Gateway to Gayway

By GEORGE D. TYLER

NOTE: Our guest of the week — Roy Jones, prop of the Rideaway Cafe.

After enjoying "Anna Lucasta" we visited the SPHINX to be entertained with pictures made during "Old Times" Night and the Mardi Gras. "Doc" Woingust, as narrator, gave the intros some humorous twists. Eddie the Orleans St operator, Joe Mazor, OLDE MILL, and Levin of the RIGGS, also in the audience.

Commenting on customer vs waitress, Roy says: "It was remarkable how Mrs. Mary Burns florist, reacted when a glass of water was accidentally spilled on her." Mrs. Burns was enjoying herself with Mrs. Louise Robbins Williams and Mr. Williams, who formerly designed and sold hats here. Proving that people are funny — even the Monday night downpour failed to hurt the biz at GAMBY'S. The barmaids were very picturesque with their pigtails and pinafores, while the boys paraded in blue jeans and straw hats. "Old Home Week" wasn't bad.

Mays Held Over

Betti Mays and her combo will be held over at the stellar attraction of the COMEDY musical bar . . . The 10-12 is getting set to observe "Apple Blossom Week." Walter Rose announces that beginning May 15, the Madison Ave. rendezvous will be plenty groovy with contests, music, entertainment and crowning of "Queen of the Apple Blossoms." Musicians Local No. 543 will spin its annual "parade of bands" at the Elks Home Tuesday night with about 20 large and small combos participating . . . Ray Chambers, pianist-Solovoxist, has returned to PHIL'S rendezvous.

Ozzie Kimball's sister is at SMITH'S as barmaid . . . Wilbur Phillips' Links musical bar feature Tuesday through Sunday.

Who's This Guy Mex?

Mex, of ye VILMA, has worn this tag so long that few recognize his real tah which is Edward Prater . . . Coincidentals. When we say EDS and SAM'S, we immediately think of Edward Guider and Samuel Stewart. A case where the managers' first names are the same as the props. EDS offers fine service by Audrey Lain, while Jenny Wheeler continues to dish it out at the latter . . . Roy says: "We look forward to participating in the 'Clean Tavern Campaign.' We should feel proud that of all the taverns penalized for unsanitary conditions we only had one."

Bus Green, who whips a wicked combo new type drum at the Spot, joined Bill Swindell's all-stars to pep up "Home Town Week" . . . Harold Bevans, the guy that toots a hot sax, warbles, dances and emcees, can be heard at JONES'S each Tuesday nite . . . Peaches Webb, newest member of the Bevy crew, does the chirping and drum tanning while there is nitery turns by the all-stars featuring Jay (Bass) Evans . . . Mary Ann Foley vacationing this week leaving the ORLEANS on the quieter but no less active side.

Prop Bennie Cohen introduced one of those new Hudson supers to Gay Street this week . . . He be the guest of George Morton at the KNOTTY PINE and enjoy our per T-V entertainment and be-boy by Sam Taylor's orchestra.

Former Waitress Buried

Marion Jefferson, former waitress at Sam's and the Ubangi, was buried last week . . . Orgie Kimball, sugar, up and out . . . Royalettes annual formal night (Friday) at Odd Fellows Hall . . . Dave Hubbard, Northeastern district, my idea of a neat cop . . . Both of Roy Jones's bartenders newly proud poppers . . . Pete and Mary Jolly Spot operators, still seeking location to raise their license . . . Kitty Bass, the charming Preston barmaid, a newlywed.

Monroe, former bartender at the Old Leland, has replaced Roy at the FROLIC, joining hands with Razz. Rudy, proving what the efficient manager should be like, won heaps of praise from members of the "Anna Lucasta" show who wined and dined here as his guests last week.

Democratic Club Hears Councilman

William J. Muth, vice-president of the City Council, told members of the Citizens Democratic Club, Wednesday, that he is strongly in favor of colored citizens having equal representation in this city's government.

The Councilman added that he was willing to lend his assistance to help bring this about. The meeting was held at the York Hotel.

Mr. Muth also stated that there are various political leaders throughout the city who have been used as temporary quarters pending the selection of a permanent club house.

Meeting Launches New Program

Dr. Bernard Harris, vice-president of the club, introduced Mr. Muth, calling him one of the City Council's most independent thinkers.

Lloyd Randolph, club president, pointed out that the appearance of Mr. Muth as guest speaker launches a new program for the organization, which calls for an outstanding personality at each monthly meeting.

Club Seeks Permanent Home

The club will meet next at1504 Pennsylvania Ave., which will be used as an additional guest.

The club meets the first Wednesday in each month. The women's division, under Mrs. Victorine Adams, met on Tuesday evening.

CHUCK RICHARDS Talent Director — LOUIS JORDAN At the Royal — KENNY BASS Adds Tele Set — WALTER THOMAS Kleeco Head

By E. B. REA

WHEE WHEE EO, that, guys and girls, is a long whistle on paper. Couldn't help it after getting a new view of that luscious, form-child, Betti Mays, who is currently generating more hot rhythm with her Bettiboppers at the Comedy Club than the swanky fun center has had "Bet" wears the most revreedim gowns.

AVENEWSITEMIZERS — Used car dealers moving uptown because of slow biz downtown . . . Salt Mostos and Connie Lewis, the only couple out of seven at the Comedy Club Tuesday night who could have their names printed the same line . . . Wee Bee Booze, the guitar strummer, shaking bye-bye hands with the Avenue before showing off to the Sunset Terrace in Indianapolis to join Brown and Brown's unit . . . Bland Gatewood and his Yellow Streak gliding through the evening trafficc . . . John Neal's new custom DeSoto catches your eye.

E. B. Rea

BETWEEN MORE DOTS—Underfed horse struggling with loaded vegetable wagon . . . Wine-drained dame with skirt pulled up around her waist drawing a crowd of peepers in McMechen St. . . . Steve Brown, Gamby playboy, doing a stretch in stripes on a Georgia chain gang rockpile. That's a joke, son! It was just a drawing.

ADDED ATTRACTION — The ever pleasing Jean Moore, former barmaid and later cook at the Vilma, has switched to the crowd-pleasing atmosphere of the Sphinx Club, where she has taken over the eating department. With Jean here, it's doughnuts to custard pies that the list of Sphinx diners "will grow and grow and grow . . . The Dixon boys, Ike Sr., Ike Jr., and Howard, continue to add to the charms of the Comedy Club, which is regaining its old reputation of being the "home of the 'best entertainment,'" with the installation of a new air cooling system.

KENNY BASS'S SNACK bar and billiard parlor giving its customers television service . . . That remodeling job in the 1600 block will bring more store fronts to the Avenue, plus an increased number of small apartments . . . The Do-Nut Hut, 1300 block, holed up . . . Smith's Hotel (formerly the Gay Nineties), to begin talent night contests on next Tuesday, so says Red Thomas . . . By the fifth week, the four previous winners will compete for a chunk of dough. The Four Links will furnish the music.

OLIVER TRAVERS, baritone, and student at the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts, to do a recital on Sunday at the Morning Star Baptist Church, Roberts Ave., Catonsville.

CHOICE COMING ATTRACTIONS. "Mourning Becomes Electra" at the Met . . . "Hamlet," that tragic Shakespearean drama, at the Harlem, and "The Set-Up, the screen's most realistic prize fight, the Regent. Here now, Louis Jordan's sparkling "new" band and stage stars, the Royal Chuck Richards giving talented kids the break of their lives with his Met talent show every Saturday morning . . .

"BEER BARREL POLKA," is a hop tune that makes the pitcher hop, but it's five cent beer that makes the Avenue Cafe the most crowded spot along the Avenue. Nobody as yet, has had "Seven Beers With the Wrong Woman." That's a new recording, Cafe" Noble Lindsay, the genial manager, has added all sorts of seafoods to season . . . Carlos Hutchins, with thoughts of spring and golf, making plans for Baltimoreans to meet the visiting golf celebrities at the new McCulloh Delicatessen, which is zooming under his management. This column regrets to report that Carlos and Sara's weekold daughter died early Wednesday morning at Johns Hopkins Hospital . . . Virginia Gray, the brown mix-sizzler at Gamby's, giving customers the 3D'ers with a rubber lizard.

THE OLD QUIZ KID is stringing along with Sgt. Alvin C. York as the "Phantom Voice" on "Sing It Again." Saturday night at 10 . . . Ditto for "Knocked 'Em On the Old Kent Road" on Sunday night's "Stop the Music" at 8 . . . That Mystery Sound on Tuesday night's "Hit the Jackpot" at 10, could be "It's Spring Again."

"GOING OUT, COMING IN" — Oliver Pierre's Three Star Cafe, located at 1314 Pa. Ave. for the past 20 years, moved this week to Clifton Ave., and Pa. Building housing the Three Star was auctioned off. Mr. Pierce formerly managed the Douglass Theatre, now the Royal . . . John (Big John) Strothers, native Baltimorean and Douglass High School grad of the good old days, now operates "Big John's Seafood Restaurant," 1108 the Ave. Prior to this venture he was No. 1 barman at Club Astoria. Woody Herman, Cab Calloway, Monte Hawley and several members of the "Anna Lucasta" cast dropped in this week for seafood . . .

CLICKING AT THE KLEECO—Pint-size Walter Thomas, Hozette Grille host, has been elected president of the Kleeco Club, 1323 Pressman St., which reopens Saturday (tomorrow), after being closed several days for a body lifting. Same membership policy remains with plans on foot for a complete dining service in the near future . . . George (Hip) Leaf Thomas and his buddies famifar faces at John Whirley's Club Ubangi, where Dorothy Byrd Taylor attends all of the television shows . . . Bennis H. Alert, the barber, a beauty spot in St. Clair Sloan Choral Society.

CAB CALLOWAY'S Television Show gets underway from NYC on May 10 . . . Paul Williams's band headed this way for a Royal date . . . The Astoria changes hands June 1 . . . "Anna Lucasta" to return to the Maryland for four additional days . . . That Sandtown playground center at Carey and Mosher Sts a beauty spot . . . The Cricket Club's licenses denied by the Liquor Board . . . Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkin-

Europe's Royal College Honors ex-Illini Student

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — A young singer, Alfred Griffin of Evanston, graduated in music education from the University of Illinois last year, has been studying in Europe and is now entitled to the degree of ABCM (Associate, Royal College of Music), according to word just received at U. of I.

Griffin took his examinations for the degree of associate in the teaching of solo-singing at Trinity College of Music for teachers in London. The examination included piano accompaniment, ear tests, transposing accompaniment at sight, singing and teaching. He also had to write two papers, one on singing and general musicianship and one on harmony.

He first went to England with the Army during the war. After his graduation from the U. of I. in June, 1948, he returned to Europe with a youth group with whom he visited Norway. While there he was chosen director of an American student chorus of 75 voices which made radio broadcasts and sang for the King of Norway on his birthday.

At present, Griffin has returned to Bergen, Norway, where he expects to continue studying, singing and teaching.

At the U. of I., Griffin, a baritone, studied with Dorothy Bowen and LeRoy Hamp of the voice faculty. He was also a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, musical honorary.

His mother, Mrs. Nora G. Horton, lives at 1631 Fowler Ave., Evanston.

Quiz Tips for AFRO Readers

You'll need additional clues to solve Saturday night's "Phantom Voice" on "Sing It Again" at 10.

The squirrel hunter from Pall Mall, Tenn., killed 25 Germans and captured 132 prisoners in the Argonne in World War I on Oct. 8, 1918. He has four sons and two daughters, was a conscientious objector and became America's "greatest civilian soldier."

He is red-haired, 61, an ex-infantryman and has the Congressional Medal of Honor. He's an All American—"Sgt. Alvin York."

"Stop the Music" Sunday night at 8, might be "Knocked 'Em On the Old Kent Road."

For "Hit the Jackpot" on Tuesday night at 10, tell 'em "It's Spring Again."
