Business and Professional Women Present Ball

First Annual Dance Nationally Attended

PHILADELPHIA

Transformed into a make-believe fairyland with myriads of bejeweled stars and snow balls, Reynolds' Hall was the setting for the first formal crystal ball presented Friday evening by the Association of Business and Professional Women of Philadelphia.

Carrying out the crystal idea in every detail, members of the hostess unit and their out-of-town affiliate groups added more brilliance to the affair by wearing white or silver gowns.

Star of the evening was 12-year-old Janice Rieckley, the official souvenir girl of the association, who is practicing junior secretarial work in the office of Mrs. Florence Madison Hill.

Presentation Made

A highlight was the presentation of the first two volumes of 1949 Pennsylvania law to Mrs. Arsie Lee Kennedy, president, by Granville Jones, member of the State Legislature.

The award was made in recognition of Mrs. Kennedy's individual work with the group as well as the overall contribution of the members to the progress of Philadelphia business.

Among national association officers attending the ball were:

Nat'l. Officers Present

Mrs. Hill, a past national president; Mrs. Ollie Porter of New York City, first national president, now holding an honorary position;

Mrs. Geneva K. Valentine of Washington, D.C., a past president; Mrs. Grace Dadd of West Haven, Conn., first vice president; Mrs. Delolah Harrison of Brooklyn, N.Y., third vice president;

Miss Alice Fauntleroy of Baltimore, Md., recording secretary; Miss Eureka Whord, national editor; Miss Mildred Holden, junior leader and president of the local junior association;

Miss Elizabeth Anthony of Baltimore, Md., national chairman of education; Mrs. Louise Francis of New York City, national health education chairman and president of the New York Association;

Mrs. Alberta Person of Brooklyn, magazine committee chairman; and Mrs. Gladys Emanuel, chairman of international relations and crystal ball committee chairman.

Among other honor guests were:

Mesdames Lillian Watty, president of the Baltimore Association; Mildred Lightfoot, president of the New Haven unit; and Gertrude Williams, president of the Camden unit.

Approximately 500 couples danced under the simulated stars and snow balls in the main ballroom and were entertained in cabaret style in the Cameo Room.

Among the attractively gowned women guests were:

Mrs. Margaret Seaman, wearing Scotch plaid, off one shoulder, with gold accessories; Mrs. Maceo Sloan, who chose green satin with silver accessories;

Mrs. Gertrude Barnes, in a gown of changeable satin with lace adornments; Mrs. Beatrice Gardner, whose white satin bodice topped a red sequin-studded taffeta skirt;

Mrs. Evelyn Durrant, who chose teal blue taffeta with rhinestone necklace and bracelet; Miss Vera Clarkson, in aqua tafet with gold and white accessories;

Mrs. Fred, Boston of Newark, N.J., who chose American beauty satin with a triple strand pearl necklace; Miss Edith Walker, in black net over taffeta with red sandals and red roses; and Miss Janet Gordon, who wore green net and taffeta with silver accessories.

Among other guests were:

Dr. and Mrs. William Warrick, Dr. and Mrs. John K. Rice, Lynn Stapley, Earl Barnes, Robert Johnson, Lenerte Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Johnson of Riverton, N.J.

Mesdames Helen Moore of Penllyn, Pa.; Verona Beckett, and Cecelia Wyatt. Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Robinson, Richard Bridges, Mrs. Marjorie Brown, Mrs. Edna Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Shockley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Golden.

Mesdames Laurie Parker, Elizabeth Anthony, Eunice Carrington.

MRS. BLACKWELL GIVEN SURPRISE

A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. Viola Blackwell by her family Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harden Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown Jr., and Earl Blackwell Jr., at 2434 Francis Street.

Guest included:

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Costly, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Taft, Mr. and Mrs. Simms.

Misses Annie Price, Esther Cochran, Mildred Jones;

Mesdames Aura Windsor, Irene Harriday, Veronica Lonesome, Florence Grass, Ruby Bowden and Esther Parker;

William E. Lewis and Bill Whitty.

Carnation "Creams" Coffee at Half-Price!

Fill your cream pitcher with Carnation Evaporated Milk—and taste why millions prefer it in their coffee! Carnation has the consistency of good thick cream...gives coffee a wonderful color and flavor...yet costs less than half as much as cream!

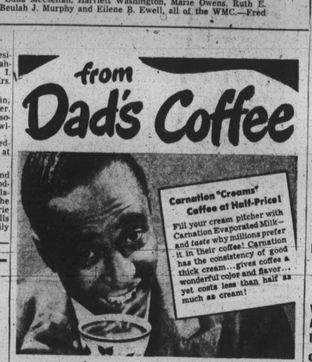
from Dad's Coffee to Sister's Cocoa

Carnation Creamy-Smooth Cocoa

2 tbsps. cocoa — 1½ cups water
2 tbsps. sugar — 1½ cups Carnation Evaporated Milk
Few grains of salt

Mix cocoa, sugar and salt in saucepan. Add water. Bring to boil and cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in Carnation Milk. Heat but do not boil. Makes 4 cups of the creamiest cocoa you ever tasted.

Give oil milk beverages added richness by using Carnation Milk (diluted 50-50 with water) instead of ordinary milk.



Use the Milk that Whips!

— says FREDA C. DE KNIGHT Food Editor of Ebony Magazine and author of "A Date With a Dish"

JUST GOOD WHOLE MILK "from Contented Cows"—that's Carnation Evaporated Milk. Nothing is removed but water! It's concentrated to the consistency of cream.

HOW DO YOU USE IT? For coffee, whipped toppings and most other cream uses, leave Carnation undiluted. For regular whole milk purposes, dilute Carnation with an equal amount of water.

WHAT DOES IT DO? Carnation gives extra nourishment—saves you money. Even when diluted 50-50 with water, it is richer than state standards for Grade A milk!

"WOMAN OF DISTINCTION"

MRS. OLGA DENNIS

Certainly, if any woman can be called a "Woman of Distinction"—it's Mrs. Olga Dennis of 2137 Walbrook Ave., at present, a member of the Instructive Visiting Nurses Association.

Mrs. Dennis was born in Hampton, Va., and in her early girlhood moved with her family to Denver, Colorado, where she attended the Denver State Normal School. She returned to her native city, to attend Hampton Institute, where she studied nursing, and graduated in 1943. She then entered the Dixie Hospital in Hampton, where she received her degree as a Registered Graduate Nurse.

Our country being at war, Mrs. Dennis enlisted in the Army Nurse Corps. She received her basic training at Camp McCoy in Wisconsin—and was stationed at Fort Wachau, Arizona, and Camp Beale, California. She was separated from the Army at Fort Dix, New Jersey, after having been in the service for 1 year, 9 months and 17 days.

Her duties with the Instructive Visiting Nurses Association are arduous—yet Mrs. Dennis has outside interests, too. She belongs to the YWCA and is active in the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Y. She is also a member of the Hampton Institute Alumni Association, and the Shiloh Baptist Church. Pinochle, bowling and swimming are her favorite pastimes. But nothing is more important to Mrs. Dennis than her little son David, aged 6—and her husband Vernon, who she insists is the "best husband in the world."

"Henden's," declares Mrs. Dennis, "is my favorite store—and my favorite salesgirl at Hendin's is Miss Ollie Dendy."

Planned Parenthood Clinic to Be Improved

Funds raised during the February Planned Parenthood campaign for $22.00 will be used, among other things, to improve the interracial clinic at 1028 N. Broadway and relocate the branch at 1523 McCulloh St., Dr. Bessie L. Moses, medical director of the association announced this week.

These are the most pressing needs of the association, Dr. Moses stated. The McCulloh St. clinic is the only one in the country, she said, established and operated by colored personnel.

63 Couples Being Treated

Some 63 childless couples are now under treatment at the Fertility Clinic, wyhich is one phase of the organization's work.

Since 1946, some 36 pregnancies have been reported in the entire group of patients treated at the clinic.

Some 3,099 patients were treated in the two child-spacing clinics during 1949. Over 200 volunteers throughout the city are participating in the campaign.

Recreation Notes

The Chick Webb recreation center swimming group will present its first water carnival at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 9 and 10. The first presentation is reserved for adult participation, while children will perform in the show on the 10th.

Designed to entertain citizens and to demonstrate the type of swimming program being conducted in the $200,000 pool, the carnival will include demonstrations of beginning swimming, life-saving shows, a formation of water patterns, tandem swimming, and interpretative swimming and dancing.

The water show is arranged and conducted by T. Madison Garrison and Calvin Brown, instructors at the pool.

Games Party

Clarence McDonald won first place in the progressive games party held recently at Webb center. Stevie Carter took second prize and little Ruby Gresham, third.

Under the direction of Mrs. Clarice Patterson, the affair included group singing, contests of skill and story-telling.

Douglass Homes

The Douglass Homes Community Center's dramatic club presented a puppet show entitled "Peter and the Wolf" at the recent annual doll show. Participants included Audrey Williams, Gwendolyn Rivers, Joyce Harris, Delores Roberts, Georgene Stanley, Carlene Rivers, Dorine Smith and Patricia Foster.

David Murray and "Little David" did a ventriloquist act. Winners in various contests were as follows:

Prettiest doll, Gertrude Pursell; Naomi Smith and Jane Swan.

Doll with the prettiest hair, Bertha Patterson, Barbara Lomax and Dorothy Summerfield; best dressed doll, Helen Bishop, Mildred Malloy, Dorothy Oliver; prettiest colored doll, Patricia Foster, Gertrude Pursell and Bernice Stanley; best character doll, Georgene Stanley, Barbara Summerfield and Mary Carr.

Smallest doll, Juanita Alford, Gwendolyn Rivers, Ann Watts and best doll house, Naomi Finch.

During history week, the Douglass Homes dramatic club will present an original playlet on the life of Benjamin Banneker.

Gilmor Homes

At a program sponsored by teen-agers of the center, a movie entitled "The Life of Roosevelt" was shown recently at the Gilmor Homes center.

On Feb. 8, a skating contest will be held in Spray Court. Contestants will be in two age groups—seven to 10 years and 11 to 14 years.

Members of the Parents' Club organized a rug-making class on Feb. 1. They plan to make braided, crocheted, pom-pom, woven and punched rugs. The class meets at 8 p.m. each Wednesday in Club Room "B."

Lexington St.

The Lexington St. Center is featuring activities of interest to young and old. These include mother and dad clubs, a rhythm band, tap dancing, ballet and folk dancing, arts and crafts, cooking classes, story-telling and drama groups.

There are also special programs for teen-agers. On Thursday nights from 9:30 to 11:30 a program is held for adults.

Webb Center News

The Charmers, a club of 14 teen-age girls, observed its first anniversary on Jan. 20 with a social.

Organized a year ago under the direction of Clarence Carter, AFRO advertising man, the club holds weekly work shops in posture, selection of colors and styles, use of cosmetics, carriage and in good conversation habits.
