Final entry date is Sunday (14th). Official scorer will be Walter Stewart, pro at Carroll Park.

One of the trophies has been put up by Sen. Harry A. Cole. Others have been placed in competition by H. G. Parks, local business man; the Charles R. Laws Mortuary, the Brown, Allen and Watts law firm, and the General Alumni Association.

Among entries already listed are the following: Roy Craigway, Paul Smith, Dean George C. Grant, Dr. Claude Hill, Dr. J. Laws Nickens, Dr. Simon Carter, W. Emerson Brown Jr., Dr. Raymond Gray, Dr. Clyde Dillard, James Spencer, John Staten, Ernest Brown, Clarence Maiden and David Driver.

Anthony-McBride return bout set for Baltimore

The newly-formed Civic Boxing Club of this city has landed a return-match between Tony Anthony of New York, leading contender for the Light-heavyweight title, and Archie McBride, Trenton, N.J. "spoiler" for its inaugural attraction at the Coliseum on Friday October 3.

Anthony and McBride fought a thriller that was nationally televised on September 3, at Syracuse, N.Y.

AT THE END of the 10 rounds, one judge voted for Anthony the other decided in favor of McBride, and the referee called it even—forcing him to call on the point system. He gave McBride 5 points and Anthony 7; and under the New York scoring system Anthony was declared the winner.

The decision was greeted with a storm of boos.

McBRIDE went into the fight a 3 to 1 underdog. He figured to be the fifth victim on Anthony's "hit" parade towards a match for the heavyweight title.

Tony had flattened his last four opponents in impressive fashion but Archie refused to play the straight man this time. He took Anthony's best shots, and although knocked down two times he tore back viciously on each occasion, and at the end appeared to be the fresher and stronger of the two.

THE FIGHTERS and their respective managers vigorously protested the controversial decision, and each demanded an early rematch.

The Civic Boxing Club of Baltimore was able to land the return-match for its opening show by successfully outbidding the Syracuse promoter, who was also anxious to restage this gruelling battle.

Carver light but very fast

Carver High School, completing her second week of drills, figures to enter a light but speedy team in the 1958 Maryland Scholastic Association football race.

Coach Sodie White on Thursday afternoon, appeared disturbed more by the absence of weight than by the fact that he is working with a squad loaded down with inexperienced boys.

THE PURPLE mentor has only four holdovers from last year's varsity eleven, which means that the remaining 21 of his squad of 25 are youngsters up from the junior varsity ranks.

"They are all hard workers, and they all love to play the game," White mused. "But I'm not sure whether it's going to be quite enough.

"Our line is going to average around 165 pounds and that is quite an edge to be giving other schools. Patterson and Poly, for example, are expected to hit a 190-pound average in the line. You can't ignore 25 pounds per man.

"SOME OF the advantage will be eliminated by our speed," White added. "We're fast all right, but I still don't now."

Carver holdovers are Ray Coward, center; George Rogers, guard; George Jackson, fullbkack, and Lester Wright, halfback.

Clowns end season with double win over Hawks

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — A double victory over their touring counterpart, the Los Angeles Hawks, ended the season for Syd Pollock's world-champion Indianapolis Clowns here last week.

The Clowns chalked up 8-5 and 6-4 wins over the Pacific Coast champs, paced by the hitting of first baseman Natureboy Williams, outfielder Byron Purnell and catcher Johnny Gray. The team's big guns produced over half the runs in each tilt and were credited with several brilliant plays afield.

Earlier in the week, at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., the Clowns battled to a 13-inning 0-0 deadlock with a leading professional club.

Prior to the Poughkeepsie game, they defeated Lefty Vann's Upland Giants of the Delco League (Chester, Pa.), 7-2, and on August 29, whitewashed the Hawks, 10-2, at Connie Mack Stadium, Philadelphia.

Teens turning to tennis, traveling

By PORTIA SMITH

The tennis craze took Baltimore by storm this summer. The Baltimore Racquet Club has many interested and talented teens as members. Among them are Bernard Caesar, Tommy Queen, Arthur Waters, Kenny Bowman, Bobby Stovall, Paula Lawson, Sally Robinson, Eleasor Pearson and Marian Yarborough.

Tommy Queen represented the Baltimore Racquet Club at the tennis tournaments in Washington and Philadelphia this summer. He won both of the Junior Singles trophies in those places.

Portia Smith

The Baltimore teens rubbed shoulders with such tennis stars as Althea Gibson, George Stewart, Billy Davis, Wilbur Jenkins, Joe Williams and Gwen McEvans.

The teens of Baltimore, like everyone else, are looking for part-time jobs that won't interfer with their school work. Let us know if you know of any good jobs available for teenagers. We shall certainly try to find a qualified teenager to fill the position.

PARTIES NEED something new to pep them up. Write us about your original idea. Your idea might make an otherwise dull party interesting and fun.

Plans for Time Phratria's Blue Mist Ball are progressing rapidly. It is to be an invitational affair at the Morgan State Christian Center on Sept. 13.

Jimmy Smith's Band will furnish the music, and Mr. George Berrick will display his artistic talents through the decorations.

BALTIMOREANS traveled many miles this summer. From sunbathing in Oak Bluffs, Mass. to watching bullfights in Mexico, you could find our teens. Every trip was both a pleasure and an experience.

Lloyd and Craig Newton win our praises as the most travelled teen in town. They have been to 42 states plus Canada, Mexico, and Bermuda.

Many of us this summer worked and became weekend travelers. Quite a few teens held jobs as camp counselors this year. The Baltimore YWCA employed teens as counselors this past summer.

THE OTHER night at a sound session, Ahmad Jamal's "But Not for Me" really walked. The former unknown has another hit in his newest album, "Count 'em 88".

Johnny Mathis, who had such a successful appearance at the Carter-Baren Amphitheater in Washington, has a new album "Swinging Softly."

Leroy Hawthorne and I had an interesting talk the other day about jazz with me doing most of the listening. His enthusiasm for Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie, Bud Powell, Max Roach, and Charlie Migus is for real. All of his favorites swing on an old cut called "Jazz at Massey Hall."

Leroy couldn't find words to praise this old cut with the late Charlie Parker executing his runs like a true master. "Night in Tunisa," "Perdido," and "All the Things You Are" are really terrific. Leroy describes this LP as being just too much.

KID ADAMS' beach party on the 30 of August was a roaring success. Nina Adams stepped out in a strawberry print creation by Lee. Short, short shorts were also in evidence on Roslyn Johnson.

Tony Pierce and Paula Pechou of D.C. were present also.

COLLEGE BOUND: Marvin Johnson is looking forward to Orientation Week at St. John's College in Annapolis.

Anita Briscoe, Anastacia Phillips, Lynda Hall, and Pamela Russell will live the life along with studying at Howard University this fall.

John Brent and Luther Blackwell will study at the Maryland Institute of Fine Arts and the University of Maryland respectively.

Yvonne Smith and Freddie Hill will both be at George Washington University in September.

Morgan State will get from the Baltimore public schools James White, Sheila Chapman, and Saundra and Sonia Reynolds.

Arthur Padmore and Sue Brown of Washington will be attending Brown University and Glendale College in Iowa.

BJC welcomes Nathaniel Gay, Edith Veney and Betty Williams.

A. B. Talbot of Monrovia, Liberia, will go to Oberlin College this month. Ann Todd will be in Ohio also at Antioch College.

Howard Neal is transferring to Lincoln University while Norman Brailey and Leroy Carroll will attend the University of Maryland.

Western High School graduates Carol St. Clair and Veronlia Jackson will study at the Institute of Notre Dame and Coppin State Teachers College.

Mary Ellen Jones was confirmed last Sunday at the St. James Episcopal Church. Mary, socially prominent in Baltimore and Washington and a resident of Allendale Road, was dressed in white for that very special occasion.

THE COMEDY CLUB is the new hideaway for jazz enthusiasts. True only cokes are served, but who worries about the drinks when you hear such terrific music. Why don't you stop down one Saturday evening between three and five? Chaperones are present.

Aakota Staton will be appearing soon at the Club, and that promises to be a big day.

SCHOOL AND those of us in it are back to normal again. On every side you hear the "hello's" and "where have you been's!" It's really a wonderful feeling because then you realize that you did miss school just a little.

It's even fun starting the new French class, and every would-be-Frenchman can be heard saying, "C'est le vie."

That enthusiastic attidue that I have heard in some school halls is good and promises a good school year.

Canadian elevens, 3 tan players, in Philly Sun.

PHILADELPHIA

The Hamilton Tiger-Cats, champions of Canadian professional football, will meet the Ottawa Roughriders in a Canadian League game at Municipal Stadium, Sunday.

At least three outstanding tan players will see action in the contest, two with the champs and one with Ottawa.

The Tiger-Cat lineup will have Ralph Goldston and Eddie Macon at halftacks, and the Roughriders will feature Frank Fraser at a running slot.

Fraser, a native Canadian, is a graduate of Tennessee State University. He is considered one of Canada's finest running backs.

Hamilton Coach Jim Trimble has a backfield of Goldston, who played under him with the Philadelphia Eagles; Skip Giancanelli, fleet halfback who also spent several campaigns with the Eagles; Macon, ex-Chicago Bears backfield ace; Jack Davis, ex-Washington Redskins' guard, and Tony Curcillo, onetime Chicago Cardinals' back.

OTTAWA, selected as the foe for the Canadian champions both as league runnerup and as the team representing Canada's capital city, is coached by Frank Clair, former Ohio State and professional league end.

Hamilton won the Grey Cup, emblematic of Canada's national crown, by whipping Winnipeg, the Canadian Western titlist. Winnipeg, incidentally, was coached by Bud Grant, who played for Trimble with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Patterson opens cafe in Brooklyn

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (ANP) — Floyd Patterson, world heavyweight champion, entered a new type of business this week — the sea food restaurant business.

The restaurant, known as the Patterson Sea Food Restaurant, is being operated jointly by Floyd and his older brother, Sonny. Initial capital for the business has been reported as about $9,000.

Borough President John Cashmere, Sugar Ray Robinson and Archie Moore were among the celebrities who participated in the formal opening.

Say Althea nixed $23,000 singing bid

NEW YORK (ANP) — Althea Gibson, Wimbledon and U.S. national women's singles tennis champion, reportedly turned down a $23,000 offer by a Las Vegas showman for a three week singing engagement.

The offer came as a result of her appearance on "The Ed Sullivan Show" recently.

According to her attorney, Earle Warren Zaidins, Miss Gibson rates amateur tennis first.

Mays, Mantle in post-season game

NEW YORK — A post-season game between the Mickey Mantle All Stars and the Willie Mays All Stars will be played at Yankee Stadium Oct. 12 following the last game of the World Series, it was announced here Monday.

At a joint press conference at Toots Shor's Mays revealed that he had selected 14 National League players for his team, while Mantle has a similar number from the junior circuit to compose his all stars.

Mag sees 3 likely tan All-Americans

WASHINGTON, D.C. (ANP) — John Devaney, sports editor of Parade magazine, has picked three colored gridiron stars as possible All-American players.

They are Ted Bates, tackle, Oregon State; John Wooten, guard, Colorado; and big Don Clark, halfback, Ohio State.

Union grid squad is small, but fast

RICHMOND

With the beginning of the football season almost at hand, the Virginia Union University Panthers' 1958 squad will be small again this year.

With football practice just two weeks away, Coach Thomas Harris said "the squad will be very small this year, around 25 men, but they have the 'stuff' for a fast, hard-hitting team."

"We will give it everything Union tradition," be added. Union tradition", be added.

COACH HARRIS said that there is a bright side of the picture because of the return of several top players from last year's team. These include fullback Theodore Bacote, halfback Chris McGlone, and tackle Albert Thomas.

Other returning veterans include ends Joh Martin and Alex Harris; tackles Charles Harris and John Lamb;

Guards Sterling Paige, William Parker, Robert Mine and Waverely Williams; quarterbacks Milton Marshall and Robert Dalton;

Halfbacks John Irving and Jack Bryant; fullback Eugene Mallory.

Ends Anthony Johnson, Charles Simpson and tackle Robert Lewis will be sophomore starters this season.

THE PANTHERS will open an eight-game schedule against Bluefield State College at Bluefield, W. Va. on Sept. 20

They will go without the help of halfback Hezekiah Braxton and quarterbac Chuck Robinson who will not be in school this year. Guards Frank Pinkston, Richard Joseph and William Powell all graduated in June.

Coach Harris stated that it will be sometime around the middle of September before he would announce newcomers to the 1958 squad. But he did indicate that it would be a big surprise.

3 key men absent as Rattlers prep

TALLAHASSEE — A squad of 77 players reported for opening practice for the Florida A. and M. University Rattlers here last week.

The group included 20 lettermen, 27 veterans from last year, and 30 yearlings, said Coach Jake Gaither. Quarterback Sammy Moss, halfback Willie Elliott, and tackle Frank Merchant will not be back this fall.

Elliott and Merchant were lost due to scholastic deficiencies. No reason was disclosed for Moss' failure to return this year. Fullback Olious Barker and center Sylvester Williams are expected back but have not returned.

Stellar supporting bouts on Matthews-Tibbs card

PHILADELPHIA

Five bouts are on the supporting card for the Len Matthews — Tommy Tibbs ten-round bout at the Arena on Friday, Sept. 12, as signed by Promoter Herman Taylor.

Steve Ward, of Hartford, Conn., will swap punches with Jethro Cason of Philadelphia, in the semi.

Ward is the durable lightweight who lasted less than nine rounds against the explosive Matthews before becoming his 12th knockout victim in 13 pro fights.

THIS NATIONALLY televised bout was held at St. Nick's in New York early in August.

Cason, in his last bout, defeated Boland Abrams, of Philadelphia at Connie Mack Stadium in June. Cason has received his Army draft call, but says he may not be called to service for a month or two.

Taylor believes he has come up with a "natural" in a featherweight bout that pits John Patrick Britt against Jackie Lennon.

Britt has just passed his entrance exams for Temple University where he starts matriculating this Fall for a BS degree in journalism.

He has had one pro fight since winning the National AAU featherweight championship in Boston last April. He knocked out Jose Santos in the third round at the Cambria on May 16.

A welterweight bout brings together Robert Cofer, of Philadelphia, and Ernie Roberts of New York.

Local talent also gets the call in a middleweight scrap that pairs Von Clay against Al Avant.

Leightweights Carl Hubbard, of Philadelphia, and Paul Lee, of Hartford, Conn., will clash in the opening bout of the six-scrap card.

Matthews will be gunning for his 14th straight victory. At the Nonpareil Gym, he works out daily at 5:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

His two sparring mates are Norm Young and J. D. Ellis, who have helped condition him for his recent other fights.
