IN OUR CHURCHES

The congregation of Whatcoat Methodist Church will move into its new location at Madison and North Aves. on Feb. 12.

Special services will begin with a free breakfast at 9 a.m., to be followed at 10 a.m. by Sunday school. The pastor, the Rev. S. W. Fields, will preach at 11 a.m.

The afternoon sermon is scheduled to be delivered by Bishop Alexander P. Shaw to the monthly meeting of the Ushers Union.

At 8 p.m. there will be a sermon by the Rev. Kelly L. Jackson, superintendent of West Baltimore District Methodists. Music will be furnished by visiting choirs.

$60,000 Edifice

The Whatcoat congregation purchased for $60,000 what was formerly the Babcock Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Its former building at Franklin and Pine Sts., has been purchased by a Community Christian Church congregation.

The gradual migration of its members to West and Northwestern areas and the changes in streetcar lines, the Rev. Mr. Fields, said, were factors leading to the re-location of the church.

Others Mull Expansion

The growth of the congregations of Berea Temple Seventh Day Adventist Church, and Emmanuel Christian Community Churches, bring up the need for expansion.

Berea Temple has yet to decide if it will enlarge its present building at Dolphin St. and Harlem Ave., divide its congregation, or purchase a larger structure.

Editorially, the "Messenger" of Emmanuel Church said that the officials there will soon be forced to map out an expansion program to accommodate the congregation.

"Pew Rally" Slated

The Missionary Society of Union Baptist Church, sponsoring a "Pew Rally" there at 3 p.m. on Sunday, will hear a sermon by the Rev. Marion C. Bascom, pastor of Douglas Memorial Community Church.

The Douglas Church choir will sing.

At 8 p.m., the Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association of Maryland will hold memorial services at Union Baptist Church. Sponsors are members of the Ella Baskerville Circle, headed by Mrs. Inez Clay.

Evangelistic Services

Last Sunday, Union Baptist Church began a series of evangelistic services which continued through the week. Sermons were preached by the pastor, the Rev. Baxter L. Matthews, and the Rev. John Tilley, dean of the Maryland Baptist Center.

Bethel AME Church has scheduled devotional services by its evangelists at 10:30 a.m. each Sunday morning.

In his sermon, last Sunday, the Rev. Harrison J. Bryant, pastor of Bethel Church, said that God alone can rid man of his spiritual and moral blindness.

To Lecture on Hymns

At 8 p.m. on Sunday, the Rev. John T. Colbert, pastor of Grace Presbyterian Church, will began a series of lectures on the history of hymns.

Two special programs are set for Sunday at Mt. Zion Methodist Church.

At 5 p.m., the Rev. Levi B. Miller Jr., will be guest speaker on the Young Adult Group program. The Blind Orchid Musical Guild, with Luther Warner, baritone soloist, will present a program at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the senior choir.

Union Worship Planned

The congregation, pastor and choirs of Memorial Baptist Church will go to Mt. Sinai Baptist Church at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, to take part in a union missionary service.

At 8 p.m. at Memorial Baptist Church, the Rev. C. E. Browne will preach the annual sermon of the Flower Circle of the Past Officers Council of Franklin Drill Commandery No. 1.

Ames Methodist Church will mark its annual Youth Day on Sunday. At 10:30 a.m., vestments of the youth choir will be consecrated.

Philadelphian to Preach

The morning speaker will be the Rev. William J. Harvey of Philadelphia. His subject will be, "Partnership With God Through Church Attendance."

Edward N. Wilson, registrar of Morgan State College, will be moderator of a panel at the Methodist Youth Fellowship Services.

Six young people and four adults will speak on "The Youth of Today and the World of Tomorow." Mrs. Lelia S. Jennings is youth counsellor.

PE Women to Get Equal Treatment

Attending the 166th annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese, this week, were the Revs. C. E. Mills, David Croll and Charles W. Fox, of St. James, St. Phillips in Annoplis, and St. Matthews Churches, respectively.

Lay delegate from St. James Church was Charles J. King. About 220 delegates attended the parley.

Sessions were held at the Emmanuel Church, Cathedral and Read Sts.

Among the actions taken by the body was the adoption of a resolution calling for the end of discrimination against women in church matters.

1950 Budget $157,300

At the opening sesion, Monday, at St. Michael and All Angels Church, the body adopted a 1950 diocesan budget of $157,300, an amount 40 per cent greater than the budget approved in 1945.

The delegates also voted to erect an old-age home for church women at Uplands, Md. Funds for this project were provided in the will of the late Mrs. Mary F. Jacobs.

St. James Parents' Guild Sponsors Benefit Movie

The Parents ~~Guild of the St.~~ James PE Church School, is sponsoring a benefit showing of the moving picture, "Angel on My Shoulder," at 8 p.m., Friday in the Guild Hall.

Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a movie projector for the school.

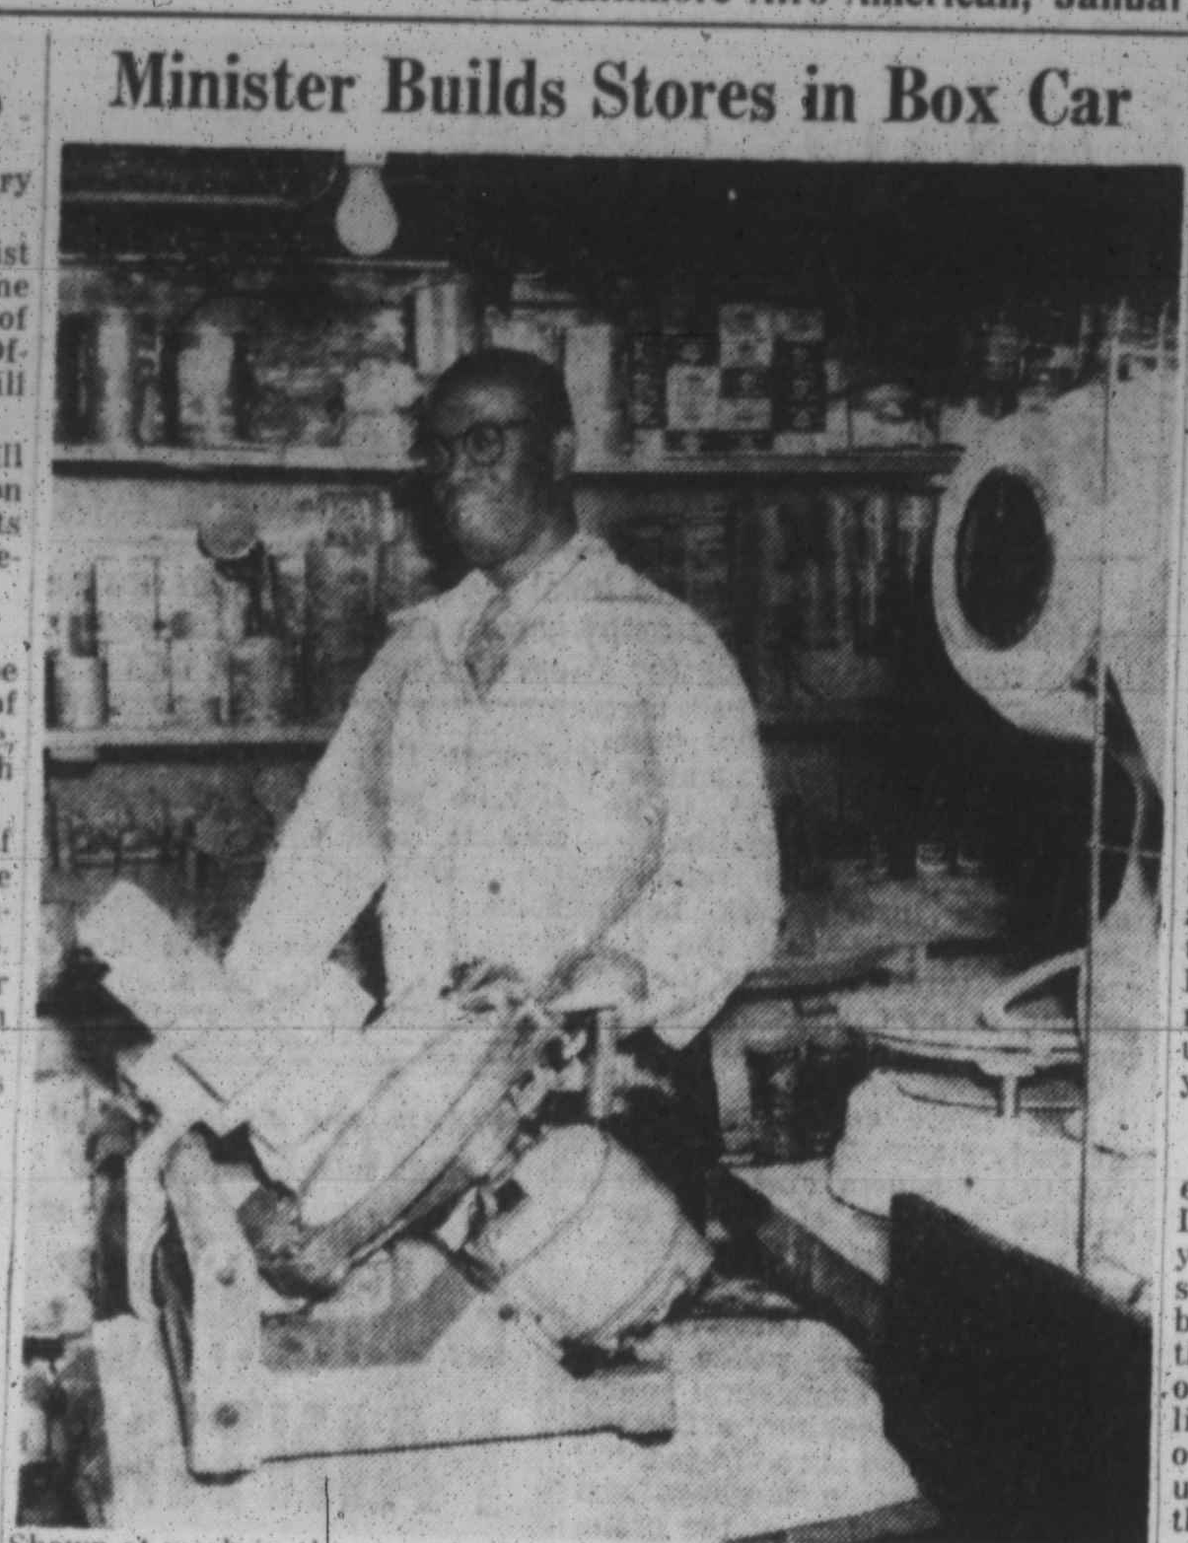
REV. J. J. BARNES, Pastor

Minister Builds Stores in Box Car



Shown at work in the store he built in a discarded refrigerated railway car is the Rev. Jacob Charles of Mt. Winans. The Rev. Mr. Charles divides his time between the store, the church of which he is pastor on N. Pine St., and his family. One-time residents of Mt. Winnass, the Charles's are well known and respected in the area.

Cleric Succeeds in Box Car Store

Determined to have a business of his own, but unable to buy or lease a place, the Rev. Jacob Charles converted an abandoned refrigerator railway car into a grocery store, five years ago.

Today, it is the chief means of support for his family of four.

As business increased after the first uncertain months, the Rev. Mr. Charles purchased lumber and made several additions to the original store, located in the 2600 block Huron St., Mt. Winans.

Family helps to Run Store

By his action he has demonstrated that success comes to those who plan and work for it. He is pastor of the Pentecost Holiness Church, 400 N. Pine St., and lives at 2629 Huron St., next door to his store.

His wife, Mrs. Arilla Charles, helps in the store, as do their daughters, Margaret 13, and Bessie Mae 15.

The Charles have three grown daughters, Mesdames Madeline Norris, Lena B. Davis and Dora T. Taver, all of Baltimore.

5 Churches Hold Union Fellowship

Five churches will participate Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Union Fellowship Services sponsored by the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of Turner Station at Shiloh Baptist Church there.

Speaker will be the alliance president the Rev. Harold Nixon, pastor of New Life Presbyterian Church. Others on the program will be the Rev. J. H. Carter of St. Matthew Methodist; Nathaniel Mondie, Galilee Baptist; Dockery Thompson, Friendship Baptist Mission and Carlton O. Cooke, Gospel Mission.

There will also be selections by the choirs of member churches.

Interracial Council Attends Mass, Communion Breakfast

Forty-five members and friends of the Baltimore Catholic Interracial Council attended Holy Mass and received Holy Communion in a body at the Cathedral of the Assumption, Sunday.

The Rev. Chester Ball, SSJ, in his sermon, presented a clear and challenging interpretation of the text: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, thy whole mind and with all thy strength, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Father drove home the point that the specific goal of the interracial council, to help bring about a more perfect understanding and amity among racial groups, is but the fulfillment of Jesus' Law of Love, and the heeding of His admonition, "Whatsoever you do unto the least of My little ones, you do unto Me."

Love Advised

To shortsighted Catholics, Father directed the words of The Divine Master: "How can you say you love God, Whom you do not see, if you love not your neighbor, whom you do see?" Rather, the real measure of our love of our brother, Father told his listeners, could be summed up in our Saviour's exhortation: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Father Ball concluded by encouraging the council to continue against expected opposition and dificulties to work assiduously, by prayer, education and example, for ever wider acceptance in human relationships of the principles of forbearance, mutual respect for the fundamental dignity and worth of the human individual, as God Himslf ordained, in order that lasting peace and social order might dwell among all men of good will.

Communion Breakfast

After Mass the members broke bread at their communion breakfast, held in the main dining room of the Pennsylvania Station. Guests of honor at the breakfast were:

The Rev. Chester Ball, SSJ, of St. Joseph's Church, Glenarden, Maryland; the Rev. Benjamin F. Bowling, CSP, of the Catholic Information Center, and the principal speaker; the Rev. John Albert, SSJ, of St. Monica's Parish, Baltimore, and the council moderator, the Rev. Thomas D. O'Connor, of the Immaculate Conception Parish, Baltimore.

Father Bowling Speaks

Father Bowling took as his text the words of Our Lord to His disciples: "By this shall all men know that you are My disciples, that you have love one for the other." Father stressed the power of good example and prayer in helping to bring about the reconstruction of society based upon the solid foundation living the truth of Christ's teaching in our daily lives. He cited the fact that every year in Baltimore an average of one thousand converts to the Catholic Church is the immediate fruit of such prayer and good example which move others to seek in the True Church that unchanging, Divine source of Truth and Grace which alone bring true peace in this life and certain, lasting happiness in the next.

Father Bowling also encouraged the council members above all to hold steadfast to the task at hand of advancing the cause of human solidarity and unity in Christ's Mystical Body, no matter what opposition develops or what obstacles must be hurdled, for, he added, Although the good results of your work will increase but slowly, remember that you have God with you, and who has God and His Truth is assured of eventual success.

Mrs. Layten Paid Highest Tribute at Funeral Services

Headed Baptist Women's Auxiliary Group 48 Years

Monument Proposed for Pioneer Religious, Civic Leader, Who Succumbed at Age 76

PHILADELPHIA

The highest possible tribute was paid, Thursday afternoon, to Mrs. S. Willie Layten, nationally known church and civic worker, during final rites conducted at Shiloh Baptist Church, 21st and Christian Sts.

Local ministers and other prominent leaders from all over the country lauded Mrs. Layten for her 48 years of service as president of the Women's Auxiliary to the National Baptist Convention Inc., and for her pioneer work among the women's groups.

More than 400 cards and letters and approximately 350 telegrams have been recevied by Mrs. Madeline Tillman since her mother's death on Jan. 14 at their home, 764 S. 23rd St.

Three Ministers Serve

The rites were conducted by the Revs. Leonard G. Carr and William J. Harvey 3rd, with the eulogy by the Rev. W. H. R. Powell, pastor of Shiloh Church.

Referring to Mrs. Layten as "a King's Daughter, the name reserved for God's chosen," the Rev. Mr. Powell cited her years of devotion to the church as "an inner glory with outer manifestation."

"She is deserving of our highest honor and praise," he said, "for she lived the life of a true Christian, more than fulfilling her duty to her God and her country."

Monument Fund Begun

The erection of a suitable monument to Mrs. Layten was proposed by Dr. Thomas S. Harten of Brooklyn, vice-president of the National Baptist Convention, who offered to contribute the first $100 toward a fund for that purpose.

In a telegram from Chicago, Dr. C. C. Adams, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, proposed that a memorial scholarship fund be established at the testimonial previously planned for Mrs. Layten on Feb. 2.

In another wire, read by Mrs. Nannie H. Burroughs successor to Mrs. Layten, the sympathy of the women of Florida was expressed by Mrs. Viola T. Hill, president of the unit there.

Lauded by Dr. Burroughs

Dr. Burroughs, who was elected national president when Mrs. Layten was retired as president-emeritus in 1948, described her predicessor as representing "the dignity, grace, beauty and sincerity of Christian womanhood."

A native of Grenada, Miss., Mrs. Layten was 76 years old at the time of her death. She had been bed-ridden since her retirement. Her father, the late Rev. W. H. Phillips, was a former pastor of Shiloh Church.

She was graduated from LeMoyne College, and studied in California, at Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania. She received the A.M. degree from State University, Louisville, Ky., and the LL.D. degree from Selma University, Selma, Ala.

In California, she helped organize the Western Baptist Association, was first president of its Women's Auxiliary, and organized the first Woman's Club in that State, now known as the Pioneer Club of Los Angeles.

She was also active in politics and helped form and expand several other national civic organizations.

Other Prominent Speakers

Other prominent speakers during the rites, which lasted nearly three hours, included:

The Revs. R. A. Cromwell, W. V. Cholmondeley, J. M. Levister and Marshall L. Shepard, chairman of th Foreign Mission Board; Dr. J. C. Jackson, president-emeritus of the New England Missionary Convention;

Mrs. Mary S. Tribbit, the Revs. James E. Kirkland, pastor of Union Baptist Church; John R. Logan Jr., assistant rector of St. Simon PE Church; W. B. Toland president of the Pennsylvania State Convention;

Eustace Gay, president of the Pennsylvania Sunday School Convention; the Revs. E. Theodore Lewis, pastor of Cherry Memorial Baptist Church; Frank B. Mitchell Jr. of the Baptist Ministers' Conference; John Hester of Camden, N.J.; Dr. Marshall Talley of Indianapolis, Ind., director of Religious Education; and E. W. Rhodes.

Survivors Named

In addition to Mrs. Tillman, Mrs. Layten is survived by her stepmother, Mrs. Sarah E. Phillips, matron of the Shiloh Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Persons; and a cousin, George Dozier of Duluth, Minn. Interment was in Merion Cemetery; Mrs. Gennie E. Morris, mortician.

Among persons and organizations from whom floral tributes were received were:

Malinka Missionary Society, Shiloh Baptist Church; Gilliam Family, Pennsylvania State Baptist Convention, Young People's Department of Shiloh Baptist Church, Women's Convention of the National Baptist Convention, Mrs. Etta Versa Frye, national director, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. George Dozier, Duluth, Minn.; faculty of the Durham Arthur School; Mr. and Mrs. W. Religious Discrimination Hit by Catholic Advisor

ST. LOUIS (NNPA)—Churches, whether Catholic or Protestant, that deny fellowship or membership on grounds or color of race "cannot be basically Christian."

This opinion was expressed by Clarence T. Hunter, executive secretary of the Catholic Interracial Council here Jan. 17 in St. Louis University's Des Peres Hall.

Mr. Hunter delivered the final lecture in a series on "The Christian Community and Democratic Life," sponsored by the council and the University. He said:

Clergy, Educators Scored

"I have never understood why the clergy in many instances have accepted the segregated pattern in a community or neighborhood without trying to do something about it.

"Moreover, it is uncanny that many of our educators fail to emphasize the likeness of people racially.

"Either the churches and schools in our community must be actually and potentially churches and schools for all the people, irrespective of race or color, or they should cease to proclaim the doctrine of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man."

Prejudice Artificial

Mr. Hunter called race prejudice "an artificial product of the mind" and described racial segregation as "the social facade of repression and exploitation." He said:

"To be prejudiced against a racial group involves an unwillingness to compete with members of that group for social position or economic goods.

Job Competition Cited

"In the history of the labor movement in the South as well as in the North, it is apparent that the exclusion of the colored worker and other minority groups has been based upon the desire to eliminate minorities as a competitor.

"Effective leadership must be conscious of the needs of all the citizens of a community.

"Such labels as minority leader immediately set up a prejudiced idea that this particular leader can serve only his racial group and not his community at large." ners.

DOCTOR DOROTHY B. Ferebee's Exclusive AFRO COLUMN . . .

"Women Looking Forward"

A really new and exciting column of comment which should be of interest primarily to women, "Women Looking Forward," will nevertheless furnish much food for masculine thought!

Dr. Ferebee is the president of the National Council of Negro Women and former head of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. As a practicing physician and a leader, she is eminently qualified for her new role as a columnist.

For a new and fresh view of the affairs of women . . . be sure to read "Women Looking Forward" regularly . . . each week.
