THE MOST CONCLUSIVE PROOF IN ALL DENTIFRICE RESEARCH ON TOOTH DECAY! Now, the toothpaste you use to clean your breath while you clean your teeth, offers a proved way to help stop tooth decay before it starts! Proof based on 2 years' continuous research at leading universities—hundreds of case histories! Colgate's contains all the necessary ingredients, including an exclusive patented ingredient, for effective daily dental care. And no change in flavor, foam, or cleansing action!
NO OTHER DENTIFRICE OFFERS PROOF OF THESE RESULTS! Modern research shows decay is caused by acids which are at their worst right after eating. Brushing teeth with Colgate's as directed helps remove acids before they harm enamel. And Colgate's penetrating foam reaches crevices between teeth where food particles often lodge. No dentifrice can stop all tooth decay, or help cavities already started. But brushing teeth with Colgate Dental Cream as directed is a safe, proved way to help stop tooth decay!

2 Buddies' Deaths Same Night Probed

that some neighbors thought the same man had returned to the area, Woodford was seen on Riggs Ave., between Arlington and Fremont Aves., at 5:30 a.m. — about three hours after his buddy's discovery.

He was found by Thomas Moore of 1000 block W. Mosher St., who summoned police. Blood stains were on the pavement, indicating he had bled from the mouth. He, too, was rushed to Provident Hospital and pronounced dead.

Leading some to believe that either or both youths had been drugged or poisoned was the report that a Riggs Ave. resident peered out of her window at Woodford staggered, bumped into a parked car and fell to the ground.

Family Refuses Information

Woodford was fully clothed wearing an overcoat, blue suit and hat.

Police reported Mrs. Fannie Woodford, mother of the deceased youth, as saying her son had suffered from hemorrhages.

Queried several days later, Mrs. Woodford denied having made any such statement.

Moreover, Mrs. Woodford and other members of the family said they could not shed any light on the boys' activities on the night they were found dead. They reminded a reporter:

"The police are doing the investigating. If you want any information, see them."

Mrs. Woodford further stated: "I don't know anything about all the stories being circulated. I go to work and come home, and I just don't have any contact with what's going on in the streets."

Bid Date Monday Night

On the other hand, Mrs. Gibbs recounted her son was last seen around noon on the fatal day. She added he had called his girl friend whom he was scheduled to marry on Feb. 24, around 8 p.m. and made a date to see her.

At that time he is supposed to have seemed happy about winning some money in a "game."

Both Gibbs and Woodford attended Douglass High School, where Gibbs's prospective bride is now a senior. Neither of the 19-year-old youths completed his high school training.

Asked whether her son had been sick, as police originally reported, Mrs. Gibbs replied:

"Lord have mercy, that child wasn't sick!"

Burials Held Friday

Mrs. Gibbs explained she didn't know many of her son's friends because she banned "the pool room crowd" from her home.

"I don't approve of them," she said, "but I knew Eugene (Woodford) because he grew up in this neighborhood."

Both youths were buried in Mt. Auburn Cemetery today (Friday), following separate services at the Kelson funeral home.

Additional speculation arose when Dr. Henry Prinmuth, chemical specialist, said, Thursday, tests would not be completed until Tuesday or Wednesday.

Tests for Poison Made

Some observers suggested the ordinary autopsy requires only two or three days. "They must be working on a special angle," was the remark of one bystander.

Dr. Freimuth explained the youths were given complete chemical examinations which would reveal traces of poison, narcotics, "or almost anything else that might have caused their deaths."

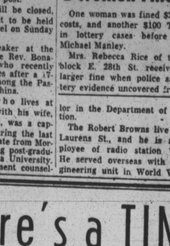
While awaiting the medical examiner's report, Northwestern district police are continuing their own investigation.

Police Investigating

Capt. William Feehley said "We're still trying to trace their movements that night. And from what I can piece together, they were last seen alive around 6:30 p.m. by the pool room boys.

"After that they seem to have vanished," he added, continuing: "We're working hard on this case and if anything turns up, we'll be glad to investigate."

History Week Speaker



Dr. William L. Hansberry, of Howard University will be the Negro History Week speaker at the Grand St. Boys' Association Sunday in NYC.

Brown Brothers to Participate in War Veterans' Convention

Two brothers will take part in the three-day fourth annual State convention of the Maryland Catholic War Veterans, which will be opened with a banquet and dance in the main ballroom of the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, tonight (Friday, Feb. 10).

They are Charles E. Brown, Department historian for the organization; and Robert H. Brown, Department officer-of-the-day.

The national body of the organization is meeting concurrently with the State group, in its first visit to Maryland.

John J. O'Connor, Jr., State jugde advocate, has been delegated to represent the Maryland Department at the national meeting.

On Saturday, the business sessions will be held in the War Memorial building, with the first meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. Mayor Thomas A. D'Alesandro, Jr., will attend the sessions.

Mayor to Attend

Robert Brown will prepare the altar and advance the colors for the initial meeting, and Charles will read the annual history.

The Maryland chapter of the Catholic War Veterans boast of being the first contingent to elect a colored veteran to its State staff of officers.

Charles Brown was elected to his position at the 1947 State convention and his brother joined the upper ranks the following year.

Both men are members of the St. Peter Claver Catholic Church and of its veterans' post.

The convention will be closed, following a breakfast to be held at the Belvedere Hotel on Sunday morning at 10:15.

The principal speaker at the breakfast will be the Rev. Bonaventure Griffiths, who recently returned to the States after a 17-year tour of duty among the Passionist missions in China.

Charles Brown, who lives at 1605 Appleton St., with his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, was a captain in the Army during the last war. An honor graduate from Morgan, he is now taking post-graduate work at Columbia University. Mr. Brown is placement counselor in the Department of Education.

The Robert Browns live at 506 Laurens St., and he is an employee of radio station WBAL. He served overseas with an engineering unit in World War II.

2 Women Fined on Lottery Counts

One woman was fined $200 and costs, and another $100 Tuesday in lottery cases before Judge Michael Manley.

Mrs. Rebecca Rice of the 600 block E. 28th St. received the larger fine when police said lottery evidence uncovered from her car was a "larger than average" operation.

In the second case, Mrs. Gladys Thompson of the 2300 block Madison Ave. was arrested Jan. 27 in a store in the same block.

Other cases Tuesday involved two men fined a total of $200 for a craps game in the 2300 block Madison Ave. on the early morning of Jan. 29.

They are Frank Haynes of the 1500 block Madison Ave., fined $50 when identified as the "doorman;" and Stuart Caleman, 100 block N. Calhoun St., fined $150 as the person who was "running" the game. Police said over 50 people were in the place.
