Mother, 21, Proud of Her Five Sons

mother. "I'll tell you. I'm very proud of my children! Ernest and I are working hard so that all of them will get a good education and grow up to be somebody."

With youthful exuberance, Mrs. Rich is up each morning at 6 a.m. to prepare breakfast for her 25-year-old husband, who is a shipyard worker. Then, comes the dressing and feeding of the children.

This is no monotonous routine to her.

"I like caring for my family. It's no trouble to me," she declared. Then, she admitted another aim in life "growing up" together. To have a girl . . . for company's sake!

Come From Large Families

Both of the young parents come from large families and they seem destined to carry on the tradition. She is one of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrett with whom she resides at 1515 Riggs Ave. The father, a native of Florence, S.C., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rich, comes from a family of seven children.

Sunday will be a day of mutual pride in the Rich family as they look forward to a long and happy life together.

'Corvette K-225' at New Albert

"Frontier Badmen" Also Shares Same Program

The Battle of the Atlantic, said to be depicted in its full and actual violence, is dramatized in "Corvette K-225," now playing the New Albert Theatre.

The release tells the first screen story of the valiant men who believed to be the most effective U-Boat destroyers of World War II.

Randolph Scott is one of the stars. He appears in the role of a Canadian Naval Commander, portrayal described as heroically two-fisted. James Brown, Barry Fitzgerald, Robert Mitchum and Ella Raines are others in the unusually large cast which also features Thomas Gomez and Richard Lane.

Stark, wild-west action with rattle stampedes and gunfights is to be found in the melodramatic thriller, "Frontier Badmen," starring this week's program and dealing with the perils encountered by pioneer cattlemen along the old Chisholm Trail.

Robert Paige and Ann Gwynne have the leading roles and an imposing cast includes Noah Beery Jr., and Diana Barrymore.

UN Deadlocked Over Ex-Italian Colonies

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (NNPA)—After 41 countries spoke in the United Nations General Assembly Political Committee last week on the disposition of Italy's former African colonies, so many different viewpoints were before the UN delegates that it looked certain that no one plan could muster the required two-thirds majority.

To avoid this indicated deadlock, an Arabian-Latin American coalition began in midweek to try to work out a compromise. It called for five powers—the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Egypt—to take over the administration of Lybia. Italian Somaliland would be awarded as a trusteeship to Ethiopia and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Amanda Randolph Sets Televe Fad

NEW YORK (ANP) — Amanda Randolph, who is starring in her own program on the DuMont Television network, is introducing a new idea to television. She had Etta Moten, widely known concert and stage personality, as a guest last Friday.

Miss Randolph has an ambitious program in the matter of presenting colored leaders on television. Miss Moten was her first guest but she hopes to follow with outstanding people in the fields of education, social service, literature and religion. She believes that television can help rid the world of intolerance.

"Through television," she says, "colored and white people can come to a better understanding."

Jordan Presenting Top Entertainment at Royal

Enlarged Band, plus Paula Watson, Will Mastin Trio, and Others, in Prize Package

Louis Jordan, presenting what is termed the best musical show of his career, opened today (Friday) at the Royal Theatre in a new role of em cee, singer and band leader.

As the saying goes Jordan improves with age and during the seven years that he's been a stellar attraction he has set a pace in pictures, on records and in personal appearances that is untouchable. Each year he has put out a new Brand of humor and wit, via Decca records that has made him a consistent jukebox favorite.

In his new revue are Paula Watson, Sammy Davis, the Will Mastin trio, a dance combo: Sammy Hinds and Eddie and the Los Gatos Trio. Playing for the show is Jordan's enlarged band of nine top-flight musicians, featuring Billy Hodnott on bass.

Made 'Lil Bird' Famous

Six months ago in Los Angeles Miss Watson was a $50-a-week singing pianist until she recorded for Supreme Records a tune titled "A Little Bird Told Me." From then, on her star began to rise and with Jordan's plugging and featuring her on his current tour she's become a first-rate artist.

Paula Watson, Sammy Davis and Louis Jordan will make the following radio appearances today, Saturday and Sunday:

Miss Watson and Davis, today, WBMD, at 11 a.m.

Jordan, tonight, WITH, 7:30.

Miss Watson, Sat., WCAO, 11:30 a.m.

Davis, Sat., WBAL, 11:30 a.m.

Watson, Davis, Sat., WAAM, 4:30 p.m.

Miss Watson, Sun., WITH, 11:30 p.m.; Chuck Richards' program.

In show business for over two decades the Mastin Trio gives a fine performance of dancing while the Gatos Loco group acrobatics will stand your hair on end.

On the screen is "Manhattan Angel," starring 11-year-old Toni Harper, Columbia recording and picture star.

Maryland's First Interracial Symphony in Sunday Concert

The Baltimore Allied Civic Orchestra, the first interracial symphony group in the State of Maryland, will present its first concert on Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the social hall in the YM and YWHA, 305 W. Monument St.

The orchestra is sponsored jointly by the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts, YWCA and the YM and YWHA and is open to any amateur musician who plays an orchestral instrument.

Appearing as soloist with the orchestra will be Miss Shakeh Vartinigian, gifted Syrian soprano, who is a scholarship student at Peabody. Miss Vartinigian earned the right to appear with the orchestra as winner of the YM and YWHA vocal auditions for 1949.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert which is being held under the auspices of the YM and YWHA Committee of which Mrs. Joseph Sherbow is chairman.

Showing at the Royal

Toni Harper, 11-year-old 'Candy Store Blues" wonder child of song who has thrilled millions with her Columbia records and pictures, is playing in "Manhattan Angel," currently on screen at the Royal Theatre along with the footlight revue headed by Louis Jordan and a stellar array of stars.

Tops Feature Program at the Met

William Lundigan, above, in a scene from State Department-File 649," now playing the Met Theatre.

"State Department-File 649," "Apartment for Peggy" at Met

The first motion picture ever to be made with the full co-operation and approval of the U.S. State Department is "State Department — File 649," the Film Classics production starring William Lundigan and Virginia Bruce is currently playing the Met Theatre for one week.

"State Department — File 649" was placed before Hollywood cameras after exhaustive research covering a period of two years, and consultations with representatives of the State Department in Washington.

Many of the important sequences in this exciting drama were actually shot in the nation's capital and used various points of intense national interest as background.

Most of the action of the film takes place in Mongolia, where a member of our Foreign Service played expertly by William Lundigan, comes into dramatic conflict with a Chinese warlord out to loot the country.

Virginia Bruce portrays a member of the same service active in moral work. The nature of both acting assignments is such as to require unusually exacting performances from both Miss Bruce and Lundigan.

In an exciting change of pace, Jeanne Crain plays the delightfully uninhibited, fast-talking and determined wife of a student veteran in "Apartment for Peggy," the co-feature, a Twentieth Century-Fox Technicolor production.
