Civic League Ward's Party Points Up Achievements

with Lula Jones Garrett

On Thursday evening the sixth ward of the Co-operative Civic League combined a lot of business with a lot of pleasure, including gifting the out-going president, Georgia Lawrence Chambliss, inducting a new one, Helen Beverly, and tossing a pretty party to mark the change in administration.

The session was held at the Denmore Avenue home of the Chamblisses and had the city-wide president, Mrs. Violet Hill Whyte, to officiate. Prior to introducing the new officers there was a review of the accomplishments of the ward during the six-term tenure of Mrs. Chambliss, as well as prior to her administration. And bless me, if the ward hasn't just about copped all honors of the organization from raising the prize Dahlias in the city, to making the Clean Block Campaign a permanent fixture.

In fact the unit started out back in 1934 as a working organization when they pushed up their sleeves and went to work for a school in the vicinity — and got it. Then there was the matter of keeping their community rid of taverns—which they have done. Last year they took 8 of the 15 prizes at the annual Civic League Flower Mart.

And in the meantime they have carried on a stream of activities including raising enough money to pave the road on the grounds of the former Bragg School for Boys, to provide scholarships for boys to the YMCA camp and for girls to Camp Grace McCard; to give memberships for boys to the YMCA, present 56 sun suits for children at Henryton; raise $300 for the civic league house project and even have a few strictly social affairs, including a trip to Washington and Mt. Vernon, and Christmas parties at which they entertain their husbands.

During the war years they even managed to keep cookie jars filled at the U.S.O. And were it not for putting the rest of us so to shame I'd list a few more accomplishments like caring for the ill of their community and lightening the burdens of bereavements, etc.

But on Thursday, after inducting Mesdames Beverly, president; Buelah Harrison, vice president; Viola Russell, recording secretary; Frances Martin, financial secretary; Carrie Pettus, treasurer; and Elizabeth Epps, chaplain, we treked out to the dining room, where the prettiest table filled to the hilt awaited, and where the social hour was spent over coffee and accompaniments.

ORCHID — The club met on Tuesday with Mrs. Ella Piney of 207 Fremont Avenue. Plans for a party in April were made. Mrs. L. Barnes is president of the group and Miss Cecelia Johnson is reporter.

PHYSICIANS FETED

A week or so back Marian Banfield and Reba Lewis, chatting away as usual, remembered that their spouses, Drs. Gilbert Banfield and Roger Lewis, would have birthdays almost simultaniously. "Let's give 'em a party" they exclaimed almost in one breath.

And on Saturday night they did, in the Adams's Club Room, with scores of guests about, and with Marian in toast lace and net; and Reba in a smart navy satin with an intricate neck line featuring a low bib and as interesting a skirt, featuring jutting pockets, to lend an air.

Linwood Koger's toast explained that both honorees were celebrating 38th birthdays, both were in the same profession (physicians) both dads of two children, and that they even had the same taste in women—both the hostesses being so much of the public-spirited ilk.

And though gifts were not indicated, there were many presented. Dr. Lewis (who is ever so clever at wood carving) did the gay invitations . . . which had a stethoscope decor . . . but which was missed by the guest who fetched (thinking the party was for young Banfield) a big teddy bear!

At the party were:

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Edna Lewis, Mrs. Inez Clark of New York, Dr. William Krakancer, Dr. and Mrs. Julius White, Jan McDavid, Dr. and Mrs. John DeFrancis;

Dr. and Mrs. McDonald Bando, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Campbell, Dr. I. B. Higgins, Dr. and Mrs. George Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rosen, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris, Dr. Ralph Reckling;

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Canaan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Folkes, Dr. and Mrs. A. Kremin, Dr. and Mrs. George Silver, Mr. Koger, Mrs. Mae Downs, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, Mrs. Maurice Adams;

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bundara, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lamb, Dr. and Mrs. Glenford Mussenden, Miss A. Dukye Woode, Meredith Birche, Richard Russell, Dr. and Mrs. William Watts;

Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Christmas Sr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Jack Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Robb Klein, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Chissell, Dr. Evan A. Gilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher, J. Walter Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ennis.

GIRLIGAGS MEET

Mrs. I. B. Higgins had to forego that party because she was holding forth for her club, the Girligags, with Nellie Buchanan, Ethel Bowling, Edythe Fields, Elizabeth Stewart, Elsie Carter, Sarah Rayne, and Doris Moore dining with her.

MRS. PATTERSON SURPRISED

Another cute natal party was that which surprised Mrs. Elmer Patterson when her husband held forth on the same evening.

For the fun were:

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Payne, Mrs. Anita Wheatley, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Woodland, Dr. and Mrs. Glenford Mussenden, Mrs. Susie Clark;

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tinnen of Washington and Mrs. Theodore Pinkney of the same city; Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Hill, Mrs. Georgia Chester and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott.

DAY CELEBRATED

Saturday afternoon's showers were just a challenge to the scores of smartly frocked matrons and maids who sallied forth in fine fashion goibles to the National Day program of the Baltimore branch of the National Association of College Women.

The affair was held in the upper auditorium of the YWCA, and aside from being colorful from the standpoint of gay bonnets and flower laden table furnished a store of information with Dr. Flemmie Kittrell of Washington, Miss Bertha McNeill also of Washington and Mrs. Nellie Taylor of Wilmington as speakers.

Soft-voiced Marian Waters, in champagne satin and a feather hat, chairmaned the affair. Mae Downs, wearing another of the head confections (this one of brown felt, its moulded brim of soft pink feathers) for which she is already famous, was moderator.

Each of the members wore a camelia, and they gave hugh corsages of the same flowers to Miss McNeill and Mrs. Taylor; and a double orchid corsage to National President Kittrell. There was incidental music throughout the evening by Mrs. John Cotton, a reading by Mrs. Mary Griffin, and greetings from Branch President Viola Jackson. Mrs. Vashti Murphy, ensembled in soft blue, gave the history of the organization, after which the guests lingered and lingered over coffee, picture sandwiches, ices, etc.

DEMOCRATS AT SUPPER

After that oh-so-intellectual hour, we jumped right down to the York Hotel, where that voters-getting group of Democratic women were holding forth at a "Trotters, and Truffles" party and where such top-draw matrons as Eva Brown, Bernice Buckner, Victorine Adams, et al, took on the role of waitresses, and such a jolly gang, including the Cecil Scotts, the Nimrod Dodsons, the Julius Scotts, the J. Logan Jenkenses Jr., Gertrude Moses, and a half hundred others, were ensconsed behind platters of those viands and tall mugs of beer. . . for a political cause.

MRS. PENNINGTON HOSTESS

Saturday evening also saw Pearlie Pennington's swank hostessing of the Links, with members Helen Burwell, Xaveria McDonald, Catherine Adams, Etta Phifer, Mae Adams, Audrey Butler, Lillian Berry, Florence Gloster, and Theresa Waters about.

Came Sunday and Marguerite Ewing drew to her hearth the "Swagettes," including Etta Phifer, Marie Bourne, Gertrude Urquhart, Marguerite Harmon, Elizabeth Stewart, Maud Woodland, and Verna Gosnell.

ADA DINNER

Interracial fellowship was high among the 350 persons attending the second annual Roosevelt Day dinner sponsored Monday by the Baltimore chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action, Monday.

Seen dining and talking in the converted ballroom of the Southern Hotel were:

Mesdames Yaveria (Sook) McDonald, Catherine Lyons, Irene Dodson, Audrey Butler, Mae Wright Downs, Verda Welcome, Lillie M. Jackson, Audrey Weaver, Miss Julia B. English.

Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Murphy and James Murphy;

Dr. Joseph B. Mason, Messrs. Clarke Davis, Robert Watts, Linwood Koger, Joseph Neal, Lloyal Randolph, and Randolph Dent.

POT POURRI

Off to the "Crystal Ball" which the Philadelphia branch of the National Association of Business and Professional Women gave on Friday night went Baltimore chapter members Laurie Parker, Lillian Watty, Dukye Woode, Elizabeth Anthony, Alice Fauntleroy, Hattie Tyler and Edna Thrower. Are still oh's over the white satin embroidered in silver butterflies that National President Geneva Valentine, D.C. realtor, wore and over the cocktailer which preceded and the breakfast which followed.

Catching up on vital statistics shows that Mrs. Harry Pratt is tucked in Johns Hopkins Hospital, and that an illness takes Miss Hermione Wharton, Douglass High School vice principal, out of that post for the nonce; that the Philip Butchers (Morgan) are practicing lullabys; that Mrs. Bertha Hawkins spent her from-home visit in this town with Mrs. Letitia Ashe while Dr. Dewey hobnobbed at the dental meeting in Washington, last week end; that the Howard Alumni group hereabouts have just about decided upon the Charter Day Dinner on March 2, with Howard University's Dr. Stuart Nelson as speaker and the Morgan College Refectory the place; and presentation of the Howard University players in April. U. Theodore Hayes is president of the group, Eugenia Collier is chairmaning the dinner and Letitia Ashe is studying plans for the last project.

Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church Women are busy with plans for their Women's Day, on the 26th, which always turns out to be as much of a social as church event.

Wedding Reception for Pastor and Bride

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards, left, shown in receiving line at the wedding reception held at the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, Baltimore, of which he is pastor. Also in line are the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White who are greeting a guest, Mrs. Fau Racison.

Cake for the Clergy

The Rev. G. M. Edwards, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, accepts wedding cake from his bride, the former Miss Esther I. Lyons. They were married on Jan. 9, in Baltimore.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards Honorees at Wedding Reception

More than 300 parishioners and friends were guests of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Edwards at a wedding reception at the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church, Thursday evening.

The clergyman and his bride, the former Miss Esther I. Lyons, were married on January 9.

The bride, wearing a bridal suit of white satin, made with draped skirt and tiered jacket moulded into a back drape. Her rose-trimmed hat was of the same satin, as were her slippers. Her gloves were of lace, caught over the wrist with a rosette, and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Receiving with the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were her mother, Mrs. Hattie Lyons Burston, who wore moonglow satin with matching hat and a corsage of pink roses; Mrs. Pauline White, in pastel blue crepe and a corsage of talisman roses; Mrs. Maida Brannan, who selected a gown of gray and a corsage of talisman roses, the Rev. Robert E. White and Dr. C.M. Lawrence.

Hostesses Listed

Serving as hostesses were Mesdames Willie Valentine, Lucille Anderson, Mildred Quille and Ida Atkins. The hundreds of gifts were received and listed by Mesdames Edna K. Waynesboro and Della Thomas.

Among out-of-town guest attending the reception were:

The Rev. O.D. Goodwin, Mrs. Laura E. Small, Mrs. Elsie G. Keys, Mrs. W.A. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stewart Jr., Mrs. Louise Gary, Mrs. Minnie Williams, Miss Dorothy Merean and the Rev. James L. White, all of Washington;

The Rev. Leroy E. Hall of Avondale, Pa., the Rev. Stewart Patterson, the Rev. L.A. Lawson and the Rev. D.B. Ennis of Wilmington, Del.; the Rev. C.V. Covington of Princess Anne, Md., Ned Brown of Marshalltown, Del., Dr. J. Dallas Jenkins of Philadelphia.

Zetas Engage Distinguished Sextet for Forum

By FANNIE T. M. REED

Beta Zeta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority will climax its celebration of Finer Womanhood Week with a forum on which six distinguished women will discuss "The Importance of Women in a Changing World."

The forum, to be held in Sojourner Truth Hall of Howard University, will have as speakers Mme. Mohini Krishnayya of Bombay, India; Miss Dorothy Hodgson, distinguished club woman of Toronto, Canada; Mme. Erling Christophersen, famed writer and commentator of Norway; Senora Consuello Concha, club woman of Lima, Peru; Mrs. Ann Arnold Hedgman and Soror Pericles McDuffy.

Mrs. Plummer Moderator

Soror Mamie Plummer, who recently retired after nearly three decades as principal at Francis Junior High School, will serve as moderator during the Forum. Soror Bessie Davis is basileus of Beta Zeta Chapter; and Soror Bertha C. Anderson is general chairman of the local observance of "Finer Womanhood Week" by the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

Soror Fannie T. M. Reed is chairman of publicity for the celebration which opens February 19 with divine and pledge services at St. Georges P.E. Church, Second and U Streets, Northwest. "Finer Womanhood Week" will be celebrated nationally by the 155 Chapters of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

"Finer Womanhood Week" is planned to give Zetas an opportunity to honor outstanding women in those respective communities; their chapters opportunities to show to communities the participation of Zetas in local activities; and the sorors a hiatus for rededication to the ideals of the founders of the Sorority.

Among the distinguished women, club and organizational leaders assisting in arranging the local celebration of "Finer womanhood Week" are:

Sorors Edith A. Lyons and Josephine C. Smith, divisional directors of Public Schools in the District of Columbia; Soror Lillian Evanti, operatic and concert singer; and Sorors Florence G. Laws, Beatrice Harvey, Lillian Fitzhugh, Sojourner E. Jackson, Esther C. Peyton, Beatrice Catlette.

Sorors Henrietta Bearfield, Idella Costner, Fannie C. Offutt, Elsa Shamwell, Harriette Collier, Faustina D. Brown, Edna Nichols, Mary R. Reid, Sarah P. Newton, Catherine Pinkett, Julia B. Wilson,

Sorors Elaine D. Thompson, Janie Bradford, Alma J. Scott, Georgie Sheffey Johnson, Elaine Dubissette, Elfrida K. Taylor, Susie Miles, Rosalee Kennedy, Jennie Gross, Evelyn Frazier, Marion Taborn, Beatrice Catlette, Sorors Geraldine Elliott, Gertrude Hamm, Mary Garnes, Ruth Long, Alice Foster, Thelma Raymond, Isabelle Walker, Cozette Carter, Rose Martin, Bennie Grinnage, Lois Broadus, and Julia West Hamilton.

Officers of Beta Zeta Chapter who are also assisting in the arrangements are:

Bessie M. Davis, basileus; Henrietta Bearfield, first anti-basileus; F. C. Offutt, second anti-basileus; B. M. Harvey, grammateus; Delores Powell, anti-grammateus; Beuna Vista Banks, Tamias; Idella Costner, tamias-grammateus; Ruth Long, custodian; Romaine W. Browne, parliamentarian; Marion Sabbs, chaplain, and Regina Stewart, antiprokritis.

Kappa Alpha (under-graduate) chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority at Miner Teachers College, headed by Mrs. Mary R. Reid, faculty sponsor; and Sorors Edna Murray and Eleanor Hill are planning a college assembly hall program along with their annual pilgrimage to St. Anna's Home to highlight their observance of "Finer Womanhood Week." Alpha Chapter at Howard University, under the direction of Soror Peyton, is also planning special events to mark its observance of the week.

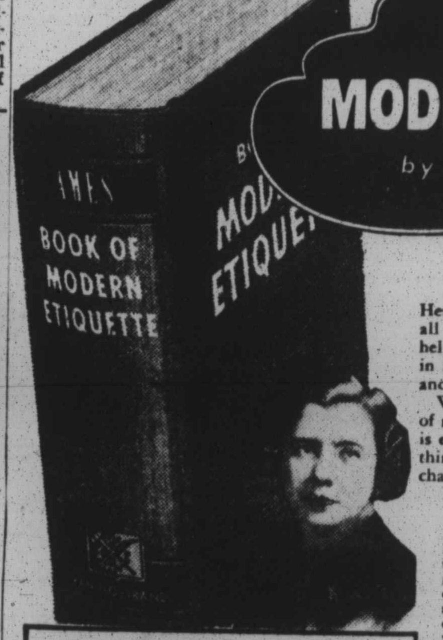
"Mom used QUAKER CORN MEAL —I can tell by that sunny flavor"

Fix a pan of hot crisp corn bread made from Quaker Corn Meal . . . and watch the children smile! They'll love its fresh, clean sunny flavor. You'll love its texture. Quaker corn bread is light and smooth, too.
You can trust Quaker Corn Meal. Every grain is washed in water . . . washed clean. Every grain is spoil-proofed! That means Quaker removes most of those oils that make ordinary corn meals taste unpleasant and bitter.
Serve it today! Hot, fresh sunny-tasting corn bread made from Quaker Corn Meal.
You can taste the quality in Quaker Corn Meal and Quaker Grits

This is for YOU...
A SURE WAY TO GAIN
POISE, CHARM, POPULARITY!
BOOK OF MODERN ETIQUETTE
by ELINOR AMES


A COMPLETE GUIDE TO GOOD TASTE IN EVERY SITUATION
Here at last is the book that tells you quickly and simply all the do's and don'ts of present-day manners . . . that helps you avoid those embarrassing mistakes so often made in restaurants, hotels and night clubs, at parties, dances, and the theatre.
Written by Elinor Ames, an authority known to millions of modern young people, this practical, new kind of book is especially designed to help you do and say the proper thing at the proper time . . . to give you the poise and charm that means more fun, more dates, more popularity!
IT'S SMART TO BE MODERN WHEN IT COMES TO MANNERS!
Modern manners—doing or saying the right thing, the smart thing—cost nothing, yet how many, many times have you regretted something you did or said when you were at a party or out with a new acquaintance? In most such cases wasn't it simply a matter of not being sure, of not feeling confident and completely at ease? Now, such regrets can be avoided. Now you can enjoy the great satisfaction of being certain of doing and saying the right thing at the right time. Guessing is too risky when it's a matter of your happiness.
A SPARE-TIME FINISHING SCHOOL RIGHT IN YOUR HOME!
The Book of Modern Etiquette expertly leads you through all the social problems of young men and women—older ones, too! It separates fundamental manners from unimportant tradition—it tells you, in a fast, interesting style, why you should not do certain things and why others are a "must"! You'll find revealing facts on conventionalities, and sensible guides for relaxing some of the straight-laced rules of the Victorian era.
You'll cherish this big, useful volume as your constant guide—you'll thank its words of wisdom a thousand times as it helps you make the most of each opportunity. You'll welcome its friendly counsel on intimate decisions—decisions that can mean so much to you, that could be so costly! Now you can examine this great book without cost or obligation—just mail the coupon.
