Principals in "Prostitute"

Brooke Fleming and Ken Renard in the roles of Lizzie McKaye and the harassed, accused man, respectively, in "The Prostitute," now in its seventh week at Broadway's Selwyn Theatre.

'First Run' Films of the Week in Reveiw

By E. B. REA
AFRO Theatrical Editor

"Ambush," at the Regent. Robert Taylor, John Hodiak and Arlene Dahl are the stars. It's the thrill-packed story of a battle to death between the troopers of a Western fort and maurauding Indians, led by a murderous renegade warrior.

It was filmed almost entirely on sites near Gallup, New Mexico, against spectacular settings never before used in a motion picture.

It contains such exciting scenes as Taylor's daring escape from his Apache pursuers; the battle between Indians and troopers; the ambush set by Diablito, the renegade, for Hodiak, and Taylor's final deadly meeting with Diablito. The supporting film, "Everybody Does It," stars Paul Douglas.

AT THE NEW ALBERT

"T-Men," at the New Albert.

It's the dynamic story of the Treasury's tough guys in a picture made of the raw stuff of reality.

In the searing story you'll see killers trapped the way it hurts most—through their women; a squealer gets his—scalding death with steam, and hammering fists batter a man to death!

The daring break of 12 hardened criminals from the Colorado State Penitentiary forms the basis of "Canon City," the supporting feature.

AT THE HARLEM

Ida Lupino and Howard Duff head the cast of "Woman in Hiding" (Harlem)

It's a suspenseful story about a girl who becomes a fugitive from terror.

Her fear is brought about by her unscrupulous power-hungry husband, played by Stephen McNally, who holds her in almost a hypnotic clutch and tries again and again to kill her.

McNally, after killing his bride's father to gain possession of a manufacturing establishment, then cold bloodedly plots against his wife so that he may retain the factory and escape exposure.

AT THE MET

"Red Shoes" is playing the Met screen at regular prices.

Starring Moira Shearer and Anton Walbrook, it is a singing, dancing romance between a girl and her director, whom she could not forget.

It relates how, under his hypnotic spell, she danced to fame, and not even love could release her from his evil hold. It took her tragic death to break the bond.

The supporting feature, "Alimony," co-starring John Beal and Martha Vickers, exposes the alimony racketeers, who prey on innocent dupes.

'The Prostitute' Strong at Selwyn

NEW YORK — Jean-Paul Sartre's melodrama, "The Respectful Prostitute," is in its sixth week of an indefinite engagement at the Selwyn Theatre here.

Key roles are played by Brooke Fleming, as Lizzie McKaye, the prostitute, and Ken Renard, as the would-be rapist.

It presents a Frenchman's notion of bigotry and lawlessness existing in an unidentified Southern town, where a near lynching is ejected.

In 'Cabin in the Sky'

Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, who will be seen with Lena Horne, Ethel Waters and others in "Cabin in the Sky," showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Bridge Theatre.

EVADING THE ISSUE:

Comedian Sidesteps Amos 'n' Andy Blast

WASHINGTON

B. S. Beacovici, WOFM-commentator here, continued his protest against the Amos 'n' Andy program Sunday night, in an answer to Henry Morgan, radio comedian, who had taken pot shots at Mr. Bercovici's broadcast of Jan. 7. In the broadcast, Mr. B. called Amos 'n' Andy a damaging piece of propaganda and called for changes in it.

He said that the program as it stands creates false ideas about colored people.

By-Passed in Rebuttal

Mr. Morgan appeared Jan. 14 on John W. Vandercook's "Rebuttal" program on WOR and the MBS network.

It is supposed to air the other side of current issues and Mr. Morgan was stated to answer Mr. Bercovici's charges.

Instead he by-passed the criticism of Amos 'n' Andy and spent most of the time making snide remarks about Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon who, on Jan. 13, had Mr. Bercovici's remarks read into the Congressional Record.

Keyed to Civil Rights Fight

In his reply Sunday night Mr. Bercovici said:

The Congress of the United States is about to take up civil rights legislation which will include FEPC, the poll-tax, anti-lynch law, and other matters of importance to about 14 million Americans, who have been not only badly treated but badly misunderstood, and it is my contention that the program, Amos 'n' Andy, helps a lot of people to go on misunderstanding them.

The issue is of vital importance not only to the 14 million citizens, but to the other millions of Americans, and to the very concepts of democracy.

"My assault of Amos 'n' Andy was timed to coincide with the coming fight in Congress, it was timed to alert the public to this very fight."

Dodged Issue Purposely

Pointing out that Mr. Morgan could not possibly have overlooked his comments because they took up more than three-quarters of the script, Mr. Bercovici said:

"Think of it—not one word about that part of my broadcast which had real significance—not one word in defense of the program I assailed."

He said he assumed that Mr. Morgan purposely dodged the issue of Amos 'n' Andy and inquired:

"What does Mr. Morgan do when he doesn't whittle jokes? He must have more time to devote to such matters of secondary importance as the pattern of a working democracy."

Defends Senator Morse

Answering Mr. Morgan regarding Senator Morse, Mr. Bercovici stated:

"Senator Morse is one of the great progressive liberals in this country. His sympathy for the large minority groups toward whom the Amos 'n Andy program has been disrespectful is no secret."

Mr. Bercovici's "Avenalli and Battery" program is heard each Sunday night at 9:15 p.m. over Station WCFM. Negotiations are now under way to put it on a national network.

In launching his Jan. 7 attack on Amos 'n' Andy, Mr. Bercovici called Andy, Kingfish, Sapphire and other characters on the program a "dump heap of moral and social lepers," and pointed out that millions of uninformed listeners are being encouraged to look upon them as typical of colored Americans.

Kingfish a 'Louse'

He also scored the writers and a few worthy characters in it. He said:

"Amos, so far as I have been producers for not paying at least able to detect, is the only decent human being on that program.

"The Kingfish is a slippery, dishonest, conniving, for the most part unintelligent person . . . selfish . . . a miserable husband . . . a social failure . . . and generally speaking a louse of the first magnitude.

"Nothing is too difficult or fantastic for the Kingfish to be can get his paws on a few hundred dollars.

"Female Monstrosity"

Andy Brown, according to Mr. Bercovici, is a shiftless no-good-well, who hasn't done a lyk of work since he was created by his author . . . a . . . bum . . . ignorant to the nth degree, stupid . . . and unwashed.

"Then there is Shorty, the barber, a stuttering imbecile," and Sapphire, Kingfish's wife a shrew with whom no man in his right senses could live in marital bliss for more than a week, ugly, demanding, shrill and, generally speaking, a female monstrosity.

"Calling the rest of the characters not worth the powder to blow them up with," Mr. Bercovici went on . . .

"The one character with whom the average person would shake hands without fear of being contaminated . . . is Amos."

Decency Not Highlighted

"Yet his decency is not highlighted to a sufficient extent to make an impression on the audience.

"Now the trouble with this program is not so much that it is a theatrical dump heap of moral and social lepers, but that all its characters are colored.

"Among biased people in centers where whites are eager and ready to believe that colored persons are inferior to whites, the program is just what the doctor ordered.

Danger of Program

"There is the danger that these characters may be accepted as typical colored persons, and don't tell me that's not possible or probable.

"True—anybody with a grain of sense knows that the Kingfish is not a typical colored person, or that colored persons are shiftless and lacy and unwilling to work, or that they are imbeciles like Shorty the barber, or shyster like the lawyer in the show.

"But, anybody with a grain of sense also knows that there are

QUIZ TIPS FOR AFRO READERS

To "Stop the Music," Thursday night, WJZ-TV, at 8, we like "Skeleton Man" as the winner.

The "Mystery Voice" on "Sing It Again," Saturday nights at 10, CBS, could be "Maude Humphries."

All are agreed that "Allah will "Stop the Music," Sunday nights at 8, WJZ.

On "Chance of a Lifetime," Sundays nights at 9:30, just say "James Madison was the first President to wear long pants." That's good for spanking new automobile.

Duncan to Lead 'Stars' in Honoring Maxwell Anderson

NEW YORK (NNPA) — Todd Duncan, Inez Matthews and Herbert Coleman, all of the cast of "Lost in the Stars," will participate in the program honoring playwright Maxwell Anderson at the annual luncheon of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Thursday, Feb. 2, when Mr. Anderson will be given the conference's brotherhood award.

Mr. Duncan will sing "Lost in the Stars"; Miss Matthews, "Stay Well," and Herbert Coleman, his "Big Black Mole" routine from the Anderson-Kurt Weill musical play, which celebrated its 100th performance at the Music Box Theatre last week.

In addition, Mr. Duncan will lead the entire chorus of "Miss Liberty" in the musicalized Emma Lazarus sonnet, "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," which keynotes the finale of the Berlin-Sherwood-Hart musical comedy at the Imperial.

Edna Kess, Soprano, Gives Recital at Berea Temple

The Reception Guild of Berea Temple presented Enda Kess, soprano, in a recital, Sunday night, in the church auditorium, before a capacity house, which received the singer with warmth.

Strikingly gowned in black taffeta paneled in pale blue, Miss Kess presented a program of Handel, Gaul, Gounod, Rossini, Arditi, Ponce, Tipton, and other contemporary composers.

Highlighted on the program were "O Divine Redeemer" by Gounod; "Il Bacio (song in Italian) by Arditi; "A Birthday Song," Woodman, and spirituals, "Honor! Honor" by Hall Johnson and "Wade in de Water" by Burleigh.

Student and Soloist

Miss Kess is a student of Mrs. Constantia Reckling, and is soloist with the Metropolitan chorus choir, and the Interracial Fellowship Chorus.

Miss Kess revealed a voice of carrying power yet warm and expressive. Her finest quality was displayed in her register, her lower tones showed slightly the effects of laryngitis, under which she labored.

William Meredith H. Birche Jr. accompanied at the piano, thus creating a beautiful tonal showcase for the soloist.—M. D.

Nitery Ops Set 'Blue Tuesday'

WASHINGTON

"Blue Tuesdays," a co-operative movement among the District's uptown tavern owners, was inaugurated Tuesday, at the Cozy Corner Grill, 708 Florida Ave., N.W.

The idea, patterned after the "Blue Mondays" plan of New York City's Harlem, was suggested by John R. Hill, representative of Ballantine's Ale.

"Blue Tuesdays" is the name given a weekly meeting of the uptown cafe owners, where the common business problems are aired.

Social Side Included

In addition to "kicking around" the problems of tavern management and arriving at a possible solution, the "Blue Tuesdays" have a social side, with local beverage distributors in attendance.

The meetings rotate among the spots of various tavern owners who are members of the "Blue Tuesdays" circle.

This week's hosts to the 16 tavern operators in attendance were Walker Weaver and Garland F. Pinkston, co-owners of the Cozy Corner Grille.

Among the guests at the session were:

John R. Hill, representative of Ballantine's Ale, 1419 R St., N.W. Apt. 32. H. R. Woolston, representative of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, 118 L St., N.E., Edward D. Oliver, 1832 14th St., N.W.

Alex Underdown of Louis and Alex, 1211 U St., N.W.; Harold Narcisse, Bill Davis and Bob Sansone, representatives of Try-Me Bottling Co., distributors of Royal Crest Ale; and Mrs. John M. Bailey, Boulevard Grille, 1216 U St., N.W.; James D. Curtis, 238 Hollywood Pl., N.E.

Alton D. Gardner, 635 Quebec Pl., N.W.; Lloyd W. Harrison, 635 Quebec Pl., N.W.; Charles E. Harrington, 1320 Kenyon St., N.W.; Marion Browne, 2720 Sherman Ave., N.W.; Howard T. Lackey, 935 French St., N.W.; Robert H. Houston, 1456 Clifton St., N.W.; Jon E. Jones Jr., 211 Kim St., N.W.; John Tagereou, 2032 Ky. Ave., S.E.

Jerome H. Thomas, 1256 Girard St., N.W.; Marshall Greer, 705 Irving St., N.W.; Bernard Cole, 1228 Girard St., N.W.; Percy Reeves, 837 Lamont St., N.W.; Duke Hughes, 1054 West Virginia Ave., N.E.; Joseph Moore, Dunbar Hotel Lounge.

Floyd Patterson, Little Harlem; Solomon Brown, Brown's Row Bar, 1906 14th St., N.W.; Richard Canady, Off Beat Club; and Earl Gray, Earl's Restaurant, 1218 U St., N.W.

Next week's "Blue Tuesdays" meeting will be held at Herbert's Stage Door, with Herbert Saunders acting as host.
